The Lowest Priced QUALITY Roadster

$525 f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

The Chevrolet Roadster is a car that can be used purely for business, purely for personal service, or in an ideal combination of both.

It is intensely practical as a business car. For salesmen it will serve splendidly to multiply earning power, making possible the covering of a much larger territory and more calls in a given time.

It has the fine appearance that carries prestige, which is another point in its favor as a business car. And then it is the cheapest in price of any car in America, quality and equipment considered.

And because it is the car of lowest operating cost, it becomes the cheapest in cost per year of service of any car in the world.

"If you feel that way, why did you propose to the woman?"
"I didn't. She proposed to me."
"But you could have refused her."
"No, I couldn't. She said 'y'll marry me? Have you any objection? So whether I'd said 'Yes' or 'No,' she had me either way."
"Well, you shouldn't have answered her."
"I didn't, so she said, 'Silence gives consent,' and that settled it."

ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE DOES IT

When shoes pinch or corns and bunions ache, get a package of ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes. It takes the sting out of corns and bunions, gives instant relief to smarting, aching, swollen feet. 1,600,000 pounds of powder for the feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war.—Advertisement.

AGREED

They were talking about a mutual acquaintance and the first man was full of praise.

"Smart-chap, that, and a nice fellow to boot," he said.

The second man had just received evidence of the smartness in question and was still sore about it.

"You're quite right," he said. "He would be a nice fellow—to boot."—London Tit-Bits.

Departure From Form.

"I understand your prospects of reelection are not as bright as usual."
"Not nearly," admitted Senator Sorghum.

Johnny's Quibble.

"Pa, how far can a dog run into the woods?"

"What a foolish question! As far as he wants to, of course."

"No, he can't. He can only run as far as the middle; after that he's running out of the woods."

The Big Test.

"Do you think a politician is excusable for prevaricating?"

"He is," replied Senator Sorghum, "if he's willing to stay a politician all his life. If he wants to be a statesman he's got to have the ability to tell the truth and get away with it."

A Delicate Question.

"Can you tell me precisely what time of day it is?" asked the man in a hurry.

"Ah," rejoined Senator Sorghum, "that is now one of those delicate questions of public interest on which I refuse to be interviewed offhand."

Too Much of a Good Thing.

"What seems to be the trouble between the Joneses?"

"Oh, everything was lovely until Jones had three or four one night and went home and told his wife she was the third most beautiful woman in the world."

No Delusion After All.

ATLAS PORTLAND CEMENT

MORE cars are destroyed by fire each year in the garage than on the open road. As much money is spent in garage rent each year as would adequately build new garages for all cars involved.

There are two answers to this situation. Own your own garage. Build of fire-proof materials.

Your building material dealer can tell you how to build most economically and permanently. He will tell you Atlas Portland Cement is "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."

ASSYRIANS NOT SO ROUGH

Were More Humane Than Popularly Fabled, Says Professor Who Has Studied Their Laws.

The Assyrian is popularly recalled as coming down "like a wolf on the fold." But one provision of the Assyrian code of laws indicates that the Assyrians are more humane than they are popularly fabled. This requires that the destitute widow be supported by her sons "as the bride whom one loves."

Instead of the Assyrians being wholly abject, their letters, says Prof. A. F. Olmstead, of the University of Illinois, show high officials speaking their minds with the greatest plainness, the kings making pathetic appeals to those whose support they would win. Their imperial free cities were as free as those in western Europe in the Middle Ages, with charters of freedom from taxes, and trading rights to the four corners of the earth and to all tongues.

GETS CLOCK, BUT NOT "TIME"

Court Robbed of Imposing Timepiece Under its Very Eyes and With Its Permission.

Thousands of law-breakers have been given "time" at Berlin's central criminal court in Moabit, but recently an ingenious crook posing as a repair man actually was given the court's official clock and that while a case was being tried.

The sitting was well under way when a man in working clothes entered the courtroom with a long ladder which he calmly placed under the huge, imposing timepiece on the wall. The judge, counsel, accused and spectators were astounded at such an unprecedented interruption. The president stopped the workman's ascent of his ladder long enough to inquire the meaning of his conduct. The visitor explained that he merely wanted to get the clock for repair and that it would take only a moment. The president objected, but consented when the man said he already had called six times and always found the court in session.

The vacant space on the wall surprised the janitor later in the day, and his investigations revealed that the court had been robbed under its very eyes, in fact, with its permission.

DON'T OBSERVE 8-HOUR DAY

Law is No Longer Popular With Workmen in Hamburg, Germany, Says Writer.

Keener competition is causing a decided swing away from many post-war pet ideas in Germany. Even the eight-hour law is no longer popular, Frederick Simpich writes in Our World. The labor inspection bureau in a recent report pictures the trouble its enforcement is bringing as Hamburg's economic condition improved. Employers complain that laborers of both sexes, after an eight-hour day, undertake to do outside work for other people—which cuts down their efficiency on their regular job. Workers, on the other hand, consider it an interference with their personal liberty if their employers try to hold them to the eight-hour plan. Although the law was passed to safeguard the health of the workers, they appear to have lost sight of its real intention, and the authorities show reluctance to prosecute cases of its violation. In the hotels and cafes, especially, it has been difficult to enforce the eight-hour day; waiters are loath to give up their chances for more tips during overtime.

Since the British occupation of the Rhine, 138 noncommissioned officers and men have married German girls.

Back to the Grain Fields for Health

GRAPE-NUTS is a regular "three bags full" of the best food qualities of whole wheat flour and malted barley, carefully mixed and slowly baked—

- To develop all their appetizing flavor,
- To preserve all their wholesomeness,
- And to provide nature's "broom" that keeps the digestive system spick and span.

There's not a bit of artificial sweetening in Grape-Nuts—it just becomes sweet of its own accord in the long baking.

And that enticing flavor—how good it is with good milk or cream! Fruits, too, fresh or cooked, add to the delight of a dish of Grape-Nuts, morning, noon or sundown.

It is a compact, ready-to-eat food—no cooking needed. Why not try it for tomorrow's breakfast?
