A Feeling of Security

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy. The same standard of purity, strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root.

It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for everything. It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to try this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

The Wool Combers.

In the Latin quarter of Paris one often sees groups of bareheaded women, sitting in some quiet corner of the street, perhaps within a church door, picking and combing the wool of their mattresses. No matter how poor a French peasant may be, he almost always possesses a comfortable bed with a wool mattress.

Explaining One Problem.

Jud Tunkins says some of the modern problems are due to the fact that there are too many chefs and not enough hired girls.

A sticking plaster is the kind that doesn't fall from the ceiling.

Scraps of Humor

LITERARY COMMENT

"What is your favorite novel?"

"Jack the Giant Killer," replied Miss Cayenne.

"That is only a fairy tale."

"Which is my reason for liking it. Nobody is going to get you into an argument about it by saying: 'How true to life the characters are!' and 'Isn't the philosophy a wonderful revelation of the human soul!'"

Unmistakable Signal.

"There must be trouble across the street!" said the stranger in Crimson Gulch.

"What makes you think so?" inquired Three-fingered Sam.

"I just heard a pistol shot."

"Don't let it skeer you. The boys are tired of poker and are learnin' to play bridge whist. That's Pute Pete's way of signalin' fur trumps."

A HELPFUL SPOUSE

Hubby—What did you do with all these unpaid bills.

Wife—I saw they were beginning to worry you, dear, so I destroyed them.

Ups and Downs in Milking.

"That stubborn cow," said Ezra Boggs.

"Makes me feel like a clown—"

"Because, when I've made her give up, I'm derved if she'll give down!"

Publicity Problems.

"Why do you quarrel with the critics?"

"Because," answered the highly sensitive player, "they occasionally print things about us that are unfavorable and hurt our feelings."

"But why specialize on critics? Why don't you also go after the police reporters?"

A Sense of Gratitude.

"A noted writer recommends immoral books to cure people of evil tendencies."

"There must be something in that theory," replied the sarcastic citizen.

"At least I never view the antics of a movie star on the screen that I don't thank heaven I wasn't born handsome."

Not a Fair Game.

Two small boys were puzzling their brains to invent a new game. At last one of them said, eagerly: "I know, Billy; let's see who can make the ugliest face."

"That is not fair," was the reply.

"Look at what a start you've got!"

Endurance.

"Fashions are hindrances to health."

"I don't think so," rejoined Miss Cayenne. "Only robust people can wear silk stockings in winter and furs in summer."

Apprehensive.

"This is a fashionable grillroom."

"Yes, Tessie, all the other ladies are smoking."

"So I see. Do you think they will put us out for not smoking?"

LOOKED LIKE IT

Bug—My, that must be the chorus from one of those Broadway shows!

Progress.

Who gains an inch upon his goal
May still be far from it,
But he is nearer that the man
Who started out and quit.

Self Defense.

"Why is it," said Mrs. Naggem, "I say, why is it that men like you always snap and bite at your wives?"

"I dunno," said Naggem, disconsolately. "I reckon it's the same instinct of self-defense that makes a dog growl at his fleas!"

The Touch in Boston.

The wayfarer accosted the Boston man on Commonwealth avenue.

"Sir, could you spare me a dime?"

"Do you take me for an easy mark?"

"No, sir; I was in hopes you were an altruist."

This got him a quarter.

Sure She Would Accept Him.

She—Just imagine! Suppose you were so immensely wealthy that you couldn't spend your income—what would you do?

He—Marry you.

Friends Can Do Much Harm.

If a cause be good, the most violent attack of its enemies will not injure it so much as an injudicious defense of it by its friends.—Colton.

Why Not?

It was Memorial day. The whole village was out at the cemetery cleaning away a year's growth of briars and weeds and decorating the graves. One woman was busy pointing out to a stranger the places where different ones were buried. She seemed to be familiar with the whole graveyard. Her little boy was listening to every word. He finally inquired: "Mother, where is my little grave?"

An Aftermath.

"Hello, sir; remember me?"

"Can't say I do, sir."

"I met you at the club one day."

"I'm a very poor hand at remembering faces."

"Why, that was the day I tipped you off on the stock market."

"So? Come to get myself together, your face does seem familiar!"

"After which I borrowed $10 from you."

"Certainly. I remember you."

"And you promised that when next we met you'd lend me another ten."

"Pardon me. I was mistaken in the face!"—New York Sun.

MOTHER! CLEAN

CHILD'S BOWELS WITH

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Tomorrow never comes unless you have a note to meet.

Rare Indeed.

In a recently published story occurs the following: "Having thrust a New Testament into his pocket before starting he now took it out and read the Twenty-third Psalm." This must have been a rare copy of the Testament, unknown to any person other than the author and his character.

ATLAS

PORTLAND CEMENT

BOTH farmer and manufacturer have learned that the highest grade products are valueless till they reach market. Roads have a direct bearing on community wealth. And, by actual proof, the poorest roads are the most expensive—a luxury even the richest community cannot afford.

The value of concrete roads is indicated by the fact that concrete roads sufficient to reach from New York to San Francisco and back again, more than twice the mileage of any previous year, were built in 1921.

The contractor and building material dealer are good judges of types of construction. They know the advantages of permanence and economy. They also know materials, and recommend Atlas Portland Cement, "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."
