DEATH RECORD.

HARTER.—George Harter died at his home in Howard, after an illness of but two days with uremia, Friday evening at 5:40 o'clock. Interment took place Monday forenoon at Jacksonville, the officiating minister being his pastor, Rev. Gass, of the Reformed church, of which denomination the deceased was a life-long member and active in all lines of church work.

Mr. Harter filled many offices of trust, having been connected with Howard township in an official capacity during the greater part of his life. He was a Democrat in politics and at the time of his death was the minority member of the board of county commissioners, having been elected in 1919. He was also a director in the First National Bank of Howard, and was held in high esteem by all, especially in the community in which he was best acquainted.

The county officials attended the funeral in a body and were the honorary pall bearers. The floral tributes were many and most elaborate, and the funeral was said to have been the largest of any held in that section of the county for many years.

Mr. Harter was the father of twelve children, nine of whom with the mother, survive. His age was fifty-eight years.

LIMBERT.—Mrs. Flora Limbert, wife of Harvey Limbert, died at her home in Rebersburg, Sunday evening, aged 59 years, 10 months and 19 days. Death was due to cancer from which she had suffered for some years. Interment will be made at Rebersburg today (Thursday). The deceased was a daughter of William Greninger and was born in Clinton county. Her husband and two sons survive.

GENTZEL.—Mrs. Amanda Gentzel, wife of the late Benjamin Gentzel, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Cole, in Chicago, aged 67 years. Mrs. Gentzel was born at Zion and lived in that vicinity the most of her life time before going to Chicago. Besides the daughter named above she is survived by a brother, Harvey P. Schaeffer, of Bellefonte, and a half sister, Mrs. Newton Brungard, of Zion. She was the daughter of the late John Schaeffer.

Services were held at Chicago prior to the shipment of the body to Bellefonte for interment and at the latter place services were conducted by Rev. W. P. Ard and by members of the Eastern Star.

KISTER.—Benjamin Franklin Kister died at his home at Ridgway. He was 68 years old and had been in ill health three years. He was stricken with apoplexy a third time a few days prior to his death.

Mr. Kister, a veteran printer, was born in Aaronsburg in 1853 and learned the trade at 18 in the Centre Reporter office, now the Centre Reporter, when the paper was published in Aaronsburg.

Later he learned the shoemaking trade and was employed at that vocation in Millheim for a number of years. About fifteen years ago he decided to re-enter the printing business and was employed on the Reporter a short time. Later he worked in Clearfield, Altoona, Buffalo, and Millburg and in 1912 went to Ridgway, where he was since employed by the Ridgway Publishing company.

His widow, who was Clara Reighard, survives with two sons—Harry and Clarence, both of Huston, Texas, and one daughter, Helen, wife of W. H. Knopsnyder, of Ridgway. Two brothers and two sisters also survive—George W. Kister, of Aaronsburg; Thomas, of Boyertown; Mrs. Howard Acker, of Aaronsburg, and Mrs. Margaret Musser, of Millheim.

Funeral services were held at his home and interment was made at Ridgway.

TATE.—Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Tate, wife of Rankin Tate, died at her home at Pleasant Gap on Wednesday afternoon of last week, following a week's illness as the result of uremic poisoning.

She was the daughter of Harry and Clara Hartline and was born in Spring township on June 19, 1906, hence was only 22 years, 1 month and 29 days old. She was a member of the Evangelical church and during her severe illness bore her suffering with christian fortitude and a sublime faith in the life to come.

She married Rankin Tate and he survives with her parents and two brothers, Byron Edward and William Glenn Hartline. She also leaves many friends who deeply mourn her untimely death.

Funeral services were held at her late home Saturday morning by Rev. M. C. Piper, assisted by Rev. Kepler, after which burial was made in the Lutheran cemetery at Pleasant Gap.

REAM.—Michael Ream, an esteemed resident of Millheim, died following a prolonged illness. He was born in Gregg township on January 18, 1850, and was therefore 72 years, 6 months and 16 days of age. He was a hard worker up to several years ago when a nervous ailment with which he was

AUGUST 25TH BIG DAY AT STATE COLLEGE.

Corner Stone Laying for $200,000 Hospital—Gift of Potato Growers—Bands, Basket Picnic, Etc.

Friday, August 25th, will be the greatest agricultural day in the history of the Pennsylvania State College. It will be of particular interest to the potato growers of Pennsylvania for on that day will be laid the corner stone of the magnificent $200,000 hospital which these men have given to the students of Pennsylvania's only state institution of higher learning. This building will stand for generations as a tribute to the potato industry of Pennsylvania.

The ground breaking ceremony will begin at 1:00 p. m. when Dr. D. D. Fritch of Lehigh county, representing the potato growers of Pennsylvania, will lift the first shovel of ground to be followed by H. C. McCallum, president of the State Potato Growers' Association; Mr. Dewey, State Lecturer, representing the Grange; a boy elected to represent the boys' potato club work, and Dr. J. M. Thomas, representing the Penna. State College; Hon. G. C. Jordan, of Lawrence county; presentation of pledges from the Pennsylvania Potato Growers to the Trustees of the Penna. State College and Dr. Thomas as a member of the board of trustees; acceptance of the pledges.

Throughout the entire day there will be on exhibit and for demonstration all kinds of the latest machinery used in potato production and marketing, such as planters, cultivators, sprayers, diggers, graders, etc.

There will be about five thousand of the best potato growers from every county in Pennsylvania at the College on the 25th. Most of them will come in auto tours from their county and several counties are bringing their own band.

There will be a basket picnic in the College woods at noon.

Come and bring your basket.

Horner House Burned.

The farm house on the Horner farm, on top of Nittany Mountain, was completely destroyed by fire Saturday evening about ten o'clock. The farm is owned by George J. Horner, who with his wife and son Samuel make up the family. The best information obtainable is to the effect that the fire originated through an oil lamp exploding. There was no insurance. The son was at the Mountain restaurant that night and knew nothing of the fire until he was near enough home to see the place had been laid waste by the flames.

"Knocked Out of Conception."

From Belleville Times. In the old stone house in Manns Narrows lives Mr. Fye. The old gentleman is a former Centre countian, and he has been working on the State highway. Mr. Fye came from the valley wherein is that noted seat of learning known as Penn State College. However it never was of any value to him, because he can neither read nor write. A few days back he had the misfortune to be run down by a careless auto driver, the result being that he has to limp about with a stick. As he alighted from a trolley car he was asked, what is wrong? and his reply was, "An automobile hit me and nearly knocked me out of conception."

County Grange Meeting.

A regular quarterly meeting of the Centre County Pomona Grange will be held at Pleasant Gap, Saturday of this week, in Logan Grange hall. All members are urged to be present and bring their lunch with them.

BOALSBURG.

Mrs. Mary Goben entertained at dinner Sunday Mrs. (Dr.) Woods and her son, William, and Prof. James Bryson and wife, and Miss Helen Bryson. Prof. Bryson and family will soon return to their home at Derry.

Ben Weaver and wife visited Mrs. Weaver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lucas, Tuesday.

Union out-door services Sunday at 6:45. Rev. Kirkpatrick of the Presbyterian church will preach.

The Men's Bible Class of the Lutheran Sunday-school held their annual corn roast last week in McFarlane's grove.

A few of our people are taking in Old Home Week at Altoona: D. W. Meyers, Miss Beulah Fortney, Mr. and Mrs. Tennis, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Meyer.

Dr. Grant Keller and two sons, from Madison, Wisconsin, and Dr. Kreider, of Ohio, motored from the west to Boalsburg, arriving here Wednesday evening of last week. Dr. Keller is a brother of Mrs. L. Mgtersbaugh, and lived in Boalsburg in his boyhood days. Dr. Kreider is visiting his aunt, Mrs. George Kaup. They will return west in a few days.

afflicted for many years incapacitated him. He was married to Candace Weaver, who survives with two children—William, of Williamsport, and Mrs. W. H. Breen, of Millheim. One brother and a sister also survive—Samuel Ream, of York, and Mrs. Sue Long, of Penns Cave.
