Just for Christmas. She had completed her own Christmas shopping and was just looking around at the varied and beautiful things that adorned the counters of the big store. At last she came to one display that was unusually attractive but a little strange to her. "They're mighty pretty," she said to the saleslady, "but what are they for?" "Oh, just for Christmas," was the languid reply.—Indianapolis News.

NONE OF THAT

Just recently a girl was married to a man whose name happened to be Nunn.

On hearing of the wedding a friend remarked to the bridegroom: "You're a poor sort of chap."

"Why?" was the reply.

"Because when you took your wife into the church she had a name; when she came out she had none."—Answers.

We Hope He Got It.

"You are working too hard," said a policeman to a man who was drilling a hole in a safe at two o'clock in the morning.

"What do you mean?" asked the burglar in a disconcerted tone.

"I mean you need arrest," answered the policeman.

Wifely Caution.

"Why all that storming?"

"I asked my husband for ten dollars."

"Well, if he must kick up a fuss like that, why not ask him for a hundred?"

"Because I need his support. I don't want to see him drop dead."

A Born Mathematician.

"I saw your sister on the street today."

"Yes? How did she look?"

"I don't know, I didn't see her face."

"Then how did you know it was her?"

"Oh, I'm pretty good at figures."—Science and Invention.

Fair Enough.

"Men have always alluded to us as the fair sex."

"Well, girly?"

"Now that we are getting control of things, we must be fair."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Silence is Golden.

Harper's Weekly tells a story of two soldiers who had been waiting for weeks for a letter from home. Finally one of them received a letter with the home-town post mark on it, but when he opened it up there was nothing inside but a piece of paper blank on both sides.

His buddy laughed. "You haven't got anything on me," he said. "That's no letter."

"Sure it is," said the one who was holding the silent missive. "It's a letter from my wife. We're not speaking to each other."

TWO RARE ORCHID SPECIMENS

Central America Can Boast of Two of the Most Perfect of Beautiful Flowers.

A quaint little orange orchid, odorless, very common in Central America, is the Spidendrum Radicans, locally called the "Dutch Shoe" because of its fancied resemblance to a tiny sabot. The "Monkey" orchid, more curious than beautiful, has greenish, small flowers growing in thick clusters, suspended from whorls of glossy leaves. Great quantities of it grow on the dead stumps of the overflowed land forming lagoons in Gatun lake. A peculiarity of the Monkey orchid is that when domesticated its flowers do not develop fragrance until they are three days old. Another odd species mimics a white violet, not only in size and shape, but in the exquisite violetlike fragrance which the blossom gives out in the late afternoon only. It has no fragrance at any other time and the tiny flowers last several days.

Protecting Men Against Themselves.

No person can travel north of Fort Smith in the Canadian Northwest, without the official approval of the Royal Canadian mounted police. To go north of there, the traveler must explain his reasons for going, prove that he has made arrangements for transportation into the country and out and assure the officials that he has a sufficient food supply to last until his return. If he can prove that he is able to travel in the wilds and not starve and that his business is legitimate, he is allowed to go on.—Dearborn Independent.

Her Escort Decamped.

When I was about fourteen years old, all the older girls were accompanied home after church by some boy friend, so when one of the boys asked, "May I see you home?" I of course said "yes." I walked along, feeling quite grown up. When passing a house where there was an extremely vicious dog, to my horror out came the beast growling—and around on the safe side went my escort. I settled the dog with the toe of my slipper—and saw myself home after that!—Exchange.

Do Style—Did your generalship save your life during the World War? Ex-Soldier—No; good trees.

Curiosity leads us into temptation as often as covetousness.

One third of your life is allotted to sleep. Do you get your share?

The most important period in the process of applying nutrition to the repair of the body is while you are asleep. For the most favorable transformation of digested food into nerve and cell tissue, so doctors tell us, sleep is absolutely essential.

Is it any wonder that those who suffer from lack of proper sleep are weak, pale and lacking in energy or ambition?

One of the causes of insomnia is nerve-irritation from tea and coffee drinking. Tea and coffee both contain caffeine, which has a tendency to cause undue stimulation. The irritating effect of caffeine often results in insomnia, depression, and a weakened nervous system.

You can easily overcome these troubles by drinking Postum instead of tea or coffee. Postum is a delicious, satisfying cereal beverage, and it is absolutely free from caffeine, or any other harmful substance.

Ask your grocer for Postum. Drink this delicious, refreshing beverage for ten days. Then see if you do not feel better and more clear headed, and if you do not sleep better at night—as so many other people have proved for themselves.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.
