Going—, Going—
 Bryan will be at State College next Wednesday night.
 Progress Grange meeting, Friday evening, March 10, at 7:30, instead of Saturday, March 11.
 Judge Bell announced in the Clearfield county court that he would grant no licenses this year.
 See the ad. in this issue of the Centre County Automobile Show, which will be one of many pleasing features.
 Miss Cora Homan has been ill with a serious nervous disorder for several weeks past, at her home just east of town.
 A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Dinges on Sunday. It is the first brother for two little sisters in the family.
 Why drag around feeling half sick and no account all the time when you can take Tanlac?—Centre Hall Pharmacy.

J. W. Evans and sister, Miss Irene Evans, of Spring Mills, attended the funeral of their uncle, Dr. Kryder Evans, at Pottsville, Monday afternoon.

Cleveland D. Mitterling, who with his family is at Eureka Springs, Arkansas, is seriously ill with tonsillitis, according to word received by relatives in Centre Hall.

Miss Nancy McWilliams, of Pennsylvania Furnace, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, in Centre Hall, the latter part of last week. Miss McWilliams is teaching school.

Miss Margaret Emery, returned home the latter part of last week from a few weeks' visit among friends in Reading and other points in the eastern part of the state. She was much delighted with her trip.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Breen, accompanied by their son, Richard, drove to Centre Hall by auto Monday evening. While here they greeted many old neighbors. The Breens like their new home very much.

An effort is being made by the farmers in the vicinity of Howard to organize an auxiliary to the Centre County Farmers' Co-operative Association and will hold a meeting for that purpose on Friday evening at the Furnace school.

W. Harrison Walker, Esq., was in Centre Hall on Tuesday in the interest of the Henry E. Homan estate. Mr. Walker is much interested in the sale of U. S. Treasury certificates, which he believes to be the best securities offered today.

The Bright-Colyer sale was held yesterday (Wednesday) and just before the sale day Mr. Bright was taken sick, pneumonia developing. Good friends turned in and assisted Mr. Colyer in conducting the sale, greatly relieving the sick man.

Guy W. Jacobs, of Steubenville, Ohio, was an arrival here beginning of the week, enroute to Harrisburg where he attended a meeting of ice manufacturers. The latter part of the week he will attend a similar meeting in Columbus, Ohio, expecting to reach his home about Saturday.

W. E. McWilliams, of Pennsylvania Furnace, father of Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, of Centre Hall, on Sunday morning, was stricken with paralysis, which affected his lower limbs and throat. This is the second attack, and his friends are somewhat apprehensive of the ultimate outcome.

F. M. Ackerman, of Spring Mills, the well known house painter, began finishing the interior of the new dwelling house erected by A. H. Spayd. Much of the finishing will be done so that the natural wood will show to the best advantage. Oak is the wood used almost exclusively in the finishing.

On Monday, S. G. Rote, proprietor of Rote's mill, near Coburn, started a team and wagon toward Centre Hall to deliver flour of various kinds, and when a point in the vicinity of Beaver Dam school house was reached, one of the horses stepped into a hole and as a result broke the bone in one of its legs. The animal was speedily shot to end its misery.

It appears now that when the first of April comes all persons seeking a place of residence in Centre Hall will have been accommodated. The family of Chester A. Spiker will move into the Homan home, immediately east of the borough line, which will be vacated by Mrs. Homan and her daughter to move into their new home purchased on Saturday.

A report to the effect that the next and last Lecture Course number has been postponed from Saturday evening of this week until Tuesday evening of next week, is erroneous. A meeting with the agent of the Repath Bureau is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, which, however, has nothing to do with the appearance of the Oceanic Ladies' Quintet, who will be here according to schedule—Saturday evening, March 11.

BOALSBURG NEWS.

Saturday afternoon members of the "Paradise" camping party—John and Howard Bricker, Charles Faxon and family, Grant Charles and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Corl—packed bedding and eats in their cars and motored to their camp in the Seven Mts. They returned on Sunday evening.

Nevin W. Meyer, one of Harris township's prosperous and up-to-date farmers, recently equipped his home with electric light. He has the lights in the house and barn, and all other buildings about the place, as well as having lights placed at convenient points on the outside. The current is furnished by the Boalsburg electric plant.

Members of two classes of the Reformed Sunday school are practicing for a play—"The Laughing Cure"—which they will render in a few weeks. The play is full of life and activity and promises to be one of real enjoyment; so watch for further mention.

The death of Miss Sarah Keller occurred Sunday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. George Hall, at Wilimington, Delaware, where she had spent the winter. She had been sick for some time. She was aged about eighty-three years. Funeral Wednesday morning from the train; services conducted by her pastor, Rev. S. C. Stover, were held in the Reformed church, of which she was a life-long member.

RULES FOR CONTESTANTS

Any person who reads this ad may take part in the contest.
 Each letter must be written in the square beside the firm's name where the letter appeared.
 Sentence must not contain over 200 LETTERS, but may contain any number of letters less than 200.
 It is NOT absolutely necessary that the letters displayed by the members of the Booster Association be used in your sentence, but they must appear in the square opposite the firm's name.
 Contest closes Monday, March 27, and all sentences, with list of firms and letters properly placed, must be sent to Room 49, Altoona Trust Building, and marked "Gold Letter Contest."

 Sign your name to this list after you have marked all the letters in the proper squares and write your sentence on a sheet of blank paper and mail the two together to Room 49, Altoona Trust Building.
 Impartial judges will be appointed at the close of contest and these judges will NOT be permitted to know the names of any who send in sentences until after winners are decided upon--so you are assured your sentence will receive all due consideration.
