

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The local post office is having an unusually busy season just now mailing out catalogues. Some extra help was needed last week.

The National Limestone Co., at Milroy, who have been operating on a very small scale, have sent all their men home until called for.

Two of the Reporter's readers who came along last week to help it meet its bills by paying subscription were Bruce W. Ripka and Oliver Strunk.

James L. Foust, of Burnham, spent Sunday with his oldest son, Harry Foust, at Sprucetown. Mr. Foust is employed at the Standard Steel Works.

A Foreign Missionary service will be held in the Reformed church on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The service entitled "Send the Light" will be used.

Messrs. Asher and Bruce Stahl, Robert R. Snyder and the former's son, Frederick, of Altoona, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Stahl on Sunday.

D. L. Bartges sustained an ugly gash on the knee recently when he fell on the ice. The leg stiffened as a consequence, making walking quite difficult for a few days.

On Saturday evening the members of the Woman's H. & F. Missionary Society of the Lutheran church were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Fye, at Earllystown.

"When I began taking Tanlac I only weighed 98 pounds, now weigh 135 pounds and never felt better in my life," says Charles Penden, of Huntsville, Ala.—Centre Hall Pharmacy.

Baled hay is on the rise in the city markets, being one dollar above any of the quotations since the 1921 crop is available. Wheat also is advancing. Welcome news, indeed, for the soil tiller.

F. A. Carson, of Potters Mills, was in town on Tuesday and called at this office. He was driving a truck, having had his Buick car converted into one, and finds it exceptionally useful in his business.

John H. Horner, of Tusseyville, who has been a great sufferer with kidney trouble for a month past, is now under the care of Dr. Kohler, at Milroy, and is making his headquarters at the Reed home in Milroy.

Alvin Stump, who with Mrs. Stump lives west of Old Fort, is reported as being somewhat improved in health. He has been sick since Christmas and during much of that time his condition was quite serious.

A men's organized Bible class was formed Friday evening in the Lutheran church with twenty-five members. The officers elected were: President, Victor A. Auman; vice president, Kryder Frank; secretary, C. M. Smith; assistant secretary, C. E. Flink; treasurer, P. H. Luse.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Hostetter, of Bellefonte, recently, when Mrs. Hostetter was united in marriage to Joseph B. Hostetter, of that place, the Rev. John K. Byler officiating. Both the bride and the bridegroom are 70 years old and are enjoying good health.

The State-Centre Electric company has filed a new tariff with the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to become effective March 1st. The principal change in this tariff is a decrease of approximately 10 per cent, which is good news to all local consumers of current.

Rats! That is what Samuel Ginterich thought the other day when he entered his poultry house and with the assistance of John Meeker a half bushel of big fat rats were killed. Twenty-three big ones make a half-bushel measure full. A baseball bat and a club were the instruments used to kill the rodents.

The teacher training classes of Centre Hall and Georges Valley will join in their graduation exercises to be held in the Lutheran church in Georges Valley, Friday evening, February 24, at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. John E. Rine, of Minersville, a classmate of Rev. M. C. Drumm, will deliver the address to the class. Rev. Drumm will present the diplomas. Everybody is welcome to these services.

A postal card received this week by the Reporter from W. Ned Keller, of Linden Hall, who is directing relief work in Armenia, says: "Talriz Persia, Dec. 5, 1921—Xmas greetings to all. Am enjoying a three weeks' jaunt 'ala' box car through Persia. Have just returned from a unique camel ride and feel all bawled up. Wish you were with me to feast on the beautiful Persian hand-made rugs and tapestries. Will return to Erivan in a few days. Always glad for the Reporter news. Regards to all. W. Ned Keller."

Captured Albino Deer.

Rural Mail Carrier Domer S. Ishler, of Centre Hall, single handed, captured a pure white fawn while on his mail route Tuesday. He was in Brush Valley, in the region known as the Hettinger re-trace, when he observed the deer along a strip of woods, apparently in a famished condition. Stopping his horse, he gave chase and the little animal kept the mill man stepping lively for a time, but it was apparent that it could not continue long, for at frequent intervals the little deer would drop in the snow from sheer exhaustion, but recovering itself would continue on. After leaping a fence along the road close by Mr. Ishler's horse and sleigh, the deer dropped, and Mr. Ishler, hard on its heels, leaped the fence and took hold of it without further struggle. Holding it in his arms he drove to the Geo. Hettinger place where it was placed in a pen, and in the evening Mr. Ishler and J. H. Knarr went for it, placed it in a crate and brought it to the Knarr home in Centre Hall, where it was placed in a stable. The deer was in a pitiable state of starvation, as may be known when it is said that its weight is less than thirty pounds. However, it began to nibble hay as soon as it was brought here and Mr. Knarr has been tempting its appetite with apple peelings and other forms of food. On Wednesday morning it showed a fighting spirit which augurs well for its entire recovery.

The gentlemen have notified W. F. McKinney, of Potters Mills, of their capture, and he has permitted them to keep it in their care until it has gained full strength. The little animal has many visitors, and the fact that it is an albino adds to the interest.

Mr. Weaver was a brief caller at this office and reported that the were getting along well in their Union county home.

Coal Tax Law Constitutional
Constitutionality of the anthracite coal tax law of 1921, the major revenue act of the last legislative sessions and counted upon to add millions to the income of the commonwealth, was upheld by the Dauphin county court. Further action was taken the latter part of last week to resist the collection of tax.

TUSSEYVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bailey and family, of Centre Hall, spent Sunday at the John H. Horner home.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wert, a son—Dean Edwin—last Friday night. John H. Horner was taken to Milroy last Thursday, to seek relief from the doctors of that place.

Ratti Made Pope.

Cardinal Achille Ratti, Archbishop of Milan, has been chosen Supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church to succeed the late Pope Benedict XV. His coronation as Pius XI will take place next Sunday.

After the announcement of his election the Pope appeared on the outside balcony of St. Peter's and bestowed the benediction on the thousands who had waited patiently in the rain in St. Peter's Square—the first time this has occurred since the breach between the State and church in 1870.

For 52 years the blessing has been bestowed from within the Basilica. The election was completed without American participation. In the conclave, Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, arriving at the moment the new Pope was blessing the multitude.

INVOKED NAME OF HARVARD

How Indignant Boston Woman Was Pacified by Assertion Which Somewhat Overstated Truth.

The burying ground on the Boston common has what is probably the most unusual stone in the city. It was set up "in memory of Mrs. Sally Morse (wife of Samuel Morse), who died July 25, 1799, of the cramp in her stomach, after about one hour's illness, aged twenty-six years and two months."

One day, relates the Detroit News, the door of the cemetery office in the city hall was flung open and a pompous matron entered and requested that the stone on the common be destroyed, because of the indelicate and unlady-like inscription. The visitor waxed more insistent as the secretary pleaded a lack of authority to destroy anything. Finally the caller took a dramatic stand and demanded that some

Americans Find Armenians Victims of Circumstances, not Beggars

The Armenian government would soon be able to work out its own salvation if it could enjoy a brief period of peace, in the opinion of an American Commission which has just returned to the United States after an exhaustive survey of the situation in the Levant. This Commission, which was sent out by the Near East Relief, made a personal inspection of conditions from Syria to the Caucasus Mountains. In addition, the reports of relief workers who have been long on the field and of government officials carefully examined.

A Victim of Scabies, Nearly as Prevalent as Starvation.

Homeless Waifs at Erivan Railroad Station.

"Time after time since the outbreak of the world war, the Armenians have made a brave attempt to cultivate their land. And time after time some new disaster has prevented them from gathering their crops or laid waste their fields before the grain has ripened and been gathered in.

"After two years of American relief activity it seemed less and less as if we would be able to reduce our program in Russian Armenia to the care of the children we had gathered into our orphanages. But then came the new invasion, crops were trampled down in the fields, live stock was carried off, and the peasant population were driven from their homes.

We may not be able to save all of the helpless refugees who are now crowded in this territory, but we certainly cannot desert the hundred thousand orphan children who are now in our orphanages or under our protection in the Caucasus, Anatolia, Cilicia and other devastated areas of the Near East. Last spring, when our supplies ran low, 3,000 of these children died out of a total of 20,000 in one of our orphanages. These children are absolutely dependent upon aid from America and will perish if our aid is withheld.

Next year, if further chaos can be avoided, possibly we will be able to reduce our program, but prompt action is necessary now or for thousands there will be no next year."
