

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Tracy Kreamer, of Johnstown, is at the home of her father, H. W. Kreamer, in Centre Hall.

Miss Emma Eckel, of Reading, is the guest of her friend, Miss Margaret Emery, during this week.

C. F. Deininger, who holds a position in the Department of Labor and Industry, Harrisburg, is in town this week.

Rev. G. W. McKinlay, former pastor of the Penna Valley M. E. charge, is the guest of the C. D. Bartholomew family.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foss, of Altoona, are at the Emery home for the week. Mr. Foss is managing a large barber shop in Altoona and looks fit to "kill."

Mrs. James B. Lingle, of Bethany, W. Va., and sister, Mrs. William Harter, of Altoona, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Lingle in their new home on Hoffer street.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reese, of Johnstown, is at the home of her son, William Reese, in Centre Hall. Theodore Anderson, of Johnstown, is also a guest at the same place.

Milhelm and Howard engaged in a fierce struggle on the baseball diamond at Hecla Park, on Labor Day, Howard defeating Milhelm, with Eugene Grammeley in the box, by the score of 2 to 1.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ocker, of Lewisburg, are rooming and boarding with W. F. Floray during this week to greet their many acquaintances who annually come to Centre Hall during Grange Encampment and Fair.

Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Hollenbach, of Aaronburg, attended the annual pilgrimage to Old Buffalo Cross Roads Presbyterian church, where State Librarian Donohue and Dr. Kennedy, editor of "The Presbyterian," made addresses.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Brumbaugh, of Altoona, form a camping party on Grange Park. The Wagner family is well known to many of the Reporter readers, the head of it being a native of Potter township.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hipple and Mr. and Mrs. Karr, all of Baltimore, are at the home of Mrs. Hipple's mother, Mrs. Ellen Meeker, in Centre Hall. Mr. Hipple, who was in the hotel business, opened a garage recently, and Mr. Karr is a salesman of the Oldsmobile.

An Olds-6 carried Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lambert and sons from Kenmore, Ohio, to Centre Hall, a distance of 345 miles, on Saturday. They are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Musser, east of town, Mrs. Musser being a sister of Mr. Lambert. Mr. Lambert is employed in a rubber factory in the Ohio town.

Report comes from the Bellefonte hospital that Charles Smith, of Centre Hill, who a few days ago underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils, is improving nicely. Mr. Smith is a son of Postmaster E. M. Smith and lives on his farm. He was taken to the hospital by his uncle, Lloyd Smith.

Elston and Stanford Snyder, sons of Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Snyder, of Hellam, York county, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Daup in Centre Hall. The former is now a student in Temple University, Philadelphia, having taken up higher accounting, and the latter is in a business office in York. It is ten years since the Snyder family left Centre Hall.

J. Frank Ross and family, of Pittsburgh, the latter part of last week, moved to the farm sold to him by his sister, Mrs. Lettie Goodhart, between Old Fort and Spring Mills. The farm is a portion of the Ross homestead. It was somewhat of a surprise to learn that Mr. Ross, who since a young man was engaged in the Pittsburgh district, should turn farmer.

One of the successful music teachers in Penna Valley is Luther Musser, of Spring Mills, who now has a class of something like fifty students in instrumental music. Mr. Musser is a hustler and is always on hand at the hour of his appointments. He has been following his profession for many years, but is regarded as proficient as ever. He has been engaged to teach several singing classes during the coming winter.

A chest bought at Rebersburg when Mrs. Sarah Wolf made sale of personal property was just lifted by C. H. Meyer, of Reedsville. When examined it was found to have the name of Jacob Wolfe and date of 1726 written on the interior. Jacob Wolfe was one of the forefathers of the late William Wolf, for many years a resident of Centre Hall. The chest is in fine condition and is highly prized by its present owner.

The electric light company installed a sub-station back of the Methodist church, in Centre Hall, which will largely aid in giving Centre Hall a better service. Heretofore all troubles between Pleasant Gap and Millheim meant a cutting off of all service between those points. With the installation of the new sub-station any trouble east of town will not affect Centre Hall, as it now has the benefit of the three-phase system of 23,000 volts.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snyder, of Sunbury, were guests of Miss Mary Fisher, at her home in Centre Hall, beginning of the week.

Miss Margaret Crafton, of Snow Shoe, and Miss Ethel Frank, of State College, are spending this week at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kryder Frank, in Centre Hall. Miss Ethel has been employed at State College since last spring.

On Monday L. O. Packer returned to Pittsburgh to enter upon his tenth year as teacher of mathematics in the Allegheny High school. He is also director of athletics in the High school in which line as well as in the class room he has proven his worth. For several years he was also principal of an evening High school, but from this position he has resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Krepps, of Huntingdon, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Cathryn, to Samuel Howard Shelley, on Tuesday, September 5th, at Huntingdon. Mrs. Shelley is a registered nurse and has numerous friends in Centre Hall and Spring Mills, who will wish her much happiness.

George P. Irvin, our popular stockman, attended the community sale at Bellefonte on Saturday. A big crowd was in attendance but bidding was not very spirited.

J. C. Kellar, of Charter Oak, was in town Friday purchasing a suitable rig to carry the school children to and from school in the Charter Oak district.

Little George, grandson of George McWilliams, was taken to the Bellefonte hospital Saturday to be operated on for appendicitis.

Frank and Daniel Koch were in town for a brief time Friday, greeting old chums. Back in the 90's Dan. was one of our popular school teachers; he now resides at Sunbury. Frank spent twenty-five years in the regular army, mostly in China and in the Philippines. He was recently honorably discharged.

A reception was tendered Lester Goheen and his bride, Louise Marsh, married in Philadelphia, August 28th. Seventy-five of the clan gathered at the R. G. Goheen home at Baileyville to greet the newlyweds, Saturday, 5 p. m., when the wedding feast was served. They were the recipients of many useful gifts. After a brief wedding tour in Centre county they will go to Jacksonville, Fla., where they will reside.

News from Presbyterian Manse.

Last Thursday evening the Men's Bible Class of the Presbyterian church of Pine Grove Mills motored to Centre Hall and spent the evening with the Kirkpatrick family. These men were accompanied with their wives and lady friends. Although it was not possible for all to attend, their numbers reached the famous twenty-three mark. We missed the presence of Dr. George Woods, who is the teacher of the class, and others who were not able to be present.

Dr. Fry, who was a captain in the Civil war, had to look after Messrs. Balley and Barr, elders of the church, so they would get home right side up with care. When several hours had been spent in gaming and masticating cakes furnished by the ladies and meeting ice cream which was home-made, they were whirled back to their homes by the means of their gas buggies.

Mr. and Mrs. David Parker, of Juniata, were Sunday visitors at the Presbyterian Manse last week, and Miss Dora Parker, who is a daughter of the banker and his wife, remained in Centre Hall till Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Haugh and son Hubert, of State College, spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Marie Kirkpatrick, and Mrs. Haugh is remaining over to enjoy the picnic.

Rev. S. J. Taylor, D. D., of Altoona, will address those who are in attendance at the Presbyterian church on Sunday, at 2:45 p. m. He is sent to us by the Anti-Saloon League. We are anxious that many from Centre Hall will hear this address.

MILHEIM.

(From the Journal.)
Mrs. P. H. Musser spent several days during the week-end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Ritchey, at York.

Mrs. R. W. Barber, of Millinburg, mother of Mrs. Hollenbach, spent the week-end with Rev. and Mrs. John S. Hollenbach at Aaronburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. O. Housman spent from Friday until Monday afternoon with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stover, at Milton.

Harry Ulrich, of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mrs. Agnes Kelley, of Atlantic City, N. J., were guests during the week of their aged father, George Ulrich.

J. W. Burns, of Shamokin, greeted Millheim friends several days last week. He was called here to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, J. Meads Schleifer, which was held last Thursday.

Frederick P. Gutelius, of Albany, N. Y., vice president of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, and family, were callers at the home of his cousin, Dr. Fred E. Gutelius, on Tuesday, while motoring through Penna Valley.

W. C. Mingle, of Akron, O., motored to Aaronburg one day last week and joined his wife who was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stover, for some time. He was accompanied by Wes, Wyle, who left Aaronburg seven years ago and located in Akron and this is his first visit to his home section.

Ben Franklin Took Poker into Paris.

In Paris poker was first introduced by Benjamin Franklin, first United States ambassador, who taught members of the court that poker had dominos beat a mile. To this day a group of white-haired Frenchmen, descendants of the club Franklin founded, meet every night at six o'clock on the first floor of the Tavern Royale and play poker, with many ejaculations and the most absorbed seriousness until it is time for dinner. They number among them two millionaires, the head of a famous dressmaking firm, a senator and a famous Socialist author, and they play with sous as chips and a limit of 50 centimes—about 7 cents at present rate of exchange—on the game.

One of Franklin's peculiarities was a contention that a flush beat a full house, and even now the majority of Frenchmen play that way.

Wood That Does Not Rot.

The wood of the mangrove tree, which is found in French Guiana, is considered by the French as a wood that will not rot. All exposure and efforts to break down its fiber in four years' experiments by the French railway service have been useless.

The grain of the wood is so close as practically to exclude all moisture. Its density is placed at 110, as against 40 for fir and 70 for oak. In addition to this closeness of fiber the mangrove has a large amount of tanning in its composition. This protects it from insects and such blights as mold and damp. While not as brittle as oak, it has twice the resistance to flexion and has about the same potency against crushing and twisting.

No Exchange.

"There's one thing about selling postage stamps," said the tired druggist.
"What is it?" asked the customer.
"There's no profit in the deal, of course, but it's one thing I sell that my customers don't bring back and want to exchange for something else."
—Detroit Free Press.

Embarrassment.

"Of course," remarked Senator Sorghum, "I was proud to have a vote so overwhelmingly in my favor. And yet it has its disadvantages."
"In what way?"
"I am compelled to feel a sense of obligation toward everybody who votes for me; and a landslide makes the number so great that I can scarcely keep up with the responsibilities."

The favorite avocation of a widely known surgeon is his model farm near Chicago. It pays no profit except great pleasure. He is hospitable, always asking friends to dinner. One Sunday about noon 14 unexpected guests arrived. His wife was agast. "My goodness," she said, "we haven't a thing to give them."
"Oh, anything will do," said the doctor.

So the lady of the house consulted the cook.

"What about that crate of pigeons out in the barn?" asked the cook.

"How many are there?" asked the lady.

"About eighteen," was the answer.

"Well, wring their necks and fix them up."

"Dinner was served and the large platter of squabs was brought to the table."

"What's that?" exclaimed the doctor.

"Now, Fred, just go ahead and serve," said his wife.

"But what are these?" he expostulated.

"Just some pigeons we found in the barn," she answered.

"Great Scott!" he exclaimed, "those pigeons cost $25 apiece!"—Journal of the American Medical Association.
