A STATE UNIVERSITY.

(Williamsport Sun)

Dr. John M. Thomas, the newly inaugurated president of Pennsylvania State College, has a vision for the development of that institution which should challenge the interest of all the education-loving people of the state and the best effort of the state legislature and her state officials to bring about what is now presented as a dream.

In his address to the crowd that collected to hear him, Dr. Thomas spoke some things that are not altogether complimentary to the higher educational equipment of Pennsylvania.

To be told, for one thing, that other commonwealths of the nation have left this state behind ten years in its appreciation of the value of a great centrally located, state managed and financed higher educational institution, sounds harsh to the ears of people who have been pretty much satisfied with their accomplishments and achievements in the past.

We have been too much satisfied because our viewpoint lacked that of the stranger coming into our midst looking for something to correct as well as command, as Dr. Thomas came down from his former New England position to do.

The new president has pointed out the way. It is lined with obstacles and paved with hard work, but at the end is a university for the education of the youth of the state of Pennsylvania second to none in all the country.

In this case the candle is well worth the game. Dr. Thomas, his faculty and the board of trustees of State should have the support and interest of the people in their effort to give Pennsylvania the kind of a people's college they think it deserves.

In Memoriam.

In loving remembrance of our dear mother, Mrs. J. H. Snyder, who passed away one year ago, Oct. 23, 1920.

Dearest mother, thou has left us,
And our loss we deeply feel;
But 'tis God who hath bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal,
More and more each day we miss you,
Folks may think our wound has healed,
But they little know our sorrow
That lies beneath our hearts concealed.

THE DEATH RECORD.

SCHLOTTMAN.—Daniel Schlottman, a well-known character in this part of Centre county where he was employed on various lumber operations for McNitt-Huyett Lumber company, died at the home of his niece, Mrs. Oscar Zong, in Williamsport, last Thursday. He took sick in the summer while living at the home of John Weaver, on Nittany mountain, above Pleasant Gap, and in June was removed to the home of his niece in Williamsport. He was a native of Snyder county, and was aged about seventy-six years. He served in the Civil war, enlisting presumably from Snyder county. He was a member of the 51st Regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers.

The remains were shipped to Centre Hall, arriving here on Monday afternoon, and burial was made direct from the train in the local cemetery beside his wife, who preceded him about four or five years ago. Local Grand Army men attended the funeral and several officiated as pall bearers.

BREON.—John Henry Breon, an aged resident of Millheim, died Monday of last week of diseases incident to old age. He was past eighty-one years.

Mr. Breon was a son of Daniel and Polly Breon and was born in Gregg township. He was a farmer by occupation but retired a number of years ago. Since retiring from the farm he was engaged in the fire insurance business.

His wife died about twelve years ago, but he is survived by one son, G. F., who resides on the homestead farm in the northeastern section of Millheim, and by one sister, Mrs. Harriet Keen, of Millheim.

Burial was made at Millheim on last Thursday afternoon.

Why Mail Order Houses Succeed.

"We have a bureau whose duty it is to read each week the country newspapers from all over the country. There is not a paper of any consequence in our trade territory that our bureau does not get. This bureau looks over these papers and when we find a town where the merchants are not advertising in the local papers we immediately flood that territory with our literature. It always brings results far in excess of the same efforts put forth where the local merchants use their local papers," said Herman Rosenfeld, advertising manager for Sears, Roebuck and Co.

RED CROSS RESCUED 600,000 FROM DEATH

Spent $1,200,000 for Relief of Famine Sufferers in China Last Year.

To help overcome conditions of acute distress in five famine stricken provinces of Northern China, where millions of persons were affected by an unprecedented shortage of food, the American Red Cross during the last fiscal year spent more than $1,200,000, $1,000,000 of which was contributed directly by National Headquarters and the remainder by various groups interested in the welfare of China.

Through the wide relief operations thus made possible it is estimated that more than 600,000 famine sufferers were saved from starvation.

To the end that similar prompt relief measures by the organization may always be possible the Red Cross is asking continued support by the American people by universal renewal of membership at the Annual Red Cross Roll Call, November 11 to 24.

The method of relief employed by the American Red Cross in its operations in China was particularly effective for in addition to saving hundreds of thousands of lives it provided China with more than 900 miles of permanent roads that are sorely needed to prevent a recurrence of famine. At one time the Red Cross employed 74,000 Chinese workmen, paying them in food for themselves and dependents, this food being brought in from Manchuria and elsewhere.

Egg Laying Contest.

County Agent Robinson has sent the Reporter an announcement of a farm egg laying contest which will be conducted by the Centre County Farm Bureau beginning November 1st. Any farmer or poultryman having a flock of over 25 hens can enter the contest. A record of the income, expenses and daily egg yield will be kept in a book supplied by the Poultry Extension department of State College and at the end of each month sent to the Farm Bureau office. They will then be summarized and the ten highest producing flocks will be published in the local papers.

A summary of these records will then be sent to the Poultry Extension department and will compete with 40 other counties which are conducting similar contests. A monthly summary of all flocks of the state and timely suggestions will be sent to each farmer entering the contest.

One of the most common questions discussed by poultry keepers is, "Which is the best producing breed?" This contest is being conducted to help answer the question and will also bring out many other interesting facts about poultry keeping in Centre county.

Anyone interested in this laying contest should get in touch with County Agent Robinson before Nov. 1st.

FOR SALE.—

The owners of the Potters Mills hotel are offering same for sale. Anyone interested should communicate with HARRY ALLISON, Agent, Spring Mills, Pa.
