

PENNSYLVANIA BRIEFS

General orders have been issued from the adjutant general's office...

The board of pardons announced it had recommended to the governor...

Ralph Weldon, aged 21, of Ashland, sustained a broken back and fractures...

A campaign with the dual purpose of establishing the college as the state university...

With a continuous service of almost fifty years in various capacities...

Virgil B. Bennett, a waiter at the Pennsylvania railroad station at Pittsburgh...

Howard E. Thynge, secretary of the Chester Business Men's Association...

Lloyd Kauffman, aged 14, of Wrightsville, ran in front of an automobile...

Blomberg council fixed July 17 for a special election on a $100,000 bond issue...

Litigation that has been pending before the public service commission...

Six days after he was granted a divorce in the Northumberland county court...

The regimental guild of the Seventy-sixth Pennsylvania Volunteers...

Rebecca, 11-year-old daughter of Nathan Gorin, of McAdoo...

G. Merrill Lenox, of Coraopolis, will be the editor-in-chief of Bucknell University's weekly newspaper...

An automobile stolen from E. B. Moyer, of Catawauqua, was found abandoned in woods near Hazleton...

Mrs. Harry R. Boyd, of Belle Vernon, was appointed a member of the Fayette county mothers' pension board...

Charged with falsely representing himself as a prohibition enforcement agent, Charles Rowe, of Kulpmont...

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Editorial Association...

Just as Dr. L. G. Doak, a chiropractor, of Altoona, was about to examine William R. Confer...

The North Branch Hosiery company, of Milton, has received an export order...

The highway department announced the appointment of Carl H. Carlson as superintendent of state highways...

Mayor James G. Harvey, of Hazleton, ordered arrests for violation of the curfew law...

Collapsing on the street shortly after she had eaten a dish of ice cream, Mrs. Jesse Percy is critically ill...

In ill health for years, Josepa K. Bradley, 47 years old, a prominent farmer of Wakefield...

Game Warden R. E. McCoy, of Lewistown, reports eleven dogs killed in Mifflin county...

With a continuous service of almost fifty years in various capacities with the Pennsylvania railroad...

Virgil B. Bennett, a waiter at the Pennsylvania railroad station at Pittsburgh, was arrested...

How he married three women without getting a divorce and failed to remember the name of two of his wives...

Lightning struck the home of Colonel J. H. Ford, in Northumberland, ripped a hole in the roof...

Another use has been found for a distillery. The bonded warehouse of the Connellsville Distilling company...

Peanut flakes, similar to cornflakes, puffed peanuts and a peanut drink, which is to be used as a substitute for coffee...

When paper is waste paper will be decided by expert paper men for Superintendent of Public Printing Miller...

Tons of paper intended for Small's Legislative Handbook and other state publications were in a fire which destroyed a warehouse...

The question has arisen whether the paper is too damaged to be used, and, have arisen, experts will be asked to make an examination...

Robert Conklin, of Columbia, was almost scalped when he fell from a swing, 15 stitches being required to close the wound...

Rebecca, 11-year-old daughter of Nathan Gorin, of McAdoo, fell twenty-one feet out of a window...

G. Merrill Lenox, of Coraopolis, will be the editor-in-chief of Bucknell University's weekly newspaper for the 1922-1923 session...

An automobile stolen from E. B. Moyer, of Catawauqua, was found abandoned in woods near Hazleton...

Mrs. Harry R. Boyd, of Belle Vernon, was appointed a member of the Fayette county mothers' pension board...

Charged with falsely representing himself as a prohibition enforcement agent, Charles Rowe, of Kulpmont...

Fire from a cigar tossed into the woods by an autoist who was repairing a tire caused a forest fire between Locust Summit and Locust Dale...

PITCHING DUELS BETWEEN FAMOUS TWIRLERS AT HEIGHT OF CAREERS

Charlie Robertson Who Recently Pitched a Perfect Game Against Detroit

The third no-run, no-hit, no-man-reach-first game in modern baseball history was a pitching duel between two right-handed pitching recruits...

The previous two games of this kind were likewise pitching duels, but both games were battles between star pitchers at the height of their careers...

When Addie Joss performed his feat on October 2, 1908, he defeated Ed Walsh, one of the greatest of the league has produced...

All three pitchers, Young, Joss and Robertson, the rookie, pitched with the right arm.

DETROIT TEAM USING VERY PECULIAR PLAY

The Detroit club is using a play this year that looks good when it is successfully pulled, yet a great many experts question its logic...

It is the hit-and-run play with a runner on second and one out. The Tigers have tried it a number of times already...

With a runner on second, that runner makes a break for third with the pitch. Of course, that pulls the third baseman over to cover, and it is up to the batter to hit through the territory vacated...

Opposing catchers will simply resort to the pitch out to break up this play if the Tigers continue to use it.

The fact that a runner can score from second on a single or an error, is what causes most of the baseball experts to question the soundness of the play.

GREAT VALUE TO GRIDSTERS

Glenn Warner, Coach of University of Pittsburgh, Praises Different Sports.

Basketball, track and tennis are of great value in training football players, according to Glenn Warner, head coach at the University of Pittsburgh...

Coach Glenn Warner.

Quick starting and shifting are most valuable in a player. Speed is not so necessary, as a player seldom runs more than ten yards, he says.

EXCITING GAME AT VICTORIA

Texas Satisfied They Got Their Money's Worth in Giving Omaha Ball Team a Bonus.

The business men of Victoria, Tex., agreed to give the Omaha club $3,000 to train its team there...

G. Merrill Lenox, of Coraopolis, will be the editor-in-chief of Bucknell University's weekly newspaper for the 1922-1923 session...

An automobile stolen from E. B. Moyer, of Catawauqua, was found abandoned in woods near Hazleton...

Mrs. Harry R. Boyd, of Belle Vernon, was appointed a member of the Fayette county mothers' pension board...

Charged with falsely representing himself as a prohibition enforcement agent, Charles Rowe, of Kulpmont...

Diamond Squibs

Jersey City is supporting its ball club better than it has done for years.

Just possibly why women never took to baseball: "Hit it a mile, old girl!"

Champion timber on a ball team is all right, but you've got to hit something with it.

A string of home runs seems to make quite a difference in the news value of a ball player.

Joe Wood's hitting for the Indians makes it appear that Joe still retains considerable "smoke."

The prophet that said the Giants were dangerous may well congratulate himself on his insight.

Frank Woodward is still the bear pitcher in the Eastern league, even if he can't make the major grade.

From the Senators' wobbly showing in the opening games it looks as if Nick Altrock was slowing up.

The New York Yankees have sent Outfielder Hinky Haines and Pitcher Bob Tecarr to the Jersey City club.

If Williams should eclipse Babe Ruth's homerun stunt this year, it wouldn't take any skin off our ankle.

Owner Frazee of the Red Sox has picked up several stars and a number of high-class players—for his show.

Paddy Green (Greiner), several years ago a prospective world beater, has been cast aside by the Springfield club.

Jimmy Johnston, shortstop of the Chickasha champions in the Western Association in 1921, is permanently out of the game.

Jimmy Hamilton has added another veteran to his Charleston Sally League team in the person of Bill Leard, who will play second base.

Manager Earl Mack, of the Moline Three Eye club, son of Connie Mack, has sold third baseman McCue to the Philadelphia Americans.

The Fort Smith club of the Western association has just completed its second ball park, across the river in Oklahoma, where it plays its Sunday games.

John McGraw, manager of the world's champions, New York Giants, denies the rumor that he intends to take over the Toledo club of the American association.

Samuel Breadon, president of the St. Louis National baseball club, has obtained controlling interests in the club by purchasing the stock of one of the board of directors.

Bone hunters are hot on the trail of college stars this summer and the crop of highbrow athletes promises to be heavy when the reaping season starts along in September.

The observer watching the work of the Giants in the statistics of the box score, would say that Johnny Rawlings, hero of last year's world's series, is a rather healthy substitute for Frank Frisch.

Don't forget ancient George Cuthshaw in such success as the Detroit Tigers are having. For instance, in the game of April 23 he handled 14 chances without a miss. Only two infielders in the majors last year exceeded that record.

COUPON PASSES

To insure necessary funds for their new stadium, the athletic authorities of the University of California are selling seats in the structure for ten years in advance.

For a donation of $100, each of the Bear's benefactors is presented with a certificate of the coupon-bond type. Once a year, for the next decade, the coupons will be exchanged for season passes, entitling the bearer to at least $10 worth of 'varsity entertainment.'

CELEBRATES THIRTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Captain of Chicago White Sox Observes Birthday.

Eddie Collins Was Picked Up by the Philadelphia Athletics in 1906—Still Playing Wonderful Game at the Keystone Sack.

Eddie Collins, second baseman and captain of the Chicago White Sox, one of the greatest stars ever in baseball, celebrated his birthday recently.

"Captain Eddie" was thirty-five years old, or more appropriately, young. In the fifteenth year of his long and honorable major league career, he is going as strong as he was in the first, or the fifth, or the tenth, and it can't be safely predicted how many more years he will be playing his old, steady, wonderful game around the keystone sack, at bat and on the paths.

Eddie Collins.

Edward Trowbridge Collins was born at Millerton, N. J., May 2, 1887, and played his first baseball, aside from that with other small urchins, on the town common in 1904, with the Columbia university team at New York.

He was a college player in 1905 and 1906, and in 1906 he was picked up by the Philadelphia American league club. In that first year he used the name of "Eddie Sullivan," because as a college player he could not participate in organized baseball and retain his amateur standing.

When Collins first went to Philadelphia he was tried out at short and third base, and the ensuing year he played shortstop. In 1908, with the Athletics, he alternated at second base, third base and shortstop in 102 games, and hit for an average of .273, his lowest average since he entered the ranks of organized baseball.

The White Sox captain has been in six world's series, has stolen more bases than any other world's series player, and his work in those classics probably outshone that of any other individual. Collins came to Chicago in 1914 by transfer, the Sox paying a reported $50,000 for him.

The Sox infield leader is a resident of a Philadelphia suburb. He has two sons, one four and the other ten years of age. Eddie's latest hobby is radio.

INTERESTING SPORT NOTES

Washington and Jefferson is without a 'varsity nine this season.

Now Jack Dempsey can come back and say, "When I was in France."

A golf pill is the stuff you have to swallow when a duffer tells you his score.

Championships may be all right, but the big gate and the huge returns still count for much.

The English cup soccer semi-final games were attended by 142,418 spectators, who paid admissions totaling $62,570.

Jack Dempsey was uproariously greeted by a Berlin crowd anxious, no doubt, to see one of our foremost shipyard workers.

Detroit has been awarded the Central Association Amateur Athletic union outdoor track and field championship games.

A FEW LITTLE SMILES

Who is the important looking person? He's the author of an original joke? Just one? One made him famous. It formed the basis of a vaudeville sketch, a musical comedy and a motion picture scenario. Last month it figured as a humorous story of three thousand words in a popular magazine.

That's Different. Folks all well this morning. Johnny? asked a friend of the family. Yes'm. Glad to hear it. The last time I heard from them your father was suffering from rheumatic gout and your mother had neuralgia.

Oh, yes, they've still got 'em. I thought you meant was any of us sick.

A vain clergyman asked an old man how he had enjoyed his sermon. I liked one passage at the end very much, said the old man. Which was that? asked the clergyman.

The one from the pulpit to the vestry. said the old man.—London Tit-Bits.

With Starvation Imminent. I can't play 'Macbeth' before twenty people, said the famished tragedian. Think about your art, said the manager, soothingly.

I cannot even do that, replied the star, with tragic gesture. A stage hand is eating a 'hot dog' in the wings.

One Way of Doing It. Millicent—I admit that a man cannot be flattered as easily as a woman. William—That depends upon whether he is married or single. It's the easiest thing in the world to flatter a married man by saying he doesn't look it.—Scotsman.

In Questionable Society. First Guest—This is a pretty cheap family. Just look at the napkins, all patched and darned.

Second Guest—Yes, and besides that, they borrowed them from me.

ORPHANED

So your wife has taken up golf, too? Yes, our children are now golf orphans.

Don't Agree. Time is money, so they say. Yet if this is so. How is it that "Time is short"? We would like to know.

Rare Critter. This bit of sculpture represents? "A sphinx." I understand that. But where on earth do they get a sphinx to pose?

Way of the World. You are beautiful, my dear. Thank you. Why are you so unpopular? I have turned down every man in our set, thus getting every girl in the set a good husband, and still they don't like me.

Better Than Perpetual Chatter. This living with a genius is a little trying, said the worried looking man. A genius! Didn't know you had one in your family. Yes, my wife; she's discovered perpetual emotion.—Science and Invention.

Class in Mythology. Teacher (reviewing)—"Now, Cyrus, what is the difference between gods and demigods?" Cyrus—(broker's son)—A demigod is a 50 per cent god.

Suspicious. Hub—But the girl has good references. Mrs. Wyse—Too good! They must have been anxious to get rid of her to praise her so highly.

The Difference. I shall now eat a few thousand calories, said the man who was going to lunch. What's the difference between calories and plain old-fashioned food? I don't know that there is any; except that the calories appear to have made the food cost a whole lot more.

Comes Naturally. Mr. Hardupp—I wonder what makes our son William so restless? Mrs. Hardupp—Oh, most of our Bills are unsettled!—Answers.