Endorse University Plan.

The Centre county students at Penn State taking the summer course, in a resolution passed, after enumerating purposes of the campaign and citing the necessity of turning away college applicants each year for want of accommodations as a further reason for their support, stated that they "unqualifiedly endorse the plan for expansion, urge that every proper means be exercised to achieve the change of the college to the State University, and pledge their fullest loyalty and support to the $2,000,000 Building Fund Campaign."

The Department of Forestry expects to build an additional fire lookout tower in the Penn State Forest. The tower will be 60 feet high, and will be erected on the summit of Middle Ridge, two miles south of Wagner. It will be known as the Shade Mountain tower. A forest fire observer on the top of this tower will be able to locate forest fires in four adjacent State Forest districts.

THE DEATH RECORD.

FLEISHER—Jared B. Fleisher died at his home in Jamestown, New York, where he has lived for many years. He was the son of the late Daniel Fleisher and was born in Potter township, but left home many years ago to make his fortune in the oil fields of northern Pennsylvania and southern New York, and in this unlike many others he was successful. He was married three times, but outlived his wives. There survive two children—May, from a union of the first wife, and Leonore, a daughter of the last wife. Mr. Fleisher is also survived by two brothers—Daniel, of Monitor, Washington, and Isaiah, of Philadelphia. He had been in delicate health for some months previous to his death. He was aged between 83 and 85 years.

DRUMM—Mrs. Maggie S. Drumm died at her home at Plum Creek, near Sunbury, last Friday night after a long illness. She had been confined to her home since last August. Death was due to a complication.

She was born and reared in Union county, near New Berlin, and reached the age of 73 years. Surviving are eight children: Prof. C. E. Drumm, superintendent of schools in Wilkes-Barre; P. N. and A. J., at home; Miss Annie, Northumberland; Mrs. (Rev.) Goss, West Milton; W. L. Sellingsrove; Rev. M. C., pastor of the Lutheran church at Centre Hall; Oscar L., at home.

BARTO—Jacob Barto, one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of the western part of the county, was found dead in his bath room at 6 o'clock morning of July 11th, death being due to heart trouble.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Van Barto, who were pioneer settlers of Tadpole valley, where he was born on December 26, 1843. When the call came in the early sixties he enlisted as a member of Co. C, 49th Pa. Vol., and engaged in some of the fiercest battles of the war. June 27, 1862, he was shot through the back during a battle. His comrade, Charles Smith, attended to his needs and left him in the hands of the rebels where he was a prisoner until exchanged, July, 1863. He was honorably discharged and returned home to follow his occupation of farming. In 1865 he was married to Jane Ellenberger, of Marengo. Six children were born to them. He was a member of the M. E. church, true to his God and family, and loyal to his country. His remains were laid to rest in the Ross churchyard on the 13th, Rev. Hoover officiating.

KERSTETTER—Emanuel Kerstetter, one of Penn township's most highly esteemed and aged citizens, died Tuesday afternoon of last week at his home just south of Millheim, following a few days' illness caused by congestion of the bowels, aged 77 years, 8 months and 11 days.

Mr. Kerstetter was a life-long resident of Penn township, following farming as an occupation until about ten years ago when he retired from active work and moved to the home where he died. His wife died August 5, 1920, but he is survived by nine daughters and two sons, as follows: Miss Lizzie, at home; Mrs. N. F. Braucht, of Dewart; Mrs. Nora Hasterman, of Coburn; Mrs. L. L. Weaver, of Millheim; Mrs. J. M. Lynn and Mrs. W. T. Korman, of Coburn; Mrs. Frank Miller, of Millheim; Mrs. P. L. Stover, of Duncannon; Mrs. Reese Auman, at home; C. F. Kerstetter, of Montgomery; and P. S. Kerstetter, of Liverpool. Two brothers—John, of State College, and Daniel, of near Coburn—also survive out of a family of eight.

Funeral services were held at the family residence on Saturday forenoon at 10 o'clock, and interment was made in Fairview cemetery at Millheim.

GARNER—Samuel Garner died at his home at State College as the result of general debility. He was a son of Samuel and Anna Garner and was born in College township, eighty-four years ago. His wife has been dead for some years but surviving him are two sons and four daughters: John and Fred Garner, Mrs. Anna Krumrine, Mrs. Mildred Fowler and Mrs. W. P. Rothrock, of State College, and Mrs. Alexander, of Canonsburg. Funeral services were held at his late home, burial being made in the Branch cemetery.

Annual Field Day at Millheim.

The annual Field Day of the Keystone Post No. 444, American Legion, to be held at Millheim, Saturday, July 29th, promises a delightful outing for all who attend. The program consists of a rifle match in the morning; a field meet at one o'clock, in which there will be track events and novelty races; a baseball game between Millheim and the Episcopal League team, leaders of the city league of Lewistown, which promises to be one of the hottest games ever played in Millheim; and in the evening a festival. There will be music by three bands and the usual amusements. As an added attraction a cash prize of $10.00 will be given away during the evening.

August Milk Prices Higher.

Producers' milk prices for August will be practically one cent a quart higher than those prevailing for July, according to the recommendation of the board of directors of the Dairy-men's League Cooperative Assoc., Inc. The June price for Class 1 milk testing three per cent at the 201-210 mile zone was $1.75. The July price for the same class was $2.22, and the price for August as recommended by the League means another 1c per quart raise, or $2.69.

PINE GROVE MILLS.

Picnics and festivals are in order. Barns are not large enough to house the bumper crops.

H. S. Hingsworth is sporting a new Ford car.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, of Centre Hall, were Sunday guests of the J. H. Williams family.

Schools will open the first Tuesday in September for an eight months term.

Squire E. H. Auman, merchant miller, is housed up nursing a fractured knee caused by a fall.

Wm. B. Fry is off duty nursing a broken arm caused by back kick in cranking a car.

Prof. A. L. Bowersox is making wry faces because of a carbuncle on the back of his neck.

After a month's visit at Freeport, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Homan returned home, making the trip in their Studebaker car.

John B. Walls, of Tyrone, spent Saturday evening in town mingling with the lodge men's banquet after the regular session.

Mrs. James Hoover, of Snow Hill, Maryland, accompanied by her daughter Mary, are visiting relatives and friends in the valley.

William Gates has purchased the steam thresher outfit from the Harpster brothers and will take part of their last season's run in the western end of the county.

Fred B. Goss, of Braddock, is visiting his sick mother, Mrs. A. F. Goss. He has resigned a responsible position with the U. S. Steel company to accept a responsible position with Jones & Laughlin Steel company. Good boy, Fred.

Milo Campbell and family, I. O. Campbell and family and Warren Bailey made a cross country tour via Everett to the famous battlefield at Gettysburg the latter part of the week. They were perfectly delighted with the trip.

The venerable Henry Potter, of Centre Hall, in his new Chevrolet car, accompanied by Miss Bertha Campbell, last Thursday visited the I. O. Campbell home near Meek's Church, and on the way home collided with the big bus on the State highway in the Glades, smashing a front wheel and badly twisting the car, so that it had to be taken to the garage for repairs.

Mary, wife of Dr. Hugh L. Fry, of Jackson, Miss., with her two interesting little daughters have been spending the summer among home folks at Plymouth and Danville. They are now visiting relatives in Centre county. Later they will spend some time with relatives in Pittsburgh before taking their departure for their home in the Southland, where the doctor has been engaged in Government work.

SPRING MILLS

Robert Bron, of Horseheads, N. Y., was a visitor here for a short time. Miss Williams, of California, is visiting at the C. G. Decker home. Mrs. Jane Sylvia, of Aaronsburg, spent Monday in town with friends. Henry Hettlinger and wife, of Altoona, are visiting relatives and friends. S. U. Bitner and wife, of Avis, spent Sunday with Mrs. Bitner's sister, Mrs. Benjamin Hackenberg. William Rossman, of Philadelphia, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rossman. Ora Wagner and Madeline Finkle attended the festival at Coburn on Saturday evening.

The many friends of Matthias Weagley were surprised to hear of his death on Sunday night. Although he had been sick for quite a while, his passing away was a shock to all. He was well liked and had the respect of all his neighbors and friends.

Quite a number attended the Eastern Star picnic, held on Orange Park on Friday. Among them were: Mr. and Mrs. Hoher Fetterolf, H. F. Rossman, wife and son William, Mrs. (Dr.) H. S. Braucht, Mrs. Dean Braucht, Mrs. C. P. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Finkle, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Condo and family, Misses Eric Decker, Miriam Shook, Louise and Kathleen Bowes of Buffalo, N. Y.; Master Allison Musser. They reported a good time and hope to go back next year.

In a recent issue of the Chicago Daily News, under the head of "Views on Many Topics," Dr. Alfred Healy strongly advocates the establishment of a central beach to be located between the Chicago municipal pier and the breakwater to the north.
