MONTGOMERY MAY BE SITE

Lycoming County Town Likely to Be Selected for Odd Fellows' Home for Aged Odd Fellows.

N. E. Sterner, a member of the committee appointed to recommend a site for the Odd Fellows' home for the eastern district, Pennsylvania I. O. O. F., stated on Friday that he considers it very likely that the Montgomery, Lycoming county, site will be chosen next April when the board of representatives of this district holds its annual meeting. He recently attended the grand encampment of Pennsylvania, held in Harrisburg, and the sentiment of the delegates, he said, seemed to favor the Johnson farm on the northern boundary of the borough of Montgomery, which comprises sixty acres.

Montgomery is only thirty-five miles from the very center of the eastern district and the Johnson farm is claimed to have every feature that is necessary for a place for the home, being accessible to railroad, water, sewerage, gas, electricity and good roads.

Accidental Shot Kills.

Edward Chaplin, aged 24 years, died at the Cottage State hospital, Philipsburg, Monday morning of last week, following the infliction of a revolver wound in his chest. According to police authorities, he and Charles Bordis, a young man residing at Cecelia Mills, were trading revolvers when one of the guns was accidentally discharged.

Two physicians, state police officers and an ambulance hastened to the scene of the disaster. When young Chaplin discovered that he had been wounded he started to run for the road. He ran for about fifty feet and then collapsed. He was taken to the Cottage State hospital.

Charles Bordis was held for an investigation, but after the wounded man revived he informed the authorities that the wounds were inflicted accidentally. The Chaplin family now reside at Fleming, having moved to the former place from Karthaus about two weeks ago.

Funeral services were held and interment made in the Fleming cemetery.
