

Says Indigestion Is Entirely Ended

Victims of stomach trouble, indigestion, dyspepsia, and their allied complaints find Tanlac an ever-ready source of relief and comfort. Thousands of people have refound the joys of health by its use after everything else they tried had failed. Mr. Joseph Heckell, of West Oak St., South Bend, Ind., says:

"I couldn't eat a thing but what hurt me, I got to having from one to three fainting spells a day, and wasn't expected to live much longer. But now I eat anything, never have a fainting spell and can do as big a day's work as the best of them. I give Tanlac all the credit."

Tanlac helps the stomach digest the food properly and eliminate waste. Soon the whole system is built up, the blood is purified and the entire body takes on new tone, vitality and energy. Get a bottle today and start on the road to health. For sale by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

A FRIEND IN NEED A FRIEND INDEED

Writes Mrs. Hardee Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Calif.—"I must tell you that I am a true friend to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken it off and on for twenty years and it has helped me change from a delicate girl to a stout, healthy woman. When I was married I was sick all the time until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in bed much of my time with pains and had to have the doctor every month. One day I found a little book in my yard in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and I read it through and got the medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and took eight bottles and used the Sanative Wash. I at once began to get stronger. I have got many women to take it just by telling them what it has done for me. I have a young sister whom it has helped in the same way it helped me. I want you to know that I am a 'friend indeed,' for you were a 'friend in need.'"

Let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound be a "friend indeed" to you.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

BEND OF THE ROAD

WHETHER in the work-a-day world, in the lecture room, or in some chosen field of diversion where honor is at stake, you may sometimes become depressed at your slow progress in attaining your heart's fondest wishes.

Your friends seem to go sailing on favorable tides, while you are beset by adverse currents and opposing gales. Or you may be doggedly climbing steep hills while they are striding merrily on a level road with the wind at their back, the sunshine playing hide-and-seek among the gleaming leaves, while the birds redouble their songs to give encouragement and make the journey pleasant.

Ferret-faced men and bobbed-haired, spectacled girls are making their mark, while you with your good-looking features, your stout and healthy body, of which you are admittedly vain, seem all the while to be flitting with open failure, unable to dodge it, in spite of your desire to do so.

Or again, in your frequent moods of dejection, you may fancy that Fate has a grudge against you, and is fully determined to hold you in bondage until the final farthing has been paid, all of which, if you will soberly reflect, is but an absurd phantasm of the mind.

If you have good sense without vanity, a penetrating mind and a disposition to "live and let others live" with a fair amount of energy, there is no reason at all why you should complain.

To deal honestly with yourself in such matters, compare your temperament, manners, industry and dress with those upon whom you incline to look with acowling eyes and envious heart.

After such an examination, if you should find a deficiency banish it, summon all your resolution and press forward on the right road. Let no impediment oppress you. To overcome obstacles you must climb over them or seek another course. Do this persistently, faithfully and without faltering, for there is a bend in the road just beyond, where the signboard tells you, as it has been told thousands of others, which way you should go.

Those whom you have been envying, those plain persons whose presence you shun, have within them a fine nobility of soul, which you might with profit to yourself imitate and acquire if you go about it in the right spirit and possibly in the end beat them to the goal.

YOUR HAND
How to Read Your Characteristics and Tendencies—the Capabilities or Weaknesses That Make for Success or Failure as Shown in Your Palm

PREDISPOSITION TOWARD SELF-DESTRUCTION

WHILE the average student of palmistry and reader of the hand will have, of course, few occasions to suspect his subject of a predisposition toward self-destruction or suicide, still it is well to enumerate the indications in the hand which have been found in the past to accompany such predisposition. Who can tell that, such signs being interpreted with accuracy, the rash act may not be averted?

Therefore, it is well to know that chromants have seen a tendency toward suicide in the following signs in the hand:

An exaggerated first phalanx of the second finger in a hand that is otherwise weak. A mount of Jupiter (underlying the first finger) that is exaggerated, with the line of the head joined to the line of health, also a should be whole and clean, and not three or four years behind the style.

One reason for this is that competent men usually take a pride in their personal appearance and dress well. And the world takes its impressions from custom.

Of course, dressing too well is as bad as dressing too poorly. The fashionably clad youth who wears cheap imitations of ultra stylish garments is usually set down as a tin horn gambler, or a horse race follower, and stands a small chance of getting any good job.

But the youth who is careful about buying and keeping his clothes, and who looks as well as he can, will get at least consideration. After that, provided there is any job to get, whether he gets it or not depends upon his manner. And his manner is sure to be the more impressive if he is well dressed than if he is shabbily clad.

poor line of fate and many lines crossing the line of life. If there is a star at the termination of the line of fate, with another star on the mount of the moon, it is also an evil sign in this regard.

KIDDIES SIX
By Will M. Maupin

MY WANTS

I DO not want a fortune great; I do not seek the cares of state, With all their glitter and their glare, And wicked schemes afloat in air. I do not yearn for power or place; Nor would I take part in the race For gold—I only ask that I May sow good will while passing by; And that when I am laid below, The cool, green sod, where daisies blow,

Some one will pause a bit, and then Declare: "He helped his fellowmen."

I do not covet mansions grand, Nor acres broad on every hand; I do not yearn for jewels bright, To dazzle my poor neighbor's sight; I do not yearn to take command, And order men on every hand—I only ask that I may go Along a road where flowers blow, And dying, have men pause and say: "He scattered sunshine all the way."

Let others dig and delve for gold; Let others place of power hold; Let others with a lordly air, Stand forth within the limelight's glare; Let others trade on hopes and fears, And profit by the sob and tears Of those they wreck. I only ask The strength to do each daily task, Then homeward go with heart elate And greet my loved ones at the gate; Then, dying, have men pause a while And say: "He gave the world a smile."

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

CLOTHES, CONFIDENCE

MARK TWAIN could afford to indulge his delight in unusual and fantastic clothes. He was a genius.

If John D. Rockefeller chose to walk down Broadway in a suit of blue jeans it would not affect his financial standing, although it might create surprise, for his custom is to dress himself rather neatly.

Russell Sage wore the same straw hat for fifteen years, and was able at the same time to get more interest on a thousand dollar investment than almost anybody else in Wall Street.

But Sage was an exception. And when he was just out of Troy, beginning his long climb in New York, he dressed more carefully.

The importance of good clothes is the confidence they inspire, not only in the wearer, but in those with whom he comes into contact.

The well dressed man impresses others with a belief in his competence. The man in rusty and baggy trousers is viewed with an eye of suspicion.

"If he is able, why doesn't he dress well?" asks the world.

To the job seeker nothing is so much of an asset as appearance.

He need not be dressed as the writer of the fashions-for-men columns would dictate, but his clothes

GOOD EATING

CARROTS are a valuable food and recent discoveries have proven that they contain the soluble vitamins so necessary for growth and health. Carrots in soup and salads, as a vegetable, in pudding or pie, as pickles and conserve—who shall call them the humble vegetable?

Carrot Pie.
Take one cupful of mashed cooked carrot, add one cupful of milk, one beaten egg, three tablespoonfuls of molasses, salt, mace, cinnamon and nutmeg to taste and one tablespoonful of melted butter. Fill the crust and bake as pumpkin pie.

Carrot and Apple Salad.
Take one cupful each of grated carrot and apple, one small onion grated, a stalk of celery finely chopped, one-fourth cupful of walnut meats broken in bits, salt, pepper and a highly seasoned boiled dressing. Let stand to season for an hour or more and serve on lettuce with a spoonful of mayonnaise.

Carrot Sponge.
Take one cupful of grated raw carrot, one-third of a cupful of sugar, one of milk, two tablespoonfuls of gelatin, the white of an egg, salt and vanilla to taste. Heat the milk and add the sugar. Soak the gelatin in four tablespoonfuls of water, dissolve over heat, then add the milk. Set the mixture aside until it begins to harden around the edges. Beat it well with an egg beater and add the grated carrot, vanilla and fold in the well beaten egg white; turn into a mold. Serve with a soft custard.
