Farm Bureau Tells How to Preserve Eggs.

The storage of eggs in the season of high egg production when low prices prevail, for use during the season of low production with high prices, is entirely practical and economical for home consumption. The most satisfactory preservation is water glass, which can be obtained at most drug stores. The equipment necessary is sufficient containers to hold the eggs and still allow for the liquid to cover them to a depth of about two inches. Use strictly fresh, infertile eggs. Place them in the container, then pour in the liquid. Water glass solution is usually prepared by using one part water glass to nine parts of water. Keeping this in a cool place is advised. A four gallon crock will easily contain about ten dozen eggs. Approximately eight quarts of the mixture will be necessary to properly preserve the eggs. These eggs can be very satisfactorily used for any method of cooking, except that when they are boiled for table use, it is advisable to prick the large end of the eggs so that the air may escape. Sometimes the whites of the eggs will take on a pinkish cast which is entirely harmless for eatable purposes. Often times also the liquid will turn white and a gelatinous material stick to the eggs which is easily washed off. This is entirely harmless.

It should be remembered, however, that the preserving solution is good for one year only. Further information on this subject can be obtained at the Farm Bureau office or the Poultry Extension Department, State College, Pa.

Farm Bureau on Corn Growing.

Lack of moisture is generally one of the limiting factors in growing corn, oats and potatoes. Cultivation to conserve moisture before the crop is planted may be as important as later cultivation. When land is ploughed and left loose and rough, it dries out very rapidly. The usual and natural practice in ploughing is to complete the entire field before starting to harrow. If the weather is dry, as it often is in May, by the time ploughing is completed the earlier ploughed land is fairly well dried out.

Not only is this moisture lost, and germination and growth seriously handicapped, but the dry soil does not harrow up and pulverize nearly so well as if worked when moist. On heavy soils a good seed bed may be impossible until more rain falls. The logical method is to roll and harrow, or at least harrow, over the ploughed land at the end of each day's or every second day's ploughing. Harrowing can be done as well at one time as another. Prompt treatment settles the soil, closes the cracks and air spaces which promote rapid evaporation and leaves a loose mulch on the surface for a good seed bed which will hold the moisture until needed.—County Agent.

Boalsburg Boy Scout News.

The Boalsburg Boy Scouts had a good turnout at their meeting last Wednesday evening. Eugene Charles, Wednesday evening. Eugene Charles, Acker have completed their second-class requirements. A few of the boys have started their first-class requirements, one of which is a fourteen mile hike. The trip last Thursday evening was a success. The boys went up to the foot of the mountain and took the last of the second-class requirements, which consisted of tracking and cooking. Scout master Paul Coxey, with a scout assistant, went into the woods and made a trail by marking trees and bushes and piling stones. Ten minutes later the troop started on the trail and had no trouble finding them.

The cooking requirement consisted of cooking meat and baking potatoes over an open fire without the ordinary utensils. Most of the boys succeeded fairly well in doing this. A number of new members have been added and it will soon be necessary to organize another patrol. The troop now consists of three patrols, with the following officers: Scoutmaster, Paul Coxey, with Mr. Weller his assistant; Richard Goheen, secretary, and Kenneth Ishler, treasurer. The patrol leaders are Richard Goheen, Russell Bohn and Charles Ream. An assistant secretary will be elected next meeting. Paul Roberts has been chosen scout scribe.

The Belleville Times prints this one: One of our prominent business men when in the city recently went into a restaurant to get some eats. He ordered some soup and very soon told the waiter that the soup was spoiled. The waiter said, "Who told you?" "Why," said the man, "a little swallow."

In no picture that was ever produced is there so much pep and agility as in "The Three Musketeers." When the critics said that Fairbanks outdid Fairbanks they simply put it mildly. He did every known trick of the motion picture producer, and then after all the tricks of the trade were finished, he sat down and doped out some more, that are hair raising to the 'nth' degree. See the picture at the Opera House, Bellefonte, April 25, 26, 27 and 28.

First to establish the $10.90 price—"Usco"

THE makers of U. S. Tires made this announcement last November—

"Hereafter the price of the 30x 3 1/2 'Usco' is $10.90." The lowest price ever quoted on a tire of quality reputation and standard performance.

And now, with the opening of Spring, there seem to be quite a number of "New and Special tires" coming into the market in the $10.90 price range.

Perhaps you are wondering just what there can be either "new" or "special" about these tires.

It can't be the $10.90 price—"Usco" established that five months ago.

Nor quality reputation and standard performance—for it takes more than one full season for any new tire to demonstrate where it stands in quality and value.

With so many tires rushing into this $10.90 price field (now that the season promises business from the American car-owner), it is worth remembering that "Usco" showed its good faith by announcing this price last fall.

The same intent to serve that has made "Usco" a standard value for years.

The "Usco" Tire was never better than it is today—with its established quality, its time-tested performance, and its price closely figured in tune with the times.

KESSLER'S

IT ISN'T a difficult thing to appreciate fully just why we are all worked up about the New SPRING MERCHANDISE now on view in our store.

There have been few seasons when either the fabrics or models were as attractive as these. In fact we do not see how it would be possible to give more in style or value than we give in this collection. There are novelties, quite natural, and staples for quiet wear.

IN SHOES have every wanted perforation, stitching or finish. Some people want a shoe that is distinctive in looks; some like them severely plain. But all want them to be comfortable always. We can fit you properly, and at a price that you will approve.

Come in and see—no obligation implied—we are glad to see you.
