

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

A daily vacation Bible school was opened at Spring Mills on Monday.

A Children's Day service will be held in the local Reformed church on Sunday evening, 25th.

Prof. R. U. Wasson, who has been teaching school at Saltsburg, will spend his vacation at Coburn.

Miss Eliza Moore went to State College on Tuesday and will remain until the latter part of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Meeker, of Johnstown, who are driving a seven-passenger Davis car, are visiting Mr. Meeker's mother in Centre Hall.

The Pennys advertises a 16-day excursion to Washington, over the local branch, Friday, June 30th. The fare for the round trip is $11.82.

Mrs. John Fodd, Mr. and Mrs. Boyer and party, of Phillipsburg, stopped for a brief call at the Reporter office on their way to Penns Cave, Monday forenoon.

Cleveland Mitterling shipped a carload of cows to the eastern market on Saturday, the first since he has again given his personal attention to the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Erdman West and little son, of Keansburg, New Jersey, came to Centre Hall the latter part of last week for a short visit at the home of Mrs. West's mother, Mrs. H. J. Lambert.

Harold Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Keller, of Centre Hall, who graduated from the local high school and State College High school, while in Lancaster last week enrolled as a student in Franklin and Marshall college.

Among the many features of the big picnic to be held at Boalsburg today (Thursday) will be a county rifle shoot, a clay pigeon shoot, a fly casting contest, and various Boy Scout contests.

Miss Emma Moyer, who has been employed in State College High school as instructor in music, returned to her home at Rebersburg last week and will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Moyer, at that place.

Mrs. Margaret Smith quietly celebrated the ninetieth anniversary of her birth at her home in Centre Hall. She is in fine physical condition for one of her age and has prospects for life for years longer, and this was the wish of the many friends and acquaintances who paid their respects to her on the recent anniversary.

The lectures, some of them accompanied by lantern slides, by Dr. Charles L. Fry, of Philadelphia, given at the various appointments comprising the Penns Valley Lutheran charge, were most instructive. Dr. Fry is the special representative of the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Lutheran church in America for the mission plant in Buenos Aires, South America.

An elaborate Children's Day program was executed at both Farmers Mills and Spring Mills appointments of Rev. M. C. Drumm on Sunday evening. The speaking and singing of the children as well as the parts assigned the older ones were pleasing to everyone in the audience. At Farmers Mills Dr. Fry spoke in the interest of the Lutheran church in South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Baird and two little daughters, of New Albany, Bradford county, arrived in State College on Friday of last week for a short visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baird. They were suddenly called to New Albany, on Wednesday, however, by the illness of Mrs. Baird's father, who suffered a paralytic stroke. Mr. Baird, who was graduated from Penn State in 1916, is supervising principal of the schools at New Albany.

Work has begun by the state highway to eliminate several dangerous curves in the road just this side State College. To do this a stretch of new road about one-half mile in length will be built. The new road will start at the first curve east of the borough limits and lead along the hill side on the north spring and creek to a point on the Thompson estate east of the narrow bridge. Not only will the curves and bridge be eliminated, but the stretch of the disposal plant as well.

The writer had the pleasure to meet Mr. Ness, editor of the Mifflinburg Telegraph, who with his wife and Ralph Kerstetter, linotype operator in the Telegraph office, were entertained at the Milton Stover home, near Coburn, on Sunday. The Telegraph has been greatly improved mechanically and otherwise under the present ownership and the job department of the office has also been improved in its equipment. After spending the greater part of the day with their friends at Coburn, Mr. and Mrs. Ness induced Mr. and Mrs. Stover and Miss Marion, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kerstetter, of Coburn; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stover, of Mifflinburg, and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith and children, of Centre Hall, to accompany them to Mifflinburg to hear the Sunday evening radiophone program through the instrument installed in the Telegraph office.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

We are having the longest day of the year right now.

The Presbyterian congregation at Reedsville have let a contract for the erection of a new manse.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Delaney had a new player piano placed in their home on the farm at Old Fort.

New Edison records and instruments, both disc and cylinder, at Hartner's Music Store, Bellefonte. Call soon.

Friends in Centre Hall of Miss Eloise Schuyler, learned this week that she expects to sail for Europe in a very short time, to remain until the fall months.

The final count of votes in the Eighteenth Congressional district finds Focht short just 24 votes. This gives Edward M. Beers, of Huntingdon, the nomination.

Big time at Boalsburg today (Thursday). It is the time of the annual meeting of the Centre County Conservation Association, and a really big time is planned.

Any evening you get to Bellefonte you will find the Scenic open and a fine reel running. It is an ideal place to spend an hour. The pictures furnish instruction as well as amusement.

A Chevrolet touring car was dealt by Domes S. Ishler to a Tyrone party for a Ford sedan, which he later sold to a gentleman in the vicinity of Woodward. A new Chevrolet touring car was then purchased by Mr. Ishler.

A. L. Duck, of Spring Mills, put the finishing touches on the Penns Valley Banking company's building. The building was painted and penciled on the exterior, and now presents a decidedly changed appearance for the better.

F. E. Wieland, of Linden Hall, is assisting in placing the fixtures in the new bank. Mr. Wieland is vice president of the institution and is anxious to have the banking quarters ready on the day—July first—set for the formal opening.

Decker Brothers, of Spring Mills, inform the Reporter that they sold and delivered this season 85 Chevrolet automobiles and 8 Oldsmobiles. This would seem to indicate that they have been giving strict attention to business.

Miss Helen Gregory, of Wilkes-Barre, was the guest of Miss Ruth Smith for a week or more, and a few days ago both ladies left for Wilkes-Barre, and will spend a few weeks in that locality and also visit points in New York state, among girl friends who were students at Bloomsburg Normal at the same time.

The local fire company is having couplings made so that in case of emergency the Bellefonte fire companies can attach their equipments to the fire plug, a here. While it is hoped that the neighboring fire companies will never need to be called upon to give their services, it is well to prepare for just such an emergency.

Mr. and Mrs. James Spicher and son James, of Altoona, were guests of Mrs. Spicher's sister, Mrs. H. J. Lambert, for a few days. Mr. Spicher is a railroad engineer and has about eighteen months service due until he will be eligible to the retired list. It is thirty years since he left Penns Valley to engage in railroading.

Rev. Walter H. Traub, formerly Lutheran pastor at State College, and since then at Hughesville, will become pastor of the Christ Lutheran church, York. The congregation has a membership of 1200. He will enter upon his new charge the middle of August. Christ church, York, was served for forty years by Dr. George W. Enders, who died about a year ago.

In the state-wide judging contests conducted at State College last Thursday Centre county boys placed very well. David Hosterman, of Spring Mills, made the highest individual score in dairy cattle judging. Fred Segal tied for fourth place in farm crops. The swine fitting team—David Hosterman, Eugene Segal and Fred Segal—all of Spring Mills, placed third.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meyer were agreeably surprised to have a brief visit from their niece, Mrs. Alvin Long, and her husband, of San José, California, the latter part of last week. The couple came to Wisconsin to attend a national gathering of advertisers and then came on east. From Tyrone they were brought to Centre Hall by John D. Meyer, who took them to Lancaster, where Mr. Meyer attended the 1900 class reunion at Franklin & Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Heckman and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corbin, and Miss Tacy Kreamer, of Johnstown, were guests for a few days at the home of Mrs. Heckman's father, H. W. Kreamer, in Centre Hall. Mr. Heckman is manager of the Penn-Traffic company and his son-in-law is the advertising manager of the same company. The party also visited Mr. Heckman's parents at Lamar before returning home.

Stricken With Paralysis.

While sitting in the office connected with the Foreman grain and coal house, Robert D. Foreman, the proprietor, Monday afternoon, was stricken with paralysis, affecting the entire left side. He was taken to his home in a motor car and was put under the care of Dr. G. I. Yearick. His condition as the Reporter went to press was not improved.

Henry—Campbell.

On June 17th, at the Reformed parsonage, Boalsburg, Roy C. Henry, of Graysville, and Madeline Campbell, of Penna. Furnace, were quietly united in marriage by Rev. S. C. Stover. Mr. Henry will engage in farming on his father's farm, that of Wilson Henry, at Graysville. The bride is the daughter of Robert Campbell, of Penna. Furnace.

Ten of Centre County's Armenian Orphans Still Unprovided for!

Miss Margaret Reid, a returned relief worker, says: "The Armenians have a quaint expression they use when they want you to give them something. It is, 'Think for me.' They say, 'My child need clothes; think for him,' or, 'My child is hungry; will you think for him?' And so when I left Marash, Turkey, many of these people said to me, 'You are going to America. Please carry our love and gratitude to the American people and tell them to think for us.' This is the message I bring to you mothers with sweet, wee babies in your arms: 'Think for the mothers of Armenia.' I have had them come to me on cold and stormy days, show me their little naked babies and beg for a piece of cloth, even a piece of burlap. Last year I was able to give them a bit of flannel and some little cotton clothes, and I was able to do this simply because the people of America had sent cloth and clothes and money. This year there is not enough money going over seas to do anything for those mothers and babies. You fathers and mothers of lovely, laughing, rosy boys and girls, will you 'think for' the pitiful little waifs, driven from home, lost from dearly loved fathers and mothers? America has been generous, but we must continue to think, and think hard, for these kiddies if they are to be kept through this desperate time."

Will Centre county think hard enough to send in to the treasurer, Mr. Charles McCurdy, Bellefonte, before July 1st, the $600 needed to keep in the orphanage the last ten of the little children left in our charge?

Saved Money on Wool.

Eighty-eight Centre county farmers marketed their wool through the Centre County Sheep & Wool Growers' Assoc. a saving of 7c to 15c per pound, depending upon the local price offered and the grade of wool produced. Co-operative marketing on a graded basis gives the producer of good clean wool the value of that kind of wool and places a penalty on neglect and carelessness in winter management of the farm flock.

That grading of wool is an incentive to better care and management is forcibly indicated by the percentage of rejections on off grade wools from 5.2 per cent in 1921 to 1.9 per cent in the wool just marketed last week. There is still considerable room for improvement as the percentage of rejections in the average clip of wool should be less than one per cent.
