

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Both banks in Centre Hall will be closed all day on Christmas and New Year.

S. E. Weber, a prominent Boalsburg citizen, was in town on business Saturday afternoon.

Farmer William H. Lingle, of near Tusseyville, was one of a number of callers at the Reporter office Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Delaney expect to leave for Greensburg and Pittsburgh, on Saturday, to spend two weeks among relatives.

The Millheim Telegraph came out last week all dolled up in red and green—a Christmas number, with a fine line of news and advertisements.

The First National Bank has on display home savings banks, which together with a savings account would make an ideal Christmas present for children.

Thirty-four degrees below zero in Medicine Hat, Man., and 74 degrees above in Miami, Fla., represents the temperature range in the weather of North America over Sunday.

Christmas seals may be had at any of the local stores, or may be bought from school children. The funds are used to fight the White Plague. For further information see Miss Ruth Smith, chairman.

Ralph Henney, son of Wilbur A. Henney, of Centre Hall, joined the regular army, and is now in Arizona. He left town several years ago and engaged as a machinist in the middle west but later took to army life.

Orvis M. Swartz, who for several years has been the right hand man on the Hoy farm, at Old Fort, tenanted by Thomas F. Delaney, next spring will move onto the farm owned by Edward Durst, at Earlstown.

S. S. Horner, proprietor of the Mountain Restaurant, on the state road above Pleasant Gap, was a caller on Saturday and advanced the subscription of Miss Susan A. Moyer, of Orangeville, Pa., at which place Mr. Horner was employed for several summers.

Miss Amanda Haines, of State College, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hosterman, in Centre Hall, over Sunday. Miss Haines keeps a fraternity house at State College and it was on her way to her former home in Aasensburg that she stopped with her cousins here.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

F. P. Geary and family expect to spend Christmas with relatives in Newport.

Ice cream, by the dish or quart, at the parlors of William McClenahan, during this week and next.

The total net receipts of the fair and chicken and waffle supper held jointly by the Royal Neighbors and Woodmen, at Millheim, amounted to $269.18.

The Christmas vacation for the Centre Hall public schools will extend from Monday, Dec. 25th, to Tuesday morning, January 2nd—a total of six school days.

The horse sale at Millheim, on Monday, has been termed a success. All or nearly all of the car load of horses were sold, the prizes ranging from $150 to $200.

The Viscoe works at Lewistown proved attractive to Miss Alice Woods, who had her home with her aunt, Mrs. James I. Fetterolf, in Centre Hall. She consequently quit school and took up work there.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Smith, of Pittsburgh, arrived in Centre Hall for the Christmas season, and will divide their time between the Frank Smith and H. W. Dingus families. Mr. Smith will return to Pittsburgh the latter part of this month, but his wife will remain somewhat longer.

For two weeks or more, Mrs. W. Frank Bradford, of Centre Hall, has been among friends in Chicago, spending most of her time with Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Williams, Mrs. Williams being a cousin. Before returning home Mrs. Bradford will see friends in Joliet and other points in Illinois.

Saturday night an additional six inches of snow fell, making a total of from ten to twelve inches in the falls of Thursday and Saturday nights. The first fall had settled to a depth of about four inches, making the actual covering on Sunday morning from nine to ten inches. And winter is just due today.

Mrs. Grove, wife of W. M. Grove, of Spring Mills, has been with her sister, Mrs. Belle Whiteman, in Centre Hall, during the past week. The Groves are keeping house at Spring Mills at present, but next spring they will locate near Berwick, where Mr. Grove owns a farm, on which are two dwelling houses, into one of which he will move. The farm is tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. Archie W. Zettle, Mrs. Zettle being Mr. Grove's daughter.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bartges and Mrs. A. H. Spayd attended State Grange at Williamsport.

Mrs. Ida Snyder, of Millheim, came to Centre Hall, on Saturday, for a few days' stay with friends here.

Mrs. Ernest Benner and children, of Axe Mahn, are guests of Mrs. Benner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zettle.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Puff and little daughter, of Tyrone, came to Centre Hall to spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Booser.

Dr. H. H. Longwell made a trip to Newport, Perry county, on professional business on Tuesday. Harold H. Keller drove the Chevrolet coupe.

Hugh Smith, of Centre Hall, and Willard Bair, of Spring Mills, on Tuesday went to Lewistown to secure employment at the Viscoe works.

James S. Stahl, who lives just west of the borough line, is having his home wired for electric lighting. The work is being done by C. E. Flink.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Booser and three children, of Chicago, are due here on Friday for the Christmas season. They will be guests of Mr. Booser's father, D. A. Booser, and Mrs. Booser.

The Viscoe works at Lewistown will again employ J. Roy Smith, of Pottery Mills. He moved to Reedsville the beginning of this week. He would have preferred locating in Lewistown but was unable to secure a house there.

The large bell on the Methodist church in Lewistown became cracked as a result of a defect in casting. The bell was cut into pieces by the use of a blue flame, and then the small sections were lowered from the belfry. Chimes will take the place of the bell.

It was the intention of Dr. G. W. Hosterman to return to California a month ago, but his plans have been changed and he will now stay for some time with his son, S. V. Hosterman, Esq., in Lancaster, at which place he spent most of his time since coming east last summer. This change of program is due to the fact that Prof. C. F. Shaw intends going to Australia, next spring, to remain for several months. Prof. Shaw is going to the island country at the instance of the Agricultural college at Berkeley, California, with which institution he is connected, and, of course, Mrs. Shaw, who is Dr. Hosterman's daughter and with whom he had his home while on the Pacific coast, is going with him.

Capt. George Runkle, of the steamship East Wind, has been at the James W. Runkle home in Centre Hall for the past several weeks. Capt. Runkle's health is very much impaired, and he is under the care of a physician, hoping to be able in the near future to again take command of his vessel. His many friends in Centre Hall and in Centre county wish him a speedy recovery.

On her way home from a trip through Illinois, Mrs. Margaret Runkle, of Shamokin, stopped in Centre Hall from Wednesday until Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Homan, with whom she made the trip west. While she visited many friends and relatives in Illinois, the greater part of the time was spent with a brother, William Stover, at Freeport. She enjoyed her visit very much, but old Pennsylvania appealed to her strongly after she had greeted her former associates in the west. Mrs. Runkle is well known here, having been reared on the Wilson farm now owned by William Stover, near the railroad station.
