THE DEATH RECORD.

BOAL.—Miss Cora Cummings Boal, a brief mention of whose death was made in these columns last week, passed away at her home in Centre Hall last Monday morning at 7:45 o'clock, after an illness of two months with Bright's disease.

She was a daughter of William A. and Malissa Bell Boal and was born in Potter township on December 31st, 1877, hence was not quite forty-four years old. Her entire life was spent in Potter township and Centre Hall and she had a host of warm friends who sadly mourn her death. She was a member of the Presbyterian church from girlhood and not only lived a consistent christian life, but was a faithful worker in the church and Sunday school.

Her parents and a young brother preceded her to the grave but surviving her are three sisters, Mrs. John Heckman, of near Centre Hall, and Martha and Elsie at home. Rev. J. Max Kirkpatrick, of the Presbyterian church, had charge of the funeral which was held on Friday morning, burial in the Centre Hall cemetery.

SCHOLL.—Aaron E. Scholl, a native of Centre county, died at his home in South Williamsport, Tuesday morning of last week, of injuries received in a fall at Muncy, on Sunday evening previous. Mr. Scholl, accompanied by his wife and daughter-in-law, went on an automobile trip. Mr. Scholl left the car and went into the Crawford House at Muncy. While walking from one room to another he made a misstep and fell heavily on the tile floor. A physician was summoned who made an examination and found that his hip was fractured. He was removed to his home where his death occurred. Mr. Scholl was in his seventy-eighth year. He was born in Brush Valley, the son of Henry A. and Caroline P. Scholl. At the outbreak of the Civil war, as a youth of seventeen, he enlisted in Co. H, 56th Pa. Volunteers at Bellefonte, and served until 1865. He was wounded at Spottsylvania Court House by a spent shell and at Antietam by a rifle bullet, both wounds being in the left leg. Mr. Scholl had a part in the history of the press in Williamsport. In 1867 he purchased an interest in the Lycoming Gazette, which he retained for a time and later became a traveling wool merchant. He is survived by his wife, a son and two daughters.

BOALSBURG

Mrs. H. A. McKee, of Wilkinsburg, is visiting at the Charles Segner home.

Mrs. O. L. Mothersbaugh spent Saturday at State College.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Meyer, of Altoona were recent visitors with the former's father, D. W. Meyer.

Mrs. F. M. Charles and Mary Segner spent Friday at Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Barr are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Danley and son Charles and wife, of Medina, Ohio; Mrs. Miller and two children, of Millheim, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lenhart, of Milroy, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Jennie Fortney.

The "Willing Workers" Sunday-school class of the local Lutheran church will hold a "Dutch Market" in the Grange hall on Saturday evening, October 29.

Post Office News.

A short time ago an order was issued by the Post Office Department which provided for the discontinuance of the Tusseyville post office the patrons of which were to be served through the Spring Mills post office by rural carrier. On Tuesday the postmasters at Tusseyville and Centre Hall were notified by the Washington authorities that the order referred to above had been modified so that the mail of the patrons of the Tusseyville office will be served by carrier from Centre Hall.

Buck Killed by Train.

A spike buck was struck by a New York Central train on the Beech Creek division near Orviston, Saturday morning. The animal stood along the track and tried to jump across when the train was but a few feet from it. Members of the train crew found that the animal was so badly injured that it could not recover, so they killed it and sent the carcass to the Lock Haven Hospital.

To the Memory of Mary Hope Magee.

To the memory of MARY HOPE MAGEE, one of the original organizers of the Centre County Association of Philadelphia, Pa., who passed from among us on the 20th of September, 1921, and entered the Great Beyond. We wish to express to her family and friends the debt of gratitude we owe for her faithful service and her loyal support of our beloved organization, giving so earnestly of herself and, with smiles and genial manner, adding life and cheer to our social times, helping to make these occasions enjoyable for all. We have no desire to multiply words but simply to express a feeling of sorrow that wells up within us because she will be with us no more; at the same time feeling thankful that it has been our privilege to have been associated with one so faithful and true. We have full faith that she will continue to be a shining light, and that her musical voice and spirit, in tune with the Infinite, will continue to carry joy in the Celestial throngs as the Master calls her to service in the new and higher experience.

Penny Fireman Killed at Sunbury.

A serious accident occurred on the Williamsport division of the Pennsylvania railroad at Sunbury, at 5:45 o'clock Friday morning, in which Fireman F. M. Harter, aged 36 years, residing at Sunbury, was instantly killed, and the engineer, Edward Stroh, also of Sunbury, was scalded and also received a sprained ankle. The dead man leaves a wife and several children.

At the hour named two light engines, No. 1676 and No. 1097, coupled together for use on branch passenger trains out of Sunbury, were moving through DY siding, west of Sunbury station, when the engine ran into the rear of freight No. 994, demolishing the caboose of the freight and badly damaging the engine which was ahead. Both main tracks were blocked.

The members of the freight train crew, who were in the caboose, consisting of Conductor Malone and others, saved themselves by jumping just before the crash came. There was a heavy fog at the time of the accident.

The passenger train, west-bound, on the local branch, was several hours late Monday morning due to a breakdown of the engine.

POTTERS MILLS.

Louis Foust, of Mifflin county, spent the week-end with his son, Harrison Foust.

John Shepp and family moved back to Irvin on Sunday morning. Jesse McClenahan moved their household goods in his big truck.

Claude Wert and family, of Tusseyville, spent Sunday at the Eutaw House. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and baby spent Sunday at the M. N. Miller home. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller, of Tusseyville, were also Sunday guests at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blauser and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Yearick were among those who attended the York county fair last week.

"Smiling Jack" Smith was seen in town on Sunday evening.

Charles Condo and family, of Milroy, and Lott Condo, of this place, spent Sunday at the Joan Condo home in Georges Valley.

GEORGES VALLEY.

Mrs. J. C. McClenahan and children.

of Potters Mills; Mr. and Mrs. George Fetterolf and children, of near Centre Hall, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. W. F. McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Foust visited the home of the latter's brother, Milton Barger, at Stone Mill.

M. C. Barger and E. L. Lingle have embarked in the butcher business.

C. W. Lingle made a business trip to Burnham on Saturday.

MILLHEIM.

[From The Journal]

S. M. Campbell, the local undertaker, accompanied by his driver, J. S. Mekley, Tuesday went to Boalsburg and brought home his remodeled hearse, which is now mounted on a new Reo chassis.

William A. Carson has sold his farm, southeast of Aaronsburg, to William J. Bower, who sold his farm to the Midvale and Cambria Steel companies. The farm contains 63 acres and the price is said to be $8,000.

There is a probability that the State-Centre Electric company will extend their lines to Coburn this fall. E. C.

Musser, of Bellefonte, the superintendent for this county, interviewed some of the Coburn residents several days ago and promised to bring the matter before the directors of the company the latter part of this week and says he is confident the directors will decide to extend the lines and furnish current to the residents of Coburn.

Wilbur Wilkinson, familiarly known in this section as "Yank," who is a patient in the Bellefonte hospital, suffering with a compound fracture of one of his legs, sustained when a team of horses ran away for him several months ago while working for George Searson, near Linden Hall, was in a precarious condition for some time, but he is now on a fair way to recovery. Paul Winkler, of Fiedler, who is in the same ward in the hospital with a compound fracture of the leg, is also getting along nicely.

Chestnuts are said to be plentiful on the mountains near Coburn. On the mountains close to Millheim there are few nuts, and most of the trees are dead, caused by blight.

Red Cross Relief Work.

The famine in China, necessitating relief expenditures totalling more than $1,000,000 by the American Red Cross was by far the most serious of the foreign disasters in which the Red Cross gave aid.

Builds Up Its Machinery

In connection with the administration of disaster relief measures, an increasing effectiveness on the part of the Red Cross to deal with emergencies was manifested during the past year. In 328 Chapters of the American Red Cross there have been formed special committees to survey the resources of their respective communities and to be prepared in case of disaster. In others of the 3,402 active Chapters, a network of communication has been formed through which instantaneous relief may be dispatched to any part of the United States.

That its work in this field may be continued with ever greater effectiveness, the American Red Cross is appealing for widespread renewal of membership during its Annual Roll Call, to be conducted this year from November 11 to 24.
