LEARN TO CATCH IF YOU WOULD MAKE GOOD IN BASEBALL GAME

Many of Major League Managers Are Old-Time Catchers.

Youngsters who want to stay in the game after their baseball legs give out should go to catching.
It seems from figures that the wise old backstops have the best chance of remaining in the game at big money after their field days are over.
One-half of the major league managers are old catchers and practically every one of them have teams up in the races in both leagues.
Connie Mack is Dean.

The St. Louis Browns have given unconditional releases to Pitchers Ed Lambing and Clarence Lillpop, both St. Louis youngsters.

PRaise FOR HANEY

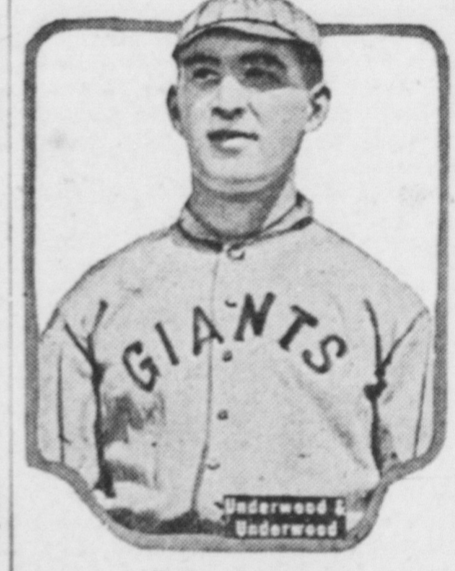

A critic traveling with the Detroit Tigers pays these compliments to Fred Haney, recruit third sacker from Omaha:
"Haney has this about him: When he fumbles a batted ball he leaps after it. He recovers with lightning rapidity and always makes the throw. Few infielders do that. When the average infielder fumbles he calls it a tough break and slowly waddles after the ball, making no attempt to recover and get the runner."

RALPH SHINNERS IS SURE TO MAKE GOOD

Milwaukee Youth Works His Way to New York Giants.

Tried to Get Tryout With Brewers, but Owners Couldn't See—Developed Into Real Star With Indianapolis Team.

Back in the spring of 1920 a Milwaukee boy tried to get a tryout with the Brewers. All he wanted was a chance to show his wares, but the club owners could not see the boy from the home town, says the Milwaukee Sentinel. Today this same youngster, Ralph Shinners, is the property of the New York National league club, bringing four players and cash to Indianapolis by the deal.
A star with the Indianapolis club in 1921 and one of the most promising youngsters ever sent from the A. A. to the majors, Shinners was sought by several big league clubs.
It was in 1920 that Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indianapolis club, was sending his Indians against the Brewers, that he was told about a feet-footed youngster of the sandlots who could hit at a terrific clip and was stealing more bases than any other two players in the circuit. Hendricks looked him up and decided to give him a chance. He failed to show much during the closing days of the 1920 season. He went South with the Indianapolis club in 1921 and a decided improvement was noticed in his playing.

Hendricks then decided to start him as a regular. He made good from the jump. Playing in Minneapolis last fall, in the last series between the Indians and Millers, Shinners was the outstanding star. He got a hit, was hit by pitchers and very nearly got on the paths every time he came to bat.
He is a speed merchant, one of the fastest that the A. A. has ever boasted. He is six feet tall, weighs 190 pounds and is only twenty-one years old. Last season he played in 164 games, was at bat 683 times, made 236 hits for a percentage of .347.
It's the old story of the athlete not being able to make good in his home town.

EVERYTHING AGAINST HIM

John McGraw, manager of the Giants, tells an amusing one on Pitcher Fred Toney in the World's series. The robust twirler was heart and soul for winning, but couldn't. The second time he was taken out his disappointment was intense and for the moment the iron entered his soul. Nobody said anything when he went to the bench, and for a moment he didn't say a word. Then out with it thus: "Well, that's what I get for coming to this town. The public's against me, the press is against me and the manager's against me."
