

Rheumatism and Dyspepsia Are Soon Ended

Victims of stomach trouble and rheumatism often find that when their stomach is set in order, the rheumatism disappears. Thousands of people everywhere have testified that Tanlac has freed them of both troubles simultaneously. Mr. Robert Trotter, 148 State St., St. Paul, Minn., says: "About a year ago I began to go down hill. Sour stomach and rheumatism in my arms and shoulders kept me in misery all the time. Since taking Tanlac all my aches and pains have gone, and my stomach is in fine shape. I'm glad to endorse such a fine medicine."

Badly digested food fills the whole system with poisons. Rheumatism and many other complaints not generally recognized as having their origin in the stomach quickly respond to the right treatment. Get a bottle today at any good druggist.—Advertisement.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Read This Letter from Mrs. W. S. Hughes

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter."—Mrs. W. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Delaware.

Mothers and oftentimes grandmothers have taken and have learned the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So they recommend the medicine to others. The best test of any medicine is what it has done for others. For nearly fifty years we have published letters from mothers, daughters, and women, young and old, recommending the Vegetable Compound. They know what it did for them and are glad to tell others. In your own neighborhood are women who know of its great value.

Mothers—daughters, why not try it?

SHEEP-KILLING DOG IS MENACE

Control by Legislation Is Urged by United States Department of Agriculture.

MICHIGAN LAW IS FAVORED

Good Points of Measure Would Be Valuable to Other States Not So Well Protected, Authority Asserts.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The sheep-killing dog is one of the greatest menaces to the sheepraising industry in the farming regions, says the United States Department of Agriculture, in Farmers' Bulletin 1268, Sheep-Killing Dogs, by M. W. Coll. Just off the press. All but five of the 29 pages are devoted to a discussion of the control of dogs by legislation and to digests of dog laws of the 48 states. Special attention is given to the Michigan law, which is thought to have many good points that might well be adopted by other states.

More Dog Laws Needed.

The sheep industry in this country has had many ups and downs in the last 50 years, and in 1922 there were only 36,000,000 sheep in the country as compared with 64,000,000 in 1903. This is a decrease of 43.7 per cent during a period when the population increased steadily. It is hardly probable that dogs are responsible for such a reduction, but, in the opinion of the author, there would be many more sheep in a great many farming sections if there were more good dog laws backed up by public opinion. The possibility of producing early-maturing lambs from a maximum of pasturage and inexpensive roughages, and the country's need for an increased supply of meat and wool, he cites as reasons why sheep production should be one of the most profitable enterprises of the farm.

He Should Be Protected.

Bulletin Is Available.

In addition to the discussion of laws, the bulletin devotes some attention to the habits of sheep killers, to dog-proof and wolf-proof fences, and suggests how dog lovers may aid in preserving the reputation of the respectable members of the species. The bulletin may be obtained free by addressing the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

INTEREST IN BETTER STOCK

Purebred-Sire Movement Is Making Rapid Growth; Enrollment Passes 8,000 Mark.

With the growing understanding of the utility value of purebred live stock and especially purebred sires, the list of persons enrolled in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign is rapidly increasing. The middle of August it passed the 8,000 mark, signifying that many persons have filed statements with the United States Department of Agriculture that their live-stock breeding operations will be conducted henceforth on a purebred-sire basis. This includes all classes of domestic live stock, including poultry.

In some counties of limited area the number of farms is relatively small. Gordon B. Nance, county agent of Oldham county, Kentucky, points out, however, that although his county has only 1,086 farms, 10 per cent of the farmers have signed enrollment blanks, which signifies active participation in systematic live-stock improvement work. Other counties in which 10 per cent or more of the farmers are using purebred sires exclusively are: Pulaski county, Virginia, 52 per cent; Kittitas county, Washington, 18 per cent; Greene county, Ohio, 13 per cent; and Orange county, Virginia, 10 per cent. In this connection, the bureau of animal industry points out that the proportions are for all farms and that the percentages for farms in which live stock is the principal market product probably would be much higher.

DODDER WILL HARM ALFALFA

Where Farmer Is Planning to Let Crop Stand for Seed It Is Wise to Look for Weeds.

If you are planning to let alfalfa stand for seed look your field over for dodder. Once it is not enough. It should be done several times before cutting. Alfalfa seed containing dodder seed is unsalable in some states and is discriminated against in all markets. It is impossible by any known method to free alfalfa seed of the large-seeded dodders. The only practical procedure is to see that the field is free from this pest.

HOW THE GULLIES CAN BE RECLAIMED

Plowing-in and Seeding to Grass or Timber Recommended.

Farmers Should Build Soil-Saving Dams That Check Erosion and Cause the Filling of Space With Silt.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Gullies are a source of great loss to the farmer. They run fertile land, interfere with farm operations, undermine buildings, encroach on public roads, endanger the life of stock and mar the beauty and lower the market value of the farm. They can be prevented by increasing the absorptive capacity of the soil by tilling, protecting the surface from erosion by proper cultivation, and by conducting the surplus water from the field at a low velocity. Gullies can be reclaimed by plowing-in and seeding to grass or timber, or by building soil-saving dams that check erosion and cause the filling of the gully with silt.

In checking gullying, the first thing is to stop it at the head. If possible, the water should be turned into a natural water-course before it reaches the head of the gully. In shallow gullies, a dam built close to the head will give a fill of silt in a short time. In deeper gullies, a longer time is necessary according to the condition and amount of washing. Brush and straw, firmly fastened down, make a good dam for stopping erosion.

In regions where timber and brush are plentiful good results in filling gullies have been obtained by the use of brush dams. In hill-side gullies where the flow of water is small the dams are commonly built of loose brush sometimes weighted down with logs. Where the flow is enough to overtop the dam, the brush can be held down by crosspieces and stakes. Simply dumping the brush into a gully will not give good results.

Before beginning to reclaim a gully with soil-saving dams, the entire work of reclamation should be planned. If only a part of the work is planned it may not fit into the complete reclamation work which may be undertaken later. After the head dam is in place and erosion checked, a number of low, temporary dams can be used in a wide, shallow depression that will gradually fill. If the gully ends in the side of a deep drainage channel, the lower end must be built up with a high dam. The higher the dams the fewer will be required, but several low dams are less costly than one high one and are more easily constructed. A low dam also requires less care and attention than a high dam.

POTATOES IN TOBACCO BARNS

Farmers Who Grow Both Crops Can Save in Their Storage Building Equipment.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In sweet potato areas in tobacco territory, farmers who grow both crops can save in building equipment by using their fire-heated tobacco barns for the storage of potatoes. The changes needed and the methods of management that have been found good when the buildings are used for the two purposes are described by the United States Department of Agriculture in Farmers' Bulletin 1267, Utilization of Fire-Heated Tobacco Barns for Sweet Potato Storage.

Many farmers who do not raise a large acreage of sweet potatoes feel that the expense of a special storage structure is not justified, although through the use of pits, banks, or cellars they have been losing a large part of the stored crop. But if some building which serves another important purpose can be remodeled so as to meet both needs a greater part of the sweet potatoes produced can be saved at a small outlay of money. On farms which have fire-heated tobacco barns or similar buildings that serve their main purpose before the potato harvest, this saving is practical.

The bulletin contains detailed plans for converting tobacco barns, bill of materials for structures of a certain size, methods of storage-house management, and descriptions of a number of varieties of sweet potatoes. Copies may be obtained free by addressing the department at Washington, D. C.

Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, toothbrush or sponge.

Children Cry For

Are You Prepared?

A doctor in the house all the time would be a good idea. Yet you can't afford to keep a doctor in the family to keep baby well or prevent sickness. But you can do almost the same thing by having at hand a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria, because it is a wonderful remedy for indigestion, colic, feverishness, fretfulness and all the other disorders that result from common ailments that babies have.

Fletcher's Castoria is perfectly safe to use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria, and mothers recommend it because they have found it a comfort to children and a mother's friend.

If you love your baby, you know how sweet it is to be able to help baby when trouble comes. You cannot always call upon a doctor. But doctors have nothing but good to say of Fletcher's Castoria, because they know that it can only do good—that it can't do any harm—and they wouldn't want you to use for baby a remedy that you would use for yourself.
