Opposition to prohibition in its present character is essentially rebellious and no self-respecting citizen can afford to identify himself with it.

The Disarming Conference seems like a dream when one reads of the appropriation of $341,750,000 to support for a year an army of 12,530 officers and 133,000 men! The millennium isn't yet.

There is a great deal being said today about the short skirts, flesh-colored hose and exposure below the neck line, but it is true, too, that some of these reformers who talk the loudest also look the longest.

China claims that it has had only one bank failure in 400 years, but there is a reason. A bank wrecker in that land loses his head on the block.

Charles M. McCurdy issued a statement, after examining the conditions of the Centre County Bank that closed its doors a few weeks ago, declaring necessary voluntary proceedings in bankruptcy. This is an expensive and laborious process, but it will only be when the trustee appointed makes his report that the bank's assets and liabilities will be known. It is possible for the depositors to adopt some other plan for liquidation, and this may be done.

THE DEATH RECORD.

HARTER.—An extremely sad death occurred at the Bellefonte hospital when Mrs. William Harter, of Pleasant Gap, died Sunday afternoon. The young woman, who was just a little over seventeen years of age, gave birth to a son Saturday night previous and there was no thought of complications until Sunday morning when symptoms of eclampsia developed, causing death as noted above.

Mrs. Harter was the daughter of Grant Dunkleberger, of Pleasant Gap, at whose home the child, which is living, was born, the young couple not having as yet gone to housekeeping.

EVERHART.—Alexander Everhart died at the home of his nephew, Samuel Everhart, on the old Everhart homestead, on the Branch, Saturday morning. Interment was made in the Branch cemetery Monday afternoon.

Mr. Everhart was the last member of the Everhart family and was widely known throughout the county. At the time of his death he lived in the vicinity of Graysville, and prior to Memorial Day, as was his custom, he came to the old homestead to be a participant in the Memorial Day services, one of his brothers having been one of the Civil War veterans. The trip fatigued him to such an extent that he became ill and death ensued within a few days.

The deceased was employed for many years by the Pennsylvania Railroad company in their Altoona shops, and a few years ago was put on the retired list. He was aged about seventy-six years. His wife died eight or ten years ago. He was childless.

SHAFER.—Samuel B. Shaffer, a respected citizen of Rebersburg, died at his home Tuesday morning of last week after a short illness.

Mr. Shaffer was born at Madisonburg, March 8, 1847, and was therefore aged 75 years, 2 months and 22 days. He was married twice, the first time to Joanna Wolfe, who died about ten years ago. Several years later he married Delia J. Weaver, who survives. These children survive: Mrs. Ida Webb, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, of State College; Cloyd, of Hanover; and Mrs. S. A. Bierly, of Rebersburg. Four grandchildren also survive.

He was a member of the Lutheran church.

Funeral services were held at the house Thursday afternoon, and interment made in the Lutheran-Reformed cemetery at Rebersburg.

WORREL.—Mrs. Bella M. Worrel, wife of Lloyd M. Worrel, passed away at her home in Lewistown following a year's illness. Notwithstanding the fact that her condition was known to be serious she was up and around the house the day before her death so that her passing away was a shock to her family and friends.

Her maiden name was Miss Bella Brown and she was born at Boalsburg forty-five years ago. She is survived by her husband and five sons: Fred E., Donald H., Carl M., Leroy and Blair, all at home. She also leaves her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, of Boalsburg, one brother and three sisters, namely: Frank Orvis Brown, of Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Mary Condo, Mrs. Floy Houtz and Miss Mabel Brown, all of Boalsburg. Burial was made in the Church Hill cemetery, Reedsville.

WILLARD.—Darvin I. Willard, of Bellefonte, died at his home in that place from an illness dating back to early spring. He was a son of Frank and Polly Wilcox Willard and was born at Columbus, Warren county, Pa., on November 4th, 1851, hence was in his seventy-first year.

All a Hoax.

The story of Sheriff Kemberling, of Mifflin county, arresting hold-up men in the Seven Mountains is all a story and it appears it was a story that induced them to go there at midnight Monday to investigate. A report reached Sheriff Dukeman's office, at Bellefonte, of the affair, and his daughter, who is the deputy, called up the Mifflin county sheriff because of the absence of her father, whose investigation could unearth nothing but rumors of some men at the Old Foust place having a rope stretched across the road. No evidence could be produced of this having been true.

Bundle Day at Centre Hall. Friday of this week is "Bundle Day" for Centre Hall and surrounding community. At Grange Arcadia ladies interested in Near East relief work will be ready to receive your old clothing. Remember, this means that you are giving only what you cannot use yourself, but it will mean much to the near-naked refugees of the Near East. If you have no clothing, send the ladies a bit of cash.

A refrigerator truck purchased by Hoffman & Runk, Phillipsburg, is capable of carrying 400 gallons ice cream, 3000 pounds ice and 1000 pounds salt. When fully loaded the truck weighs nine tons.

BOALSBURG.

Capatin Febiger moved his household goods to State College, on Monday, where he will reside in the future.

Children's Day will be observed on Sunday in the Reformed Sunday-school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gregg, of Altoona, and Miss Ethel Rowe, of Centre Hall, were over Sunday visitors at the George Rowe home.

Mrs. Hazel M. Meyer and Miss Mildred Gingerich, delegates from the Reformed Sunday-school, attended the County S. S. convention at Millheim, Wednesday and Thursday.

Relatives and friends attended the funeral of Alexander Everhart from the home of his nephew, Samuel Everhart, Monday. Burial was made in the Branch cemetery. Mr. Everhart was a resident of Harris township in his early life.

The annual meeting of the Conservation Association will be held at Camp Boal on June 2. The general public is invited. The day is to be spent as a picnic; there will be speaking by several prominent men. The Civic Club of Boalsburg will be there with refreshments. Come and enjoy the day.

Mrs. Matthew Goheen entertained Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Johnson, of Pittsburgh, at dinner Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson spent two weeks with Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. (Dr.) Woods. Mr. Johnson is very fond of fishing and spent most of his time along the streams. The largest fish he caught was a 19-inch trout. They returned home Sunday afternoon.

PINE GROVE MILLS.

Charles Lutts, who twenty-five years ago took Greely's advice and is now one of Kansas' successful farmers, is visiting relatives and friends in Centre county.

W. K. Goss, of Tyrone, spent Sunday with his mother. He has been unfortunate of late in receiving two ugly wounds on his forehead from bars of iron while engaged in the R. R. shops.

Dr. G. H. Woods, A. S. Bailey and William Thompson are the booster committee to urge attendance to Presbyterian Day at Lakemont Park, Altoona, on the longest day.

The I. O. O. F. minstrel troop will give an entertainment this Friday evening in Boal Hall, Boalsburg. They gave two exhibitions here and each time had a capacity house.

C. L. Sunday, of Pennsylvania lodge, J. L. Hollibaugh, of State College lodge, and George C. Meyer, of Boalsburg lodge, are representatives to the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Pittsburgh this week.

Pennsylvania Lodge of Odd Fellows will hold their annual memorial services this Saturday evening at 6:30, in new cemetery. The Citizen's Band will furnish the music and Rev. H. C. Babcock, of State College, will deliver the address. A full turnout is requested.

S. W. Gramley and J. R. Miller, of Millheim, attended a bankers' convention at Pittsburgh, recently. They were the only representatives from Penna Valley banks to attend the gathering.

For Sale—Several thousand chicks—Reds, Rocks and Leghorns, on June 14th. Reduced price. Order at once.—Chas. D. Bartholomew, Centre Hall, Pa.

Henry Ford is a step nearer acquiring the Muscle Shoals power plants since the House Military committee recommended the adoption of Ford's plan.

Lutheran Picnic, July 29th.

The date set for the Penna Valley Lutheran Charge picnic is Saturday, July 29th. This time was selected by Superintendent Widel of the Loysville Orphan Home. The band will attend a gathering at Altoona the day previous and will be here all of Saturday. The place for holding this annual picnic has not yet been determined.
