PORTLAND CEMENT

NEW industry comes to town, or an old one moves into new and better quarters. Either is a credit to the community and to the merchant who thus gives evidence of his progress.

One man has played a possibly unnoticed, but no less essential part in this community improvement—your building material dealer. His investment in a slow moving stock, building materials, is a definite pledge of his belief in the community. His stock and ability to deliver promptly enable you to take advantage of weather conditions, and rush unexpectedly needed construction. Your building material dealer's judgment deservedly has weight. He is the man who has called Atlas Portland Cement "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."

A Little Bit Humorous

TEST OF AN INTERVIEW

"Did I report your remarks correctly?" asked the interviewer.

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum. "I expect to read them with pleasure when I get time."

"You endorse the interview without having read it?"

"Fully. The comment on it by my constituents has been so favorable that I'm sure that it's entirely satisfactory."

Generous.

It was the luncheon hour, and Joe was deep in the paper.

Along came Jock, the Scot.

"Can you loan it to us a second?" he asked.

Joe, ever obliging, complied, and Jock cut out the football coupon, and, hearing Joe protest said: "All right all right my mannie; if I win the prize I'll give ye tuppence."—Answers.

Neighborhood Rivalry.

"Every time I buy anything new, Mrs. Gadsper goes straight to town and gets something just like it," said Mrs. Twobble, fretfully.

"I don't know what we are going to do about that, my dear," said Mr. Twobble. "Still, if we had a place to keep it, I might buy you a cassowary. I understand they are hard to duplicate."

NO, INDEED

"But, father, he's my soul mate."

"Tut, tut, daughter, don't be foolish. Just because two young people happen to like the same phonograph records it doesn't necessarily mean that they were made for each other."

True.

They say that money is a curse, but still I like it in my purse.

Mutual Forbearance.

"Do you claim to know all about finance?"

"No," admitted Farmer Cornsossel. "I'm free to confess some of us farmers who talk about finance don't know any more about their subject than some of the financiers who talk about farming."

The Passive Politician.

"I am in the hands of my friends," said Senator Sorghum.

"What do you mean by that?"

"If they regard me as a good political risk and want to back me with all kinds of money, that's their business. But I don't want to know a thing about it."

Ably Represented.

"You have been very fortunate in politics."

"I have," admitted Senator Sorghum. "although it would be hardly discreet for me to express it just that way. My interests lie in convincing my constituents that they are the fortunate ones."

WHERE HE LEARNED IT.

"Goodness, gracious, where did you ever hear such language?"

"I was in the car with Pa the other day when the traffic cop bawled him out for missing his signal."

Simple.

I cannot sing the old songs Because they are forgotten; I cannot sing the new songs Because they are so rotten.

Would Split the Expense.

"Do you think you can support my daughter in the style to which she has been accustomed?"

"I don't know, sir, but I can certainly save you 50 per cent of her present cost to you."

Great House Mystery.

"Well, I succeeded in leasing a house."

"What on earth is the matter with it?"

"Dunno, but it must be something terrible. The landlord voluntarily offered to paper it throughout."

Couldn't Give Any Less.

A Mistake.

There was a commotion in the theater and the usher was seen ejecting a man. The man was spluttering angrily when the manager came into the lobby.

"Why did you eject this man?" asked the manager.

"He was hissing the performance," replied the usher.

"Why did you hiss the performance?" asked the manager.

"I d-d-didn't h-h-hiss," stammered the man. "I m-m-mereely s-s-said t-t-to m-my friend beside me: 'S-S-Sammy, is-s-s-n't it s-s-superb?'"—Pittsburgh Press.

Wishing for sleep is a poor way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.
