at Snyderfown a perplexing question presented itself. The query was why the cemetery should have no frontage on the public road. The explanation was given by Charles Romig, who although confined to bed for two years, and advanced in years, has an entirely clear mind. He stated that back in Spring Mills. 1812 that locality was in need of a church and school site and that John Beck, a Luthrean, and John Snyder, a Reformed, agreed to make the contributions. The gentlemen each owned a farm, the line between which ran Paul Swabb; Perry Lusenorth and south and through the center of the present cemetery and school lots. Each made an equal contribution of land, and so that each would have a part of the land contributed for both church and school purposes, the vided by a line running east and west, burg. the north section to be used as a church site and the south section for J. G. Shook, Spring Mills. school purposes.

A union church-Lutheran and Re- D. Jones, State College. 'ormed-was erected on the section designated, and a school house on the portion designated for school purposes. The school was controlled by tablishment of the public school system, the church school gave way to it. There is now a public school building erected on the south-west corner of the plot.

Later the church building was re moved, and since then the entire plot has been devoted to burial - purposes. the cemetery containing the bodies of both the donors of the land. The cemetery is now incorporated, and during the pastorate of Rev. Shultz an endowment fund was started and this Centre Halli line of work is being continued by Rev. Dingman, the present pastor.

From the best information obtainable the first body buried there was in 1821. A rule was early made that all children should be buried in a particular section, the purpose being to save the same space as an adult being con- Rishel. sidered wasteful of the fimited plot devoted to burial purposes.

It might be added by the way of a present day fact, that the cemetery is in a very presentable condition. Special attention must have been given the markers, all of which stand erect and REPUBLICAN MISMANAGE. are well fastened. This is also true where natural undressed stones were used for head and foot markers.

Sandoe-Fox.

wedding of Miss Helen Sandoe, doe, of Dallas avenue, Ingram, and Sylvester J. Fox, of the East End, took place at 9 o'clock this morning in the Sandoe home. There were no bridal attendants.

The prospective bride was the guest of honor at a luncheon given last Saturday in the Hotel Chatham by Miss Blanche Dermitt and Miss Fay Aiken Covers were laid for eight, and snapdragons and ferns were used as table decorations. The favors were cut glass bud vases.

The above is taken from the Chariters Valley Mirror of 9th inst. The bride will be recalled by many of the readers of this notice, who with the Reporter extend their best wishes.

Neff-Hampton.

The following is reprinted from the Antonito (Colorado) Ledger. The bride is a niece of William R, and Charles B. Neff, of near Centre Hall: A courtship covering a period of several years culminated in the marriage of Miss Sue Emmert Neff to Clinton A. Hampton last Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jas. B. Neff, Rev. Ton Steele, of the M. E. church of Alamosa officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by the bride's mother, her brother, Chas. E. Neff, and a party of invited guests, all of whom partook of an elegant wedding supper immediately after the ceremony. The bride and groom left for Hinton, Okla., where Mr. Hampton is engaged in the gro cery business and where they will make their future home

Mr. Hampton's very wise choice of a wife was probably made four years ago when Miss Neff graduated from the Antonito High school, of which Mr. Hampton was principal.

Since her graduation Mrs. Hampton has held a position in the Commercial State Bank where she developed extraordinary ability and won the high esteem of the officers of the institution.
