

NEWLY-FOUND PHAROAH'S TOMB UNSURPASSED IN SPLENDOR.

Astonishing Revelation of Magnificence Discovered, American Egyptologist Declares.

The archeological treasures of the recently discovered tomb of King Tutankhamun in the Valley of the Kings were described by the American Egyptologist, James H. Breasted, in a telegram to the Cairo correspondent of the London Times from Luxor.

"I spent an hour in Tutankhamun tomb this afternoon," wrote Dr. Breasted. "The impression is overwhelming. The dispatches but feebly suggested the marvelous reality. It is a sight I never dreamed of seeing.

"The ante-chamber of the Pharaoh's tomb is filled with magnificent equipment which only the wealth and splendor of the imperial age of Egypt of the Fourteenth century before Christ could have wrought or conceived, and with everything standing as placed there when the tomb was last closed in antiquity.

"Two facts are evident: First, it is clear that the place is a Pharaoh's tomb, and no mere cache. Behind the remaining unopened, sealed doorway we must expect to find the burial chamber where the Pharaoh still lies in royal magnificence. Second, we have here a royal burial very little disturbed in spite of the hurried plundering it suffered at the hands of the ancient tomb robbers.

"In more quantity of furniture found it far surpasses all precedent. In quality it is an astonishing revelation of the beauty and refinement of Egyptian art at the culmination of its development in the imperial age, quite surpassing anything I ever imagined."

Meyer-Butler Wedding.

The Meyer home on Church street, Reedsville, was the scene of a very beautiful wedding, Saturday afternoon, December 30th, when Miss Miriam S. Meyer, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer, was united in marriage to Harold F. Butler, son of Mrs. Anna McDonald Butler, of Reedsville. The house was artistically decorated for the occasion with Southern smilax, and hanging moss from South Carolina, while the color scheme of yellow and white was effectively carried out by yellow shaded lights, white roses and sweet peas. As a prelude to the ceremony, Miss Florence Cook, of Washington, N. Y., sang "O, Promise Me" and "Dawning." Just as the clock chimed the hour of three, Miss Edythe Werts, of Reedsville, started to play the wedding march from Lohengrin, and the bridal party descended the stairs, taking their places in front of an embankment of palms and ferns. Dr. N. T. Brown, pastor of the East Kishacoquillas Presbyterian church, officiated, using the Van Dyke ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Meyer was attended by Miss Kathryn Lukenbach of Tyrone, while Paul Mueller, of Philadelphia, acted as best man for Mr. Butler.

After Mr. and Mrs. Butler had received congratulations and good wishes of the assembled relatives and friends, a wedding luncheon was served; the bride's table was decorated with yellow tulle, silver candlesticks and cut-glass baskets filled with roses and sweet peas.

The bride was attended in a traveling suit of navy blue velveteen with colorful embroidery and fur collar, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Miss Lukenbach wore cocoa-brown tulle and carried a pink collar of ivory lace and carried pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of Mechanics Institute, Rochester, N. Y., and was until recently a member of the faculty of Winthrop College, Rock Hill, South Carolina. The bridegroom is a graduate of Pennsylvania State College, class of 1919, and University of Pennsylvania Law School, class of 1922.

At the close of a short trip to Philadelphia and Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. Butler will make their home in New York City, where Mr. Butler is associated with the law firm of Sullivan and Cronwell.

The following out-of-town guests were present at the wedding: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormick, Columbia, S. C.; Mrs. W. E. Park, Mrs. W. Gross Mingle and son, Philip Mingle, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meyer, Capt. G. M. Bost, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Booser, Centre Hall; John D. Meyer, Tyrone; Mrs. Grace Garman, Bellefonte; Mrs. Frank Lukenbach and Miss Kathryn Lukenbach, Tyrone; Miss Elizabeth Booser, Pittsburgh; Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Spangler, Yeagertown; Miss Florence Cook, Washington, N. Y.; Mrs. Anna M. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lefford, Pittsburgh; Paul Mueller, Philadelphia.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Santa Barbara, California, December 18, 1922.

Dear Smith and Bailey: Enclosed find a check for my paper before you stop sending it as I would be lost if I failed to receive it every Tuesday.

We had a fine rain last week; business is good; it kept seven of us on the jump all week, for which we are glad. Good rains and good Christmas trade! We drove out into the country yesterday and saw the grass all green and the cattle on the ranches looking fine. Well, one cannot expect anything but good from a progressive Republican state like California.

Wishing you a prosperous New Year, I remain, Yours very truly, A. N. RUNKLE.

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 24, 1922.

Editor Reporter: I am now a booster for California, so please change address for Reporter from Cincinnati, Ohio, to 11th and Main, Los Angeles, Calif.—God's country to live in; climate ideal. All first-class buildings; 400,000 automobiles; one million people and growing at the rate of 70,000 per year. Have met many people from the east and only here two weeks. Living is cheaper here than in the east. Regards to all. W. W. BOOB.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 26, 1922.

Dear Editor: You will find enclosed my check to the amount of three dollars for two years' subscription for the Centre Reporter. I also will ask you to change my address from 303 Logan Ave., Altoona, to 2141 S. Hanna St., Fort Wayne, Indiana.

The Penna. R. R. Co., for whom I am working, on June 1st, 1922, transferred me to this place. From the time I was sent here until Dec. 1st my family was in Altoona. It is a difficult proposition to secure a house and rents are high.

I was appointed assistant boiler foreman on the Fort Wayne Division. Yours truly, W. L. MUSSER.

Buchanan, Michigan.

The Reporter: The enclosed check is for a year's subscription to the Centre Reporter to be sent to J. K. Young, Duquesne, Pa. My mother wants it for a Christmas gift for him. My mother, before marriage, was Kate I. Young, daughter of David Young, of Potter township, and J. K. Young is her brother. We are subscribers to the Reporter and certainly enjoy reading it, and it especially gives mother so much news about her friends and school mates. December 18, 1922. MRS. J. C. REAM.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 30, 1922.

Editor Reporter: Enclosed you will find check for subscription due you. The weather in Buffalo has been fine until last week when we had real winter weather and a blizzard which lasted one whole day. Wishing you and our friends a happy and prosperous New Year.

Sincerely yours, MRS. W. J. PINKLE.

Governor-elect Pinchot is hunting men for cabinet positions who will agree to sit for six days a week in Harrisburg, but he is having difficulty in securing that type of men for the reason that they would be obliged to draw on their personal resources to live during the tenure of office. Not all men are rich like Pinchot and can afford to spend over one hundred thousand dollars in a primary campaign, and draw on his wealth while filling the governor's chair. Many members of the governor's cabinet, in years gone by, have had to keep going their private business in order to meet expenses and have something to fall back on to live on after being returned to private life. If Pinchot really means to do what he is now talking about, his cabinet requirement will first be wealth; ability, second.

Millinburg, by a vote of over three to one, approved the issuing of thirty-year bonds to the amount of $48,000 for the erection of a new public school building.

The Chinese consul at Havana, Cuba, Ho Chang, will take a short course in agriculture at Penn State.

According to a late ruling of the State Highway Department every owner may operate a motor vehicle other than his own without securing a driver's license. It is understood, however, that he receives no pay or profit from the registered owner of the car.

The PINK LABEL this week. Does yours show a 25 or 24? If not, you are in arrears, and a remittance will be appreciated.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. C. A. Smith, of Centre Hall, on Friday went to visit among friends at Howard, her old home.

P. H. Luse and son, Fred, of near Centre Hall, Friday of last week, went to Johnstown, where they visited Mr. Luse's brother.

As many as forty thousand applications for automobile licenses have been received in a single day by the State highway department. That number broke all previous records.

Mrs. George Torrence, of Punxsutawney, and Mrs. Frank Torrence and daughter, Barbara, of State College, were entertained by Mrs. Margaret Smith for several days last week.

Mrs. Mervin Kuhn and daughter, Miss Mildred, of Williamsport, visited in various sections of Centre county, last week. A few days were spent with Mrs. Kuhn's sister, Mrs. Alice Durst, in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. James Schofield, of Bellefonte, celebrated their fiftieth marriage anniversary, on Christmas day. There were many invited guests to the dinner, which was an important feature of the program. Open house was kept by the Schofields to all their friends.

Rain set in Tuesday night of last week the fall being sufficient to show effect on streams. For a few days previous, much of the eight to ten inches of snow melted, which with the rain temporarily relieved the water famine on many farms as well as replenished the supply for many boroughs and cities.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Frazier, of near Spring Mills, entertained at dinner on Tuesday evening, December 26th, in honor of their son, Lee Frazier, a law student in a Cleveland, Ohio, college, the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Frazier, Edgar Miller, Ruth Thompson, Estella Hosterman, Burnace Frazier, Robert, Ida and Ernest Frazier.

A. B. Hackett, who has been living on the Grove farm along Sinking Creek, purchased some time ago by a stone company, will move from there to the J. H. Detweiler farm east of Old Fort, when Mr. Detweiler moves to the top of Nittany Mountain into the new bungalow he proposes erecting there. The stone company is about to sink a shaft on the Grove farm mentioned above to thoroughly test out the quality of the lime stone.

Among the farmers about Centre Hall who are not complaining too much and yet think farming conditions ought to be better than they now are, is Roy M. Garbrick. He called at this office a few days ago to advance his subscription, saying that he felt able to do so because he had in his pocket $125 of his good wife's money. The money was obtained by exchanging poultry for it at eighteen cents per pound. Mr. Garbrick thinks a good woman a mighty good acquisition on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Booser and children, of Chicago, were guests at the Booser home for several days before and after Christmas. Mr. Booser is connected with the Joslin Manufacturing Company, in Chicago. The firm is engaged in the manufacture of electrical equipments, and give special attention to supplies needed in the construction of transmission lines, which indicates that the product of the company is greatly varied. While their main plant is in Chicago, extensive branches are operated in other cities, Buffalo, N. Y., being the center for the manufacture of porcelain insulators.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Christmas and a few days before and after were spent by Mrs. John G. King at State College with a niece, Mrs. Hiram Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Arney, of Centre Hall, ate their first Christmas dinner with their son, William E., and Mrs. Arney, in Millinburg.

Misses Mary Dutrow and Clara Heckman, both of Centre Hall, visited in Altoona with the family of the former's uncle, P. L. Dutrow.

Mrs. Anna Tammon and son, Paul, of Pittsburgh, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith, west of Centre Hall, returning home last Saturday.

Mrs. Fred Slack and two interesting little children, spent Christmas at the old home at Glen Iron with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Osman.

Dr. D. K. Musser, the dentist, will not be ready to open his dental parlor in Centre Hall for several weeks. He is at present with relatives in Aaronsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Keller, of Bethel, Berks county, were in town over the holiday season. Mr. Keller is assistant principal of the Bethel High school.

Ralph Bitner, son of Dr. H. F. Bitner, of Lewisburg, was in town for a day recently. He is engaged in manufacturing in Stamford, Connecticut, and is getting along fine as such.

The mails during the Christmas season just past were the heaviest ever experienced by the local post master. Mails of all classes exceeded in number of pieces, weight and bulk that of any previous year.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Lingle, of Bethany, West Virginia, spent the Christmas season in Centre Hall with Mr. Lingle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Lingle. Mr. Lingle is in charge of the farms connected with Bethany College and is well pleased with his work.

The Lewistown district is again drawing labor heavily from Penns Valley. The Standard steel works have attracted John Kreamer, Herbert and William Garis, in the foundry department, and W. A. Henney is employed in the Viscoo works. All are from Centre Hall.

Miss Anna Martz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Martz, and Miss Mary Fortney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David P. Fortney, both of Tusseyville, spent the Christmas season in Altoona, the former with her grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Martz, and the latter with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wolf.

Miss Mary Foreman, one of the New York City grade school teachers, arrived in Centre Hall Saturday before Christmas. She is a daughter of F. A. Foreman, of State College, where the greater part of her vacation was spent. Miss Foreman is meeting with marked success in the school room.

Clayton McKinney, son of Forester William McKinney, of Potters Mills, and Elizabeth Brooks, daughter of Jewett Brooks, of Centre Hall, were two juniors who enjoyed Christmas at festive boards in Bellefonte, the former with his sister, Mrs. John Hess, and the latter with an aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Hutt.

Mr. and Mrs. James Peese, of Smithsburg, Maryland, were arrivals at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Brown, near Potters Mills, a few days before Christmas. Mr. Peese, who is Mrs. Brown's brother and a native of Union county, is engaged in the fruit business and to a considerable extent manufactures the imperfect fruit—peaches, apples, etc.—into various products, such as cider, butter, jellies, etc., and in this form finds a ready sale for the product and at a profitable figure.

Ladies Meet With Accidents.

Mrs. Rebecca Blausner and Mrs. M. N. Miller, both of Potters Mills, met with accidents resulting in the breaking of three ribs of each of them. The former tripped over a box in her store while waiting on a customer and the latter fell from a chair on which she was standing to wash a window lift.

John Mulbarger Injured.

John Mulbarger, of Pleasant Gap, was hit by a falling stone at the White Rock quarries, and sustained a broken leg. He was taken to the home of his son, Earl Mulbarger, at Pleasant Gap, where he has been making his home, and is being cared for there. The accident happened Wednesday of last week.

Kline—Korman.

On December 16th, at the Reformed parsonage, Boalsburg, Grant T. Kline, of State College, and Miss Anna M. Korman, of Oak Hall, were quietly married by Rev. S. C. Stover. The groom has been employed at McAllister Hall as purchasing agent and the bride is the accomplished daughter of Ira Korman. Congratulations.

Chiropractor to Open Office Here.

Dr. A. W. Shaab, of Belleville and Milroy, a licensed Chiropractor, was in Centre Hall a short time ago and rented a portion of the C. M. Arney property, on Church street, with the view of moving his family here about February 1st and opening an office to engage in his profession.

Touring Through West and Canada.

Mrs. Leah Christie, a recent resident of Millheim, has left Detroit, Michigan, for a tour through the western states and Canada, with her son Ray who is recuperating from a serious operation that was performed at Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, recently. Mrs. Christie says the weather there is much different than in Pennsylvania. Already the thermometer has been down to six below zero in Detroit, while in Gladstone, Delta county, Canada, the thermometer was down to 20 degrees below zero. Her son Ray does exhibition work with a parachute by jumping from airplanes, and as soon as he is entirely well he will continue his former work. His mother will then come east and make her home at Spring Mills.

Birthday Party.

It was on the 22nd of December, 1872, that Richard Brooks was born, and on his last birthday he attained his fiftieth anniversary. The event was celebrated at the home of his brother, J. Cloyd Brooks, so that the necessary previous preparations could be accomplished without the half-century Brooks knowing anything about it. It was a real surprise to Mr. Brooks and he stood for it very gracefully. The guests present were:

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brooks, Lillie and James Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Brooks, Stanley, Frances and Florence Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Jewett Brooks, Raymond, Harold, Elizabeth, Esther and LeRoy Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Ralston, Hayes and Budd Ralston, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Ralston and son Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith, Bruce, Hazel, Philip and Lynn Smith, Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Jodon, Edwina, Edgar, Jean, Grace, Isabel, Emma and Cherry Jodon, Mr. and Mrs. John Breen, Mr. and Mrs. John Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith, Paul and Kathryn Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ebright, daughter Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wells, John, Mable, Thomas, George and Eva Wells, Mrs. M. A. Burkholder, Ellen and Eugene Burkholder, Roy Gasbrick, Lewis and Vernon Garbrick, Mrs. Paul Harter and son Edgar J. Harter, Mrs. Merrill Burris, Arber Cummings, Dr. H. H. Longwell, Laura, Ralph and Frances Whiteman, Gladys Packer, Madeline Burris, John Osman, Joseph Dietz, Joseph Page.

Fleming Williams, aged forty years, of Cedar Springs, died in the Lock Haven hospital on Christmas following an operation for appendicitis. He was one of Nittany Valley's best known farmers.

The real estate in Millheim of the late Emanuel Kerstetter, offered at public sale by the executors, was sold to Reese G. Auman and James Treaster. The three building lots adjoining the homestead were purchased by Auman for $170, and the other tract, containing one acre and 113 perches, was knocked down to Treaster for $525.

Since the closing of the deer season, W. P. McKinney, the State forester, reports the deer are again nipping the tops of the ten thousand Japanese white cedar trees in the Seven Mountain nursery, above Potters Mills. He reported the depredations of the deer to the Forestry department and he was first advised to sprinkle blood on the tops of the young trees but when Mr. McKinney informed them of the number of trees of the species that appears to be a choice morsel for the deer he was told to belt the plot with blood, and this was done.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

The roster of the local Red Cross will appear next week.

J. Frank Bible, of near Aaronsburg, was a caller at this office one day recently.

The Jackson Day dinner, next Tuesday, at the Bush House, is looked forward to by Democrats with great interest.

Misses Bess and Breeze Benner, of Philadelphia, were arrivals in town just before Christmas. They visited their mother, Mrs. Nancy Benner.

Mrs. John Stuart, of State College, a sister of Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, of Centre Hall, will spend the winter in St. Petersburg, Florida. She paid a visit to Mrs. Jacobs last week.

Daniel Delaney went back to the old home in Little Nittany Valley to be with old acquaintances during the holiday season. Of course, he visited his daughter, Mrs. John Doolan.

J. B. Royer, who makes his home with his sister, Mrs. H. C. Shirk, in Centre Hall, spent the Christmas season with friends in Altoona where he resided before coming here.

P. Roy Dutrow, of Williamsport, came to town a few days before Christmas, and with Mrs. Dutrow, who had come here a week previous, remained among relatives until after the first day of the new year.

The PINK label on your paper or on wrapper this week calls your attention to a change in the date if you are entitled to it through reason of having paid subscription recently. If your label fails to show 23, you know you are in arrears, and we need the money.

While working in a barn for George McCormick, at Potters Mills, John Armstrong had the misfortune to fall from the overhead and before striking the floor fell onto a wagon tongue, resulting in breaking his right arm near the shoulder.

A few days before Christmas J. W. Bradford had the misfortune to tear a ligament in one of his ankles, which injury was the result of a misstep while walking through the flouring mill. He was obliged to resort to crutches to locomote.

A large number of the Reporter subscribers sent to it Christmas and New Year's greetings and in doing so enclosed a year's subscription. The result brought real Christmas cheer. Many thanks. Subscriptions paid before January 2nd are credited on the pink label which appears this week.

The Dewart Milk Products Co. purchased the co-operative creamery and equipment at Trout Run, which had been a butter creamery operated by the farmers for ten years very similar to that of the Grange Co-operative creamery once conducted at Centre Hall.

It appears from present plans that the first work to be done on the State highways in this section, on the opening of spring, is to surface the road over Nittany Mountain from the Centre Hall side to the brick road, in accomplishing this several sizes of stone will be used and a steam roller to pack them.

As has been her custom during the past few years, Mrs. M. E. Strohm has closed her home in Centre Hall, and Saturday before Christmas went to Scranton where she will remain for some time with her son, Rufus, and later go to Phillipsburg, New Jersey, to be with her daughters, Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Burkholder.

Mrs. John Diehl, of Millinburg, was in town for a day recently, and visited her cousin, Miss Gertrude Flory. Mrs. Diehl is a sister of F. P. Flory, of near Tusseyville. She stated that her brother-in-law, Rev. N. J. Dubbe, also of Millinburg and well known through this section, has again recovered his old-time vigor after a siege of illness.

The real estate in Millheim of the late Emanuel Kerstetter, offered at public sale by the executors, was sold to Reese G. Auman and James Treaster. The three building lots adjoining the homestead were purchased by Auman for $170, and the other tract, containing one acre and 113 perches, was knocked down to Treaster for $525.
