Judge Landis Resigns.

Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis announced that he had resigned from the bench and would devote his entire time to the position of baseball commissioner. The resignation is effective March 1. Announcement of it was formally made by the judge on Saturday as he took his place in court in Chicago.

President Harding got awfully sore because a comedian before a Washington audience said the address Harding made at the adjournment of the diarmament conference was the best Hughes ever wrote. The President must think his secretary is not entitled to praise for the good things done in the flesh.

Beldeman, Snyder and Mackey are Republican candidates for governor of Pennsylvania. They appear light-weights, no improvement of the present punk governor.

Relying on an unfavorable expression by President Harding on the primary law, Republican politicians are already planning to go back to the old convention method of nominating candidates for office. One thing is certain, the primaries have not brought out a better class of candidates in the state or nation, while in local districts men of mighty small calibre have been able to get on tickets.

Cooperative Market Bill Signed.

Leaders of the Senate agricultural bloc and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace took part in the ceremonies at the White House on Saturday in connection with the signing of the cooperative marketing bill by the President. Under the law farmers will not be hampered by anti-trust laws in joining together to distribute and sell their products and in influencing prices.

Hays went out of the cabinet to accept a $150,000 job, and now a Philadelphia offers Hoover just one-third as much to run the big U. S. show in 1926.

Wilberforce Schweyer, the well-known editor and publisher of the Juniata Sentinel and Republican, has been appointed postmaster for Millintown to succeed J. Frank Patterson, whose term expired last August.

Card of Thanks.

We take this means of expressing our thankfulness to all kind neighbors and friends who rendered assistance during our recent bereavement. Mrs. Henry Homan and family.

Democratic Banquet.

Two hundred or more Democrats banqueted at the Brockerhoff House on Tuesday evening. Every section of Centre county was represented, and especially was the south side of the county well represented. There was a decidedly good spirit shown, also a determination to win back Democratic success in the county, clean up the Republican roosters at Harrisburg and go on to Washington. The coming together reminded one of the good old days of conventions. The glad hand was out, and close observers declared there was nothing up the sleeve nor held to the back that had the semblance of a sharp edge.

The speakers of the evening were Mr. Reilly and Miss Allen, of Williamsport; Charles Foster, of State College; J. Randall Miller, of Millheim; Mrs. F. M. Fisher, of Centre Hall, with John M. Blanchard as toastmaster. The speakers voiced the apparently fixed sentiment that the times demanded the nomination of clean men for office at the coming primaries, and that with such candidates success could be attained.

Dairy Talk at Spring Mills.

Prof. A. A. Borland, head of the Dairy Husbandry Department of State College, will talk to Centre county farmers at the Spring Mills Vocational School on Wednesday evening, March 1st. Dairying is probably the leading single enterprise on Centre county farms, especially in hat section of the county near Spring Mills. Farmers should make a special effort to attend this meeting for Mr. Borland will have some very good suggestions which if followed will mean more efficient milk production and that means greater financial return to the dairyman.

Every farmer has a lot of questions about dairying that he would like to have discussed. This is the time and place to discuss these questions.

This will be the third of the series of farm meetings to be held at Spring Mills; the fourth meeting will be on March 8th, speaker and subject to be announced later.

Centre Hall Cared for 6 Orphans in the Near East Last Year.

Last year Centre Hall supported six orphans in a Near East Relief orphanage (6 1/2 orphans, to be exact). That was a splendid result and we like to think of those children as cared for by one of our own Centre county boys. Ned Keller, who has done such wonders in relief work in Erivan, the capital of Armenia.

Surely Centre Hall will see to it that these children will not have to be turned out this year for lack of money, and that a reduction can be made in the 1900 children Ned told us about last week,—the thousand he has not room for, whom he can only feed,—they sleep in the streets!

Miss Grace Smith is chairman for Near East Relief in Centre Hall, and would gladly receive any money for that purpose.

Threshermen to Meet.

The Centre County Threshermen and Farmers' Protective Association will meet in the grand jury room in the court house on Saturday, February 25, at 10 a. m. A full attendance is desired at this meeting. Officers for the year will be elected. Reports from the state convention will be heard, as well as report of the second year of the Threshermen & Farmers' Casualty Co., which every employer of labor will want to hear.

Bring your past and prospective difficulties to this meeting and have them threshed out,—such as boiler inspection, tractor registration, compensation insurance, etc.—Sec'y.

Geiss' Bazaar.

Saturday, February 25th, 10 a. m.—Horses, cows, pigs, poultry, potatoes, furs, harness, axe-handles, single trees, and other articles that may be brought here on day of sale.

D. WAGNER GEISS,
Bellefonte, Pa.

Colonel Comly, the Commandant of the Military Department at State College, made the annual Federal inspection of the Boalsburg troop of cavalry of the Pennsylvania National Guard on Sunday. On Monday, he went to Bellefonte to make a similar inspection of the squadron headquarters and troop of cavalry at that point.

The financial statement for Centre Hall borough for the year 1921 appears in this issue.

soon turned into wrath and Mr. Groundhog was slain, but not without first putting up a first class fight.

THE DEATH RECORD.

SWARTZ.—Mrs. Phoebe Struble Swartz died on Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Kline, in Bellefonte. Interment was made at Pleasant Gap, Wednesday afternoon. Had she lived until March 6th she would have attained her eightieth birthday. She was the widow of Andrew Swartz, who died about thirteen years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Swartz for many years lived on a farm below Pleasant Gap, where the home was well known for its hospitality. Later Mr. and Mrs. Swartz moved from the farm to Pleasant Gap, and some time after the death of Mr. Swartz, Mrs. Swartz went to Bellefonte to make her home with a daughter, where she died.

She was a faithful member of the Lutheran church and was always an active, dependable member. Her last illness dates back to a fall received some months ago from which she never fully recovered.

Her four children survive her, namely: Elmer E., Pleasant Gap; Emma, wife of Elmer Johnson, Altoona; Mary, wife of Christ Musser, State College; and Margaret, now Mrs. Robert Kline, named previously.

LOUCK.—David Louck, a well known resident of State College, passed away at his home on Sunday afternoon. He had been in poor health for the past year but able to mingle with his friends. Heart trouble, caused his death. He was a son of Peter Louck and was born at Pine Hall 63 years ago. His boyhood days were spent on the farm, and later he learned the carpenter trade, which was his life's work.

He was laid to rest in the Pine Hall cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

KREPS.—David Edward Kreps died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. F. Young, Bellefonte, following an illness of some weeks. He was aged 67 years. In 1876 he married Miss Mahala Bieker, who survives with the following children: Mrs. Arrea Young, of Bellefonte; Elmer K., of Oneida, N. Y.; Mrs. Katie B. Pursell, of Lewisburg; Calvin R., of Alliance, Ohio; John E., of Brownsburg, Ind., and James Arthur, of Laurelton. He also leaves nine grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. R. W. Kerster, of DuBois.

CARNER.—Mrs. Julia Carner, widow of James Carner, died at her home in Hublersburg from infirmities due to old age. She was born in Hublersburg and had she lived until March she would have been 82 years of age. Her husband preceded her to the grave three years ago. Surviving are three sons: John, Boyd and Paul, all of Hublersburg.

DECKER.—Mrs. Jennie Decker, wife of Calvin Decker, of Tyrone, died at the Altoona hospital following an emergency operation the day previous. Her maiden name was Jennie Sherry and she was 52 years old. She is survived by her husband and three children, Jerome Miller and Miss Marian Decker, of near Tyrone, and Mrs. S. F. Graffius, of Sunbury. She also leaves two sisters and two brothers—Mrs. Anna Schell and Anthony Sherry, of St. Marys; Mrs. Michael McAvoy, of Kane, and George Sherry, of Bellefonte.

BUGBEE.—Mrs. Mary Meyer Bugbee, a native of Centre county, died at her home at Stockton, Cal., on February 8th, as the result of an operation. She was a daughter of the late John and Mary Klose Meyer and was born at Rebersburg, this county. Most of her married life had been spent in California. Her husband died a number of years ago but surviving her are two daughters—Mrs. Alvin Long, of San Jose, Cal., and Mrs. Sibley Bush, of Stockton. She also leaves one brother and a sister—David J. Meyer, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. C. M. Bower, of Bellefonte. Burial was made at Stockton.

Glenn Shaffer, of Osceola Mills, is among those who were victimized by the dishonest brokerage concern that failed in Philadelphia recently. Shaffer, it is said, lost $1,200, which he paid for stocks that were never delivered to him. Another victim was Merv Betz, of Jacksonville, below Bellefonte.

Cows Wanted.

Wanted—fresh cows or close springers. Call Bell telephone office, Centre Hall, or home of M. L. Emerck, and arrangements will be made to purchase cows. In my absence there will be a reliable person on the field to do the buying.—C. D. Mitterling.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Chester A. Spyker has been confined to bed for the past week, suffering with quinsy.

Farmers are taking new heart with the steady rise in the price of wheat. Farm labor is also more plentiful than for several years.

Judge Eugene H. Baird fined Alex Vernesky, of near Mill Hall, $1000 and meted out three months imprisonment for selling whiskey without a license.

Matthew W. Goheen, of Boalsburg, was a business caller at this office on last Friday. Mr. Goheen is making sale on March 27th, and will quit farming.

The second crop of ice was taken from the Brozer ponds last week. This indicates that we have had a considerable number of cold days and nights during the past two months.

The Lewistown bus, since Monday, is again making its regular trips between Lewistown and Bellefonte. The service had been suspended for a considerable length of time.

Messrs. John H. Burkholder and Ira Whiteman were business callers at this office on Monday in the interest of their respective sales of farm stock and implements, to be held during March.

Let me have your order for fresh fish—halibut, salmon and other kind—and oysters. Deliveries will be made Thursdays, as a rule.—Ray G. Decker, Centre Hall.

PINE GROVE MILLS.

E. S. Moore is getting out a big order of telephone poles.

Henry McWilliams is visiting his sister at Lancaster for two weeks.

Our grain merchant J. D. Neidigh shipped away two carloads of wheat last week at the $1.15 mark.

Wade Helman bought of J. H. McCracken sixteen porkers, on Monday, for the Philipsburg market.

Dr. Stark safely delivered a nice little boy to the Cary Shoemaker home here last week. It is No. 1 and everybody is happy.

The Lord's Supper will be administered in the Presbyterian church here next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Preparatory services Friday at 7:30 p. m. and Saturday at 10:30 a. m.

The Bowersox residence was sold at public sale on Saturday to A. S. Walker; consideration, $125.

Our band leader, W. K. Corl, is still in the Glenn sanitarium where he was under the knife. He is slowly improving.

W. H. Goss, who has submitted to two surgical operations at the Reading hospital, is convalescing nicely.

The Rock Springs hunting club held their annual banquet last Wednesday evening at the Rock Springs Grange hall.

Rev. Day, of North Carolina, very ably filled the three appointments on the Lutheran charge. He is a candidate to succeed Rev. A. M. Lutton, resigned.

While on her way to take the bus out of State College last Saturday, Mrs. Thomas D. Gray fell on the icy pavement, cutting an ugly gash in her head that required several stitches to close up.

AUCTIONEER.—R. J. Witmer,

graduate of the Jones National School of Auctioneering makes all kinds of sales, specializing in farm sales. Address State College, R. F. D. Commercial phone 68L. 6to7

LIKE SPOILED CHILDREN

Imagine the thrill that came to Wesley Syco of West Virginia, the other day, when at forty-seven, he took his first train ride, his first street car ride and saw his first circus. We sort of envy Wesley Syco.

Most of us have been living in wonderland so long we get no thrills out of it. We lift our lips a small instant and speak to a friend miles away. We press a button and flood our homes with light. We journey through the skies or under the seas. But unmode, we take all this magic for granted like spoiled children with too many toys. —Happy Wesley Syco.—Wapakoneta (O.) Daily News.

THE TIMES HAVE CHANGED

The day has passed when we can shut our eyes and stop our ears to the claims of the utility companies. The fact that they have become the objects of rigid control by the public makes them also, in a sense, public wards. The district which in former days attached to them has passed away with all, save a few people who still think it popular to insist that public utility companies have no rights and that to speak a word in their defense is to be guilty of an impolitic act.—Editorial from Washington Herald

Johnny Cake Marches to Rescue

A first aid to empty stomachs he has ever been. But as a life-saver Johnny Cake appears in a role strange even to those who have known him long and loved him well south of the Mason and Dixon line. For Johnny's now a relief worker.

This startling news recently reached Near East Relief headquarters in New York from its agents in Transcaucasia. It was disguised in the terse announcement that the first shipment of American corn ever sent to the Near East has arrived in Armenia, where it was received with joy by a starving populace.

Most of the shipment was made in the form of corn meal, to save space and freight charges. Among the relief personnel in the City of Alexandropol, where twenty thousand children are housed in American orphanages and where thousands more are reported starving on the streets, was a daughter of the "Old Dominion." It was she, with memories of a chubby childhood, who introduced Johnny to her young charges.

As a result of that one shipment of corn meal the relief director for the entire Transcaucasia district, informed relief officials at New York Headquarters that several hundred ragged, hunger-shrunken tots, none over five, were admitted to orphanages in Alexandropol and Erivan, where lack of sufficient supplies had hitherto kept them out.

"But saving several hundred lives was not all that Johnny has accomplished," the director reports. "He also demonstrated that the tastes of childhood are international. Never has a Virginia pickaninny swallowed pieces of Johnny Cake with more visible satisfaction than that which showed on the faces of these Armenian waifs, when they had their first taste of it."
