

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1922

TUSSEYVILLE.

Boyd Jordan, who is attending school at Fort Wayne, Indiana, came home last Saturday to see his mother.

Mrs. Stuart Jordan, who has been sick for some time, is improving at this writing.

Paul Lingle was the only lucky one in this section to kill a wild turkey up to this time.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Rickert and family, of Woodrich, spent Sunday at the home of S. E. Jordan and family.

Presiding Elder T. L. Wentz, of Allentown, will hold Communion service in the Zion Evangelical church, on Thursday evening, November 23rd.

Little Mary Horner, who has been making her home with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rokey, fell from a chair Monday and broke her leg.

POTTERS MILLS.

Roy Smith and family spent Sunday in Milroy.

George Condo of Altoona, spent a few days in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Smith, of Spring Mills, visited friends in this place.

The funeral of Mr. Boal, on Thursday, was largely attended.

Mrs. Durst left here to visit her sister in Ohio.

Eugene Boal, of St. Louis, was here to attend the funeral of his father.

The Stork visited the Clayton Wagner home and left a fine baby girl.

Mrs. Henshall, of State College, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilkinson.

Miss Caroline McCloskey and her sister, Mrs. Miller, spent the week at Centre Hall.

"Squire Carson" and family witnessed the State-Carnegie Tech football game at State College on Saturday.

Harry McClellan and family spent Saturday evening at the Henry Foust home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McCormick, George McCormick and family, spent Sunday at the Marcellus Sankey home in Middleburg.

The chicken and noodle supper in the Grange hall, Centre Hall, on Saturday evening, was attended by a number of people from this place.

MILLHEIM.

(From the Journal.)

Rev. C. E. Gephart, a son of Mrs. Catharine Gephart, of Millheim, who has been serving the Lutheran charge at Woodbury for several years, has accepted a call from the Ickesburg Lutheran charge and preached his initial sermon on Sunday.

Dr. F. E. Gutelius left Tuesday afternoon for Pittsburgh for a few days intensive training in conductive anaesthesia, under a noted specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Weiser left on Friday afternoon for a week's visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz Weiser, at Buffalo, N. Y.

C. G. Hassinger one day last week purchased from A. A. Frank the home on North street which is occupied by Mrs. Michael Ream. It is Mr. Hassinger's intention to raze both the house and the barn and commence building operations on a bungalow when the place is vacated by Mrs. Ream, who will sell her personal property.

The oldest man in Millheim to get a hunter's license this year is G. W. Harter, who is nearly seventy-seven years old. Mr. Harter has been successful in shooting several rabbits.

A fine turkey was shot by Clyde Duck, of Madisonburg, on Monday afternoon, and on Tuesday morning Roy Held and Homer Rachau, of the same place, were lucky in each killing a turkey.

Transfers of Real Estate.

L. M. Stover to the Tioga Hunting Club, tract in Miles twp.: $1.

Frances Jones' exrs. to Victor S. Weston, tract in Port Matilda; $2500.

John E. Fryberger, et ux, to Phillipsburg Country Club; tract in Rush twp.; $600.

Maggie Clark Fry, et bar, to Samuel R. Rumberger, tract in Spring twp.; $200.

W. T. Dunn, et al, to Charles E. Fishburn, tract in State College; $1.

Clarence E. Keiser to Theodore D. Boal, tract in Patton twp.; $1.

J. T. Lucas, et ux, to Chas. S. Lucas, tract in Moshannon; $150.

General Refractories Co. of W. Va. to General Refractories Co. of Pa., tract in Rush twp.; $1.

Louise D. Harris to Eleanor Harris DeGolyer, tract in Bellefonte; $1.

Ellen E. Bieley, exrs. to John T. Merriman, tract in Boggs twp.; $845.

Arthur Runk, et ux, to Frank W. Warner, tract in Phillipsburg; $1,750.

John Lucas and Co. to Eugene P. Lynch, tract in Penn twp.; $1.

Z. W. Hoy, et ux, to Harry I. Hoy, tract in Marion twp.; $5,000.

Clifford C. Reed, et ux, to Effie K. Harvey, tract in State College; $1.

NEW USE FOR SCOTCH LAKES

Long Famed in Song, It is Now Seriously Proposed to Develop Their Water Power.

Scotland is waking up to the fact that its lakes and waterfalls may be made to serve other purposes than providing scenic attractions for tourists. As proof of this the "Gramplan Electricity bill" has been given a second reading in the house of commons.

In this a company is empowered to collect and use the waters of 15 lochs and 99 small lakes, rivers, and streams over an area of 417 square miles.

The waters proposed to be utilized are estimated to be capable of generating 56,000 horse power to supply electricity in the counties of Perth, Kinross, and Forfar, and districts in four other counties. The capital is placed at £4,500,000 ($22,500,000).

That any of the beautiful lakes and falls of "Caledonia stern and wild" should be used to set the wheels of industry spinning, many in Scotland regard almost as sacrilegious desecration. And that opinion is shared by not a few Americans who are accustomed to visit Scotland annually.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

But the promoters declare that the preservation of the natural beauties of Scotland is expressly provided for by the terms of the bill. And they add that when the hum of the electrically driven wheels is heard in the land and dividends begin to come in, the cry of "desecration" will be heard no more.—New York Post.

PUBLIC SALE REGISTER.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 18th, at 1 p. m., A. O. Detwiler, of near Colyer, will sell lot of stock—cows, young cattle and hogs.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24th, at 1:00 o'clock, at Stone Mill, 1 mile East of Tusseyville, Geo. W. and Anna M. Harter will sell the personal property of Ephraim C. Harter, deceased. See post-ora.

Got a cold? MENTHOLATUM clears it out.

Insurance and Real Estate

Want to Buy or Sell? SEE US FIRST

Chas. D. Bartholomew CENTRE HALL, PA.

Worth selling is worth telling—advertise.

COMPLETE LINE OF CHAMPION FARM MACHINERY and REPAIRS

Be sure you see the Champion Line and get prices before buying any farm implements you may need.

C. E. FLINK - - Centre Hall

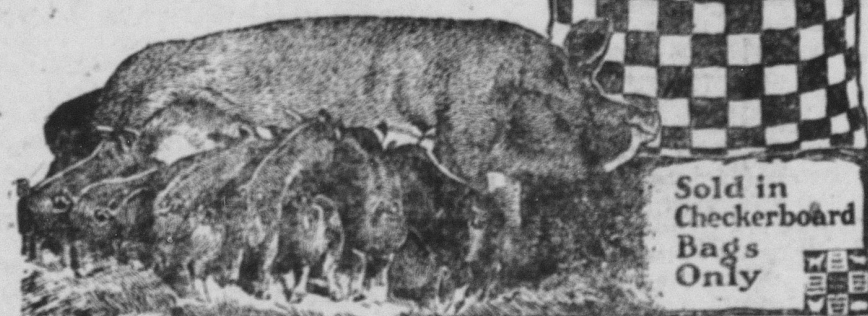

Are Your Sows Prepared to Raise Thrifty Pigs?

A properly balanced ration for the sows before and after pigs are born prevents runts. Insure a well regulated system and abundance of rich milk by feeding

Purina Pig Chow

All Pure Ingredients:—corn meal, digester tankage, O. P. linseed flour, molasses, gluten, alfalfa leaf flour.

Start your pigs off with a boost Keep 'em coming

BRADFORD & COMPANY CENTRE HALL, PA.

The First National Bank Centre Hall, Pa.

DON'T WAIT

For an opportunity to step up and tap you on the shoulder. If you have a little ready money in the bank, you can see the opportunity coming and meet it on the road. We will do our share toward making your relations with this bank both profitable and pleasant.

Correct Printing Done at the Reporter Office.

SICK With a Bad Cold

"When my son Ellis was sick with a cold last winter I gave him

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

It helped him at once and quickly broke up his cold." Mrs. P. O. Stuchell, Homer City, Pa.

Get it from your druggist at 35 cents per bottle, large size 60 cents.

W. E. BARTGES ..Auctioneer..

Terms Reasonable, Satisfaction Guaranteed. Give me a trial.

CENTRE HALL, R. D. 1.

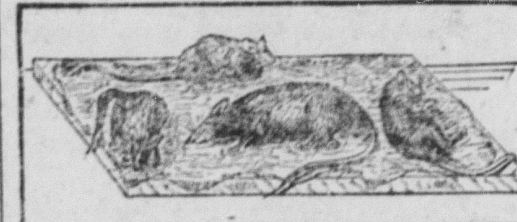

WANTED.—Men or women to take ord is among friends and neighbors for the genuine guaranteed hosiery, full lines for men, women and children. Eliminates darns. We pay $1 an hour for spare time or $40 a week for full time. Experience unnecessary. Write. INTERNATIONAL STOCKING MILL, Norristown, Pa. 6429d

"HOLDZEM"

Just spread it on a Board. The moment they touch it—they're Done!

(Mail Orders Promptly Filled)

FOR SALE BY A. E. KERLIN & SON CENTRE HALL, PA.

Breon's Garage MILLHEIM

THE REO SPEED WAGON

For the purpose designed, is the Best Self-Propelled Vehicle in the World.

It will haul a pound, a bushel or a gallon, or any multiple up to its rated capacity, CHEAPER and quicker than any other method of transportation.

Reo conceived the Speed Wagon idea—created the vehicle—copyrighted the name and popularized the type. THERE IS ONLY ONE SPEED WAGON; to be a Speed Wagon it Must Be a Reo.

A GOOD LINE TO SELECT FROM

REO, NASH, WILLYS-KNIGHT and OVERLAND

Open and Closed Models

FORD Cars and Service.

United States Tires Reduced 25 Per Cent. off list NOW IS YOUR TIME TO BUY

BREON & WEAVER MILLHEIM, PA.

BEFORE Building

SEE

Cresson Lumber Co.

STATE COLLEGE, PA. J. G. MARKS, Sec. and Treas.

Both Phones

An ugly cut? MENTHOLATUM is antiseptic and healing.

The Centre Reporter, $1.50 a year.