One long and five short blasts when fire is south of Reformed church.

You may need the dollar it takes to renew your Red Cross membership, but the work the organization is doing is of more importance to the welfare of mankind than the work you have mapped out for this particular one hundred cents.

Dr. Leroy Stephens, veteran Baptist preacher, and for many years an instructor at Bucknell university, died on Sunday at his home in Lewisburg.

Slight Fire in Store.

A brisk fire in rubbish about an over-heated stove pipe was discovered Wednesday morning, about 8 o'clock, on the second floor of the store building of C. M. Smith, general merchant. The fire was discovered by Miss Pearl Keller, a seamstress, from the opposite side of the street, the glare of the fire through a window attracting her attention.

When the Odd Fellows building was greatly damaged by fire, a few weeks ago, by a fire supposed to have originated in the ware houses connected with Mr. Smith's store, the goods were removed by him to what is known as the old furniture store owned by him and located across an alley from its former site. The fire sale started last Friday.

On the second floor of the building where the fire started, Mr. Smith also had stored some of his household effects, together with merchandise, boxes, etc. The stove pipe passes through the ceiling and to the chimney on the second floor.

Typhoid Fever About Phillipsburg.

There is considerable typhoid fever in the region surrounding Phillipsburg, due probably, says the Daily Journal, to the scarcity of pure water for cooking and drinking purposes. On Monday noon the Cottage State Hospital at Phillipsburg had twelve typhoid patients, eleven of them coming from around Morrisdale, and the other from Osceola Mills. Three more typhoid patients were received at the hospital on Tuesday morning.

Democratic Enthusiasm and Activity Get New Stimulus for 1924.

Democratic enthusiasm and activity are certain to continue under the stimulus of political developments within the next six months. Thus the victory at the polls on November 7 will prove the beginning of organization and effort that will culminate in a still larger and more significant triumph for the Democratic party in 1924.

The special session and the subsequent regular session of the Republican Congress promise to be Democratic assets of the first order. The prospect of a new investigation into the election of Truman H. Newberry has prompted him to resign his seat in the Senate. In the place of Senator Townsend, Michigan has chosen a Democrat, Woodbridge N. Ferris.

Defeat or indefinite delay appears to be the coming fate of President Harding's pet project, the ship bonus bill. It was Democratic opposition that makes its failure almost a forgone conclusion, and which saves the country from the results of a ruinous precedent. The public can not help be grateful for this escape from Laskerism, and individual Democrats can not help but rejoice in the leadership under which this escape is accomplished.

Democratic governors will take office in twenty states—thirteen of them in the North—on January 1. This eloquent reminder of Democratic success in November will serve also as an inspiration for Democratic victory two years hence.

It is expected by the officials of the Democratic party that the rank and file of Democrats will not slacken the efforts which achieved so large a measure of success this month. They believe that the Democratic state and local organizations will show steady growth in numbers, strength, zeal and activity, and that the failure of President Harding's Republican Congress the public condemnation of its inefficiency, the inauguration of Democratic governors and other state officials, and the performance of the big Democratic minority in the Sixty-eighth Congress will serve as so many spurts to Democratic energy and harmony all through the country.

By the way, the women of the state will be well represented in the membership of the House of Representatives in Harrisburg, as the following have been elected: Helen Grimes, Allegheny; Gertrude MacKinney, Butler; Sarah M. Gullaber, Cambria; Martha G. Thomas, Chester; Alice M. Bentley, Crawford; Martha G. Speiser, Lillie H. Pitts and Rosa S. deYoung, Philadelphia.

On Saturday, a gentleman from Millton, whose name we failed to learn, in turning out to let some cattle pass at the mill, ran against the wall of Homer Fetterolf's yard and threw his car over the bank. Fortunately it struck the telephone pole and hung there until it was pulled out by C. P. Long's team.

Robb's Body Found.

The body of Arthur H. Robb, of Flemington, who disappeared six weeks ago, two weeks after he had attempted suicide by shooting himself in the chest, was found Sunday morning lodged against an old pier in the river two miles west of Lock Haven. The discovery was made by Allen Underwood, aged twelve.

Robb was last seen alive at the home of his daughters in Lock Haven. He had gone to Lock Haven to have the wound in his chest dressed at the hospital there. When he disappeared a search was made for him, but no clue was found until Sunday. Robb leaves his wife and four children.
