RAMSEY MADE MANY RECORDS

Phenomenal Southpaw Had Brilliant Assortment of Curves and Drops in Pitching.

Tom (Toad) Ramsey, the phenomenal southpaw hurler of long ago, had many wonderful records to his credit of which he never realized the true importance or, seemingly, didn't care. Ramsey never knew how the score stood and invariably asked, Who won? This man Ramsey pitched such ball as batsmen seldom faced and pitched with the utmost abandon that one would be led to believe he was pitching to a lot of sand-lotters.

In the season of 1886 and 1887 Ramsey pitched over 120 games for the Louisville club of the American association. He was unhittable in most of them and fanned over 900 batsmen in the two seasons. Strikeouts were as numerous as flies in June. It was down in the Southern league in 1885 that same school, Ramsey pulled off some wonderful stunts. Pitching for the Chattanooga club of that old circuit, Ramsey, in two games, and entirely due to his phenomenal pitching, the first baseman and catcher had all the putouts. played last fall. Of the 52 batsmen retired in the two games, (one of the games was an eight-inning affair), Ramsey fanned 35 batsmen. The other 17 were retired 26 seconds and 21 thirds out of a toby the first baseman on pop flies of the tal of 149 mounts last year, a good fair and foul variety.
