True to Form.

The country has recently been regaled with tales of drink-laden craft hovering off the three-mile limit, and of suspiciously easy robberies of whiskey warehouses on shore. We are told that rum running is a flourishing industry along our northern border; that in every city bootleggers, big and little, ply their trade. These activities are by-products of prohibition, for they present John Bartleycorn in no new light. For generations he has been a consistent lawbreaker; today he is merely running true to form.
The industry is forever outlawed. The efforts to set prohibition at naught do not prove that the Eighteenth Amendment is unworkable; they merely call good citizens to duty.

Friday Legal Holiday.

Friday, Armistice Day, is now a legal holiday, the president having signed the joint resolution of the House and Senate declaring that day an additional holiday throughout the United States.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

It rained the next day, but no snow.

Mrs. Ray, wife of Sylvester D. Ray, of Bellefonte, died Tuesday.

Mrs. C. M. Bower, of Bellefonte, is at the Meyer home, assisting in caring for her brother, D. J. Meyer.

B. Gardner Grove was one of the lucky local hunters. He has to his credit a fine sixteen pound turkey gobbler.

John M. Coldron, the painter, is painting the large, new incubator house on the Kerlin Grand View poultry farm.

Clay Reesman, of Camden, N. J., came to town on Friday evening and remained until the next day. He was in this section on business for the firm he represents.

Farmer Charles E. Court, east of Centre Hall, was a business caller on election day. Mr. Court took advantage of the fine fall weather to get his farm work out of the way.

Captain Harry Simler, a well-known Phillipsburg citizen, aged seventy-one years, died at the home of a daughter, at Oakmont. Interment was made at Phillipsburg Friday.

Frank Kolbenschlager, a linotype operator employed by the Altoona Tribune Company, at Altoona, has been operating the Reporter's type-setting machine during the past week, and teaching us how to handle it.

James C. Goodhart managed to get to Centre Hall during daylight on election day, a thing that does not often happen. Mr. Goodhart is casting about for an active young farmer to take the place of Roy Shaffer, who will vacate his farm at Centre Hill.

D. J. Meyers, whose illness was noted in last week's issue of this paper, has not improved in a general sense. Some days, of course, he is reported better, but his condition, even on these days, is anything but that wished for by his family and friends.

Mrs. Mary H. Price, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. A. V. Smith, and granddaughter, Mamie Smith, of Maxbass, North Dakota, arrived in Centre Hall the latter part of last week, and are guests of the former's brother, M. L. Emerick, and other relatives. It was in thirty-one years to the day that Mrs. Price left Centre Hall, and she finds many changes among the residents here and also in the town.

Report has it that John D. Decker sold his farm in Decker Valley, in the Seven Mountains, to a Greensburg hunting party for the sum of $5000. Mr. Decker will be privileged to remain on the place as long as he likes.

Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Barnes and the latter's mother, Mrs. Emma Breen, have just settled in their new home in Webb City, Missouri, having moved to that place from Tamaqua, this state. Mr. Barnes will be engaged with the Atlas Powder Co., in the western city.

THE ELECTION.

All Democratic Candidates Elected in the Borough of Centre Hall.

Tuesday's election in the borough passed off quietly, less than sixty percent of the vote being out. The total number of votes polled was 225—the women casting 92 and the men 133.

All the Democratic candidates on the borough ticket were elected, although for assessor the margin was narrow in favor of J. S. Rowe. Following is the result.

Ford and Buick Collide.
A Ford and a seven-passenger Buick car collided on the state road a short distance this side of Spring Mills on Sunday afternoon, damaging both cars so that it was impossible to move either until repairs were made.

The Ford car, containing the family of Jerry Confer, of Red Mill, was coming up the road and attempted to pass a car driven by William Luse, of near Centre Hall. A big seven-passenger green painted Buick, driven by a Mr. Hasenplug, of Williamsport, and loaded to capacity, was going toward Spring Mills. Mr. Confer avers that he did not see the approach of the Buick until too late to prevent striking it, although Hasenplug, seeing the impending danger, had turned his car over to the right until it was in the ditch. The cars side-swiped, with serious damage resulting to the Ford, which was hurt in nearly every part, while the Buick had the running board and fenders on the left side stripped off and wheels damaged. Fortunately, no one was injured beyond a general shaking up, particularly to those occupying the lighter weight car.

Slacker List.
Appended is a list of nine slackers of army service. Actual expenses, not to exceed fifty dollars, will be paid any civil officer who arrests any of the offenders.

Musical Recital in U. Evan. Church.
The music pupils of Miss Byrd M. Stover, in Centre Hall, will give a recital in the local Evangelical church on Tuesday evening of next week, November 15, at 7:30 o'clock. There will be piano solos, duets and trios; also, a number of selections by the Violin club which has been organized among members of the class.
A silver offering will be lifted, which will be given to the church in which the recital is held.
Don't fail to attend. You will be surprised at the talent these young musical people display.

Thank-Offering Service.
The three divisions of missionary activity of the Lutheran church will hold their annual thank-offering services as follows:
Tusseyville, Saturday evening, November 12.
Spring Mills, Sunday evening, November 27.
Centre Hall, Sunday evening, December 4.
The subject for Spring Mills on that evening will be given at a later date and will be announced later.
The Centre Hall Lutheran church will hold their annual Christmas service Monday evening, December 26.

TUSSEYVILLE
Fred Dunkle and his aunt from Punksutawney are spending some time at the home of the former's uncle, John Fortney.
John Fortney spent the week-end with his uncle, Charles Swartz, and family, of State College.
Mrs. Blain Palmer, of Potters Mills, spent Saturday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Ramer.
Miss Violet Palmer spent Sunday at Daniel Fohninger's.
A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Neff on Friday. Both mother and baby are getting along nicely.
The Lutheran Missionary band are practicing for an entertainment which they will have on Saturday evening.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

What the State College Chapter Has Been Doing for the Community. Prepare for Action.

The Red Cross Annual Membership roll call is again at hand and it is of particular interest to know just what the Red Cross has been doing for our community. Centre Hall branch is organized under the State College chapter, and the following is a partial report of the work of the chapter for the past year:

Two classes in home nursing conducted by Mrs. Jones, the chapter nurse. One of these classes was in the Centre Hall High school. Seventy-eight school visits made by the nurse.

Eighty-seven visits to babies. Nine hundred and fourteen other nursing visits.

First aid tent maintained at the Grangers' picnic at Centre Hall.

Weekly baby clinic held at the Red Cross office in State College, starting in August, 1921, with an attendance of fifty-seven babies. The total attendance for the three months is 168. This is a well baby clinic where the babies are weighed and measured and advice given as to their feeding.

Clinic for crippled children held June 14th with Dr. George B. Stull, from Harrisburg, in charge. Forty cases were diagnosed at the clinic and since that time six of them have been operated on. Four of these were taken to Harrisburg to Dr. Stull, five more were taken to Harrisburg for braces, and one for radium treatment. Several of these patients were in Centre Hall district. Thirty-two more children have been registered for another clinic when Dr. Stull can come again.

Seventy-five ex-service men have been helped by the chapter; this consisted of filing new claims for compensation, following up claims that were pending, and helping men to secure training under the federal board for vocational training.

This service to the community is dependent on the roll call for support and cannot be continued during the next year unless you are all ready to help the good work along. The roll call starts Sunday, November 13th, which is the official Red Cross Sunday and is to be completed before Thanksgiving Day.

Milheim Loan Carries.
Milheim voted to put through a loan of $12,000 for the purpose of erecting a municipal building to be used largely for community purposes; against 51.

Mrs. Bradford Leaves 118 Descendants.
Mrs. Catharine Bradford, whose death notice appears elsewhere in this issue, leaves one hundred and eighteen descendants. There are nine of her eleven children living; the third generation is comprised of thirty grandchildren, the fourth generation, sixty-three great-grandchildren, fifth generation, sixteen great-great-grandchildren. Remarkable, indeed.

Births.
A daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Luse, in Centre Hall, and a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Neff, at Tusseyville, were new arrivals within the past two weeks.

Port Matilda Man Shot While Hunting.
Willis Woodring, a blacksmith of Port Matilda, aged 21 years, is in the Altoona hospital with his left leg filled with BB shot, the result of being mistaken for a turkey by a companion while hunting on the Muncy mountain Thursday of last week. An examination of the injured leg showed that it was filled with the leaden pellets from the hip to the foot, yet no serious results are anticipated. They were hunting for turkeys.

Emerick—Peck.
Norman Jennings Emerick, of Centre Hall, and Gladys Helen Peck, of Williamsport, were married at the parsonage of the Pine Street M. E. church, Williamsport, by the pastor, the Rev. J. H. Daugherty, at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Berton Peck, of 608 Ross street, and the bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Alice Emerick, of Centre Hall, and is an employe of the Kelch bakery. The ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Musheno, the latter a sister of the bride. They will reside in South Williamsport.

Stoneraker—Ross.
Glen Roy Stoneraker and Miss Mabel Catharine Ross, of Tyrone, were united in marriage on Thursday morning of last week by Rev. W. R. Picken, at his home.

AMERICAN LEGION RESOLUTION

Indorses Red Cross Work During the World War and Work of Local Chapters.

The American Legion at its recent national convention in Kansas City adopted the following resolution praising the work of the Red Cross, and urging all members of the Legion to help in making the Red Cross roll call, November 11-24, a success:
"Whereas the American Red Cross rendered valiant and unflinching service to the service men of America during the war; and
"Whereas the American Red Cross is now co-operating to the fullest extent with the American Legion in its efforts to obtain immediate and adequate relief for disabled service men; and
"Whereas the American Red Cross is now appealing to the American public for support necessary to carry out its splendid work, therefore be it
"Resolved that the American Legion in convention assembled endorse the roll call of the American Red Cross and call upon the service men of America to lend their influence and best efforts to the roll call in recognition of service that has been and is still being rendered."

Miss Shipp, executive secretary of the State College Red Cross, reports that during the past six months this chapter has given some service to seventy-five ex-service men. In some cases this consisted of filing new claims for compensation, or following up claims that were pending, and in others helping the men to secure training under the federal board for vocational training.
