Third Party Looming.

(From Philadelphia Record.)

President Harding's opposition to blocs as a development contrary to American political ideas seems likely to be strengthened by recent events in Congress. It is a development certainly antagonistic to the harmonious operation of his Administration. From a contemporary we learn that "this (the defeat of the Administration forces by the agrarian bloc on the amount of the surtax on incomes) and other happenings are giving pith and point to a strange political rumor. This rumor grows. It is to the effect that in 1924 the farm bloc proposes to name the Republican nominee or know the reason why." Certainly Mr. Harding will frown upon such a development in his own party. Blocs are very dangerous to Presidential ambitions.

Not Plow Shares But Henrys.

Henry Ford's proposition to buy up all the naval ships in the world, at junk prices, and turn them into agricultural machinery and automobiles, provided the United States and other powers will agree to disarm on the sea, was a bit of sensational news for a day. "You may tell the gentlemen in Washington I mean business," said Ford to the representative of International News Service. "You may assure them that with acetylene torches I can cut those warships to pieces and make useful things out of them." Later Mr. Ford called on the president personally to present the matter. It is a wonderful offer and deserving of more consideration than it is likely to get.

Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, where more war ships are built than at any other point in the United States, falls in line or disarmament when he says he "would gladly see the war-making machinery of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation at the bottom of the sea."

It now appears that everybody is in favor of disarming, and none of the governments—big or little—ever built a ship for aggressive warfare, but for defensive warfare only. It looks dubious, but we will all accept the statements as true provided not too many ships capable of circling the earth are kept for ornaments.

Annual Meeting of Centre County Farm Bureau.

At the Annual Meeting of the Centre County Farm Bureau to be held in the Court House, Bellefonte, Sat., December 24th, a complete report of the past year's work will be given on interesting agricultural subjects. Every farmer in Centre county is just as much a member of the Farm Bureau as the members of the executive committee and hence should attend the Annual Meeting and give his assistance in making this work more effective throughout the county.—County Agent.

As in the past two years the Centre County Farm Product Show will be held on the day of the annual gathering of the Farm Bureau, Dec. 24, at the Court House. Our county fair at Centre Hall comes too early for a good farm product exhibit so this is really the only farm product show in Centre county and promises this year to be a real show.

The exhibits this year will include corn, potatoes and apples, same as last year, and in addition wheat and oats have been included. Several times last year's amount of money has been secured and the premiums this year will be especially attractive. Centre county is one of the most productive counties of the State and should have one of the best farm product shows. Start now to select your exhibits.

A premium list will be published at a later date in this paper.
—County Agent.

SCOTT FOR STATE SENATE.

Clearfield County Has a Lot of Faithfuls Willing to Accept Office.

J. D. Connelly, commonly known as "Skinney," in his "Odds and Ends" department in a recent issue of the Clearfield Progress, publishes a list of the "faithful" Republicans who, he says, "have their lightning rods up or in course of erection, hoping the political lightning will slam them into the office to which they aspire."

For Congress he names William I. Scoope, of Clearfield; Major Theodore Boal, of Centre county; George Minns, Jr., of Dubois; Evan J. Jones, of McKean county.

For the State Senate he mentions Dr. A. D. Cowdrick, of Clearfield; Hon. Joseph E. Phillips, of Clearfield; Dr. J. I. Pollum, of Dubois; Hon. S. I. Miller, of Madera; Hon. Harry B. Scott of Philipsburg; A. L. Edwards, of Oseola.

Commenting on the contest for Senatorial honors "Skinney" says: "It is not likely that Hon. S. J. Miller, of Madera, who has served two terms in the Senate, will be a candidate if Hon. H. B. Scott, of Philipsburg, enters the lists finally, as the latter contends that inasmuch as Clearfield county has had the State Senate for the past twenty years it is now Centre county's turn. If Scott persists along this line Miller, it is said, will recognize the justice of his contention by refusing to make the primary race against him."

Boys Win and Girls Lose.

A soccer ball contest and dodge ball contest were engaged in between the boys and girls of the Millheim and Centre Hall public schools, on Friday afternoon. Each school scored a victory, the local soccer team, composed of boys, defeated the visitors by a 3 to 0 score, while the Millheim girls fairly annihilated our girls' dodge ball team by a 14 to 0 score. A word in defense of the local dodge ball team is necessary: It was their first attempt at the dodge ball game, and, of course, they were at the mercy of their more experienced rivals. The local girls have been playing volley ball and have become quite proficient, but dodge ball is absolutely new with them, but their recent defeat has put them in a determined mood to master its fine points and give a better account of themselves the next time.

Conference of S. S. Workers.

The regular mid-year Conference of Sunday School workers will be held at the United Brethren Church, Bellefonte, Saturday, December 18th. There will be a morning session beginning at 9:30, and an afternoon session beginning at 1:30. Lunch will be served at the church, so we will not need to lose any time.

All News Here.

The following is from the Williamsport Sun of Friday, 18th inst. This item will be read with interest and adds another proof that locally we are paying too much for bread: "The price of bread in Williamsport has taken another drop. The bakeries of the city have reduced the wholesale price of large loaves from 10 to 9 cents and from 7 to 6 cents for the small loaves, and there was a corresponding drop in the retail prices. "Most stores now charge 10 and 7 cents for bread, but at least one store asks 9 and 6 cents at retail, the same price as the present wholesale rate."

State Excels in Roads.

Pennsylvania State highway construction passed the 630 mile record last week and is declared at the department to have gone 300 miles beyond the record made by any other State Highway Department in the country for construction of the same type of road. The State now has 1880 miles of modern type roadway and 810 miles of hard surfaced roads. Construction this year included 214.95 miles of waterbound macadam and 297.94 of unbound macadam, while 1796.75 miles of road has been treated with oils, etc. Last year the construction was 320.36 and in 1919, 25.3 miles of the two macadams.

Chewing Gum Under Ban.

During the trial of a civil case in the courtroom of Judge John M. Garman, in Luzerne county, the Court noticed one of the jurors violently working his jaws on a mouthful of gum. The Judge announced that he had chewing of tobacco in his courtroom prohibited, and all cuspidors removed and placed a ban on smoking in the corridors.

"Chewing gum is next," said the Court. "Hereafter no man, woman or child will be allowed to chew gum in this courtroom. Gum-chewing people look like cattle."

And to show that he was in earnest Judge Garman strongly intimated that he will impose a fine on anyone caught violating the rule.

Information to Sportsmen on Deer Hunting.

For the benefit of the sportsmen of Pennsylvania who hunt large game, especially deer, the season for which runs from December 1st to December 15th, inclusive, Sundays excepted, the State Game Commission has prepared the following information:

Bucks only with antlers at least 4 inches long: The last Legislature changed the requirements for deer so that hereafter before a deer may be legally killed the hunter must be sure he is shooting at a buck deer with horns or antlers at least 4 inches long from the top of the skull, and so long as a deer has one antler 4 or more inches long it is considered legal. However, in view of the fact that the spike bucks of this year are badly needed for future breeding purposes, sportsmen are requested to refrain from killing small bucks even though they do have spikes 4 or more inches long. The future supply of deer depends entirely upon the care that is taken of the present stock. Last year 138 illegal does and 66 baby bucks (that had not yet grown legal antlers) were killed in violation of law. These animals were killed in counties as follows: Adams, 14; Blair, 2; Bradford, 1; Butler, 2; Cambria, 4; Carbon, 8; Centre, 17; Clarion, 1; Clearfield, 30; Clinton, 6; Cumberland, 19; Elk, 23; Fayette, 1; Forest, 2; Franklin, 32; Fulton, 1; Huntingdon, 18; Jefferson, 11; Juniata, 1; Lackawanna, 2; Luzerne, 1; Lycoming, 11; Mifflin, 10; Monroe, 7; Northampton, 1; Perry, 2; Pike, 7; Potter, 3; Snyder, 2; Somerset, 2; Tioga, 1; Union, 3; Venango, 1; Warren, 3; Westmoreland, 9; Wyoming, 1.

Camp Limit: The limit of deer for a camp or hunting party is 6 deer and 3 bears. Any person who has been a party to the killing of the legal number of deer or bears for the season cannot again individually hunt for, or participate in hunting for, such animals during that season. After a hunter has killed a deer, the attempt to kill a second deer by standing on a watch or otherwise is punishable by the full penalty of $100. This, however, does not compel a man to leave camp after he has killed a deer. He can still drive for the rest of the party, but in so doing his actions should be guarded so that there will be no reason to suspect that he is attempting to kill a second deer. So as to avoid criticism, it is suggested that persons who have killed their deer or bear refrain from carrying a rifle while driving for the rest of their party.

Judge Heck, of Potter township, heard the complaint and reserved decision.

Teachers' Local Institute.

The teachers' local institute held at Centre Hall last Friday afternoon and evening was fairly well attended by a goodly number of persons apparently interested in school work. The speaker in the evening was Prof. Drumm, of the Lock Haven State Normal School, whose address was exceptionally instructive. It was his aim to show the superior benefits derived from centralized public schools and the influence teachers should exercise in the community. A drill by the High school girls and music were entertaining features of the evening session.

Prof. Hollenbach, assistant principal of the Millheim schools, was elected president of the next institute to be held in January, in Millheim.
