

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

William Reese, who has been employed at Avis for several months, visited his family here during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schaeffer made a trip to Williamsport to visit Mrs. Schaeffer's sister, Mrs. Frank McCrimin.

Philip A. Auman is back to Centre Hall, after having been at Birdsboro, at the home of a daughter-in-law for several months.

Miss Cora Luse, a teacher in one of the Altoona city schools, returned to her work Tuesday morning to be ready to open her school on Wednesday.

Bradford and Company purchased a new Ford truck to be used in delivering coal, feeds, etc., and general hauling from and to the Centre Hall flouring mills.

Walter Garrity, of the Seven Mountains, a friend of all mankind, was a pleasant caller at the Reporter office on Tuesday, and extended New Year's greetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Jacobs and two bright children, Frances Elizabeth and Gux, Jr., enjoyed the holiday season in Centre Hall, at the home of Mr. Jacobs' mother.

Carl A. Auman, of Steubenville, Ohio, was home over Christmas on a very short vacation, for Carl has recently embarked in the wholesale meat business and is driving two trucks to supply his trade. His young friends wish him every success.

A Christmas present of $77.00 in hard cash from his several appointments had the effect of bringing a genuine smile upon the countenance of Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, local Presbyterian minister, when telling others of his good fortune.

A team of horses was purchased by Paul Bradford at the public sale of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jerome Auman, at Birdsboro, Berks county. The team was brought here by a young man, who left there on Christmas, arriving here Saturday following.

Mrs. Ida Williams is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Keller, at Linden Hall, aiding in the inventory of merchandise. The business is being taken over by Livingston and Thompson, the former assuming charge of the postoffice at the same place.

Summer Packer, a student in the University of Pittsburg, is at his home in Centre Hall, suffering with an affection of the mastoid bone, the result of an illness with tonsillitis contracted shortly before beginning his vacation. He hopes to resume his studies at Pitt within the next week.

As has been her custom for some years, Mrs. O. F. Funk went to Pittsburg before the holidays and took her place in the well known store of Boggs and Buhl as a sales lady. She spent a number of years in that store before coming to Centre Hall, and now is called there during rush seasons.

William Harold is the name the first heir to Mr. and Mrs. William W. Kerlin will carry throughout his life. He was almost eight pounds big when born the second day after Christmas which was an anniversary of the father's ushering in. The mother and babe are doing fine under the care of Mrs. Elliot Smith, R. N., of Pittsburg.

E. M. Huyett expects to leave today for Battle Creek, Michigan, where he will enter the famous sanitarium at that place with the hope of regaining his former good health. He expects to be gone a month, at least. He will be accompanied on the trip by Andrew McNitt, a former partner in the lumber business, who, however, will return home immediately.

Fred L. Christine, of Tacoma, Wash., well known in this section, and brother of Mrs. T. L. Moore, holds a prominent and responsible position with the Northern Pacific R. R. Co. in Tacoma. Among his gifts at Christmas time was a letter from the president of the road intoning a check for $300.00, aside from his salary, in appreciation of his services during the recent strike.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Markle and two sons are now located on the Colyer farm, east of Old Fort, having moved there from the Spicher farm about the same distance west of that point. The first guests to be entertained after reaching their present location, was Mr. Markle's father, also a brother, Richard Markle, and wife, of Altoona. The brother is a plumber and since this is a busy season for the clan his stay here was but for a few days.

The two old customs—the singing of carols as Christmas comes in and the ringing of the church bells, and the blowing of whistles as the New Year is ushered in—were kept alive locally and should always be kept alive by the youths of every community. It is a sour soul that objects to be aroused from his slumbers by the singing and the noise attending these two fine old customs. It is youth giving expression to the anticipation of joy. Every heltry should be open and the rope hung low, as the old year dies, so that nothing hinders youth from announcing the birth of the New Year.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Rev. and Mrs. Roy Corman, of Cresona, arrived in town by auto on Tuesday evening.

Who has not read it and said it: "Day by day, in every way, I am growing better and better."

Mrs. Kate Saunders, who has been ill in Bellefonte during the past few weeks of pneumonia, is not improving.

Miss Ruth Shreckengast returned to Greensburg, on Sunday, to resume teaching in the public schools of that borough.

Mrs. I. V. Musser, of Millinburg, was taken to the Dr. Hart private hospital, Williamsport, recently where she underwent an operation.

Mrs. Albert Meyer and children, Marion and Lee, on Saturday went to Linden Hall to visit Mrs. Meyer's brother, Howard Frazier.

Mrs. Harvey L. Hess, of Trevorton, was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) M. C. Drumm, at the Lutheran parsonage, over the holidays.

Two engines and ten passenger coaches, on Tuesday evening, carried a portion of the Penn State students to State College for the second semester.

Mrs. John E. Rishel, of near Tusseyville, has been quite ill for a few days, but the beginning of this week was able to be out of bed and on a fair way to recovery.

Miss Jennie Foreman, of Centre Hall, was one of the numerous subscribers to the Reporter who appeared recently at the office to advance the figures on the label on her paper.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Potter and the Potter children—Hazel and Harold—ask the Reporter to thank the Lutheran Sunday school for the remembrances at Christmas time.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hazel, of Unionville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Smith. Mr. Hazel, who is a fall-road carpenter, is a son of Mrs. Sarah Hazel, who is now making her home with the Smith family.

Masters Robert and Philip McClenahan have taken over the news agency from Curtis Reiber and they respectfully solicit a continuance of the trade in Philadelphia morning papers. All payments should be made to them from the present time on.

Miss Mildred Swabb, daughter of the late James Swabb, of Potter township, was among friends about Pottery Mills during the past ten days. Miss Mildred makes her home with Mr. Fryer, an uncle, in Sunbury, and is a student in the Sunbury city schools.

Mrs. Jean Dumus, who before marriage was Miss Ruth Ruble, of Chicago, is at the home of her mother, Mrs. John B. Ruble, in Centre Hall, having come east just before Christmas. She is contemplating leaving for her Chicago home within a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weaver, of State College, on Monday became guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Archie Meyer, in Centre Hall. Mrs. Meyer, just a few days previous, returned from the Gedinger Hospital, Danville, where she was very successfully operated on for the removal of a goiter.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Stewart, of New Bloomfield, were guests of Mrs. Stuart's sister, Mrs. Lucy Henney, in Centre Hall, from Saturday until Monday. In crossing the Seven Mountains the car in which they were riding narrowly escaped sliding from the bridge, just below the horse shoe curve. A pulling post held the car from going over.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude K. Stahl, of Philadelphia, were at the parental home of Mr. Stahl over Christmas. Mr. Stahl is employed on the clerical force of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in its Broad Street station offices. He and Mrs. Stahl are contemplating purchasing a home along "Main Line" in the near future, which indicates the wave of prosperity was not wholly lost on them.

Misses Carrie and Elizabeth Sweetwood, the former of Philadelphia and the latter of Trenton, N. J., were at the parental home in Centre Hall over Christmas. Miss Carrie was accompanied by Dr. Mollie Geiss, of Philadelphia, and Miss Elizabeth by Mrs. Nellie Rockefeller, of Trenton. Miss Carrie, a registered nurse, has decided to give up private duty and has accepted a position in the Children's Hospital, Department of Prevention of Disease, Philadelphia.

The construction of the guard posts and cables along the State highway over Nittany Mountain, above Centre Hall, is under the supervision of Geo. Dunkelbarger, of Lemont. Most of the work was done during the severe weather prior to the holidays, but the workmen kept to it, and it is now pretty well completed. Mr. Dunkelbarger has charge of the road between State College and Pleasant Gap, a piece of road carrying exceedingly heavy traffic for its type—water bound and oiled. This road has been giving remarkably good service and at least part of the credit for its standing up for use must be attributed to the good care given it by its caretaker.

Saves Workman's Life.

Rev. R. R. Jones, of Lutzville, former pastor of the Reformed church at Centre Hall, had a rather thrilling experience that resulted in the loss of his car by fire and by quick thought and action on his part the life of a workman was saved. Mr. Jones had taken his car to a local garage and while the mechanic was underneath it making some adjustments, flames broke out from some unaccountable cause. The mechanic was almost instantly enveloped in the flames, his clothing taking fire. He was gotten out from under the car, and then removing his own outer clothing Rev. Jones threw them about him, succeeding in smothering the fire. Both men received severe burns. The garage was consumed and was also several cars. At Christmas time Rev. Jones was given a purse of $200 to aid him in securing a new motor vehicle. He is now driving a Ford sedan.

P. O. S. of A. Install Officers.

The following officers were installed in the Spring Mills Camp P. O. S. of A. on Monday evening by the installing officer, E. S. Ripka, assisted by T. L. Smith and W. H. Bland: Past President—W. H. Hettinger. President—Elias Weaver. Vice President—John Moser. Master of Forms—Daniel Smith. Recording Sec.—Jerry Albright. Asst. Recording Sec.—C. F. Albright. Financial Secretary—G. C. King. Winter Wheat Area.

The area seeded this fall is estimated at 1,336,000 acres or 96 per cent of last year's seeded acreage. The condition of the crop on December 1st was 79 per cent of a normal as compared with 95 per cent last year and 93 per cent, the average condition for the past ten years on December 1st.

BOALSBURG.

John Charles has placed a Bell telephone in his home.

Mrs. Sadie Kuhn and daughter Mildred, of Williamsport, visited among friends over Christmas.

The public schools are again open after a two weeks' vacation, we all hope with a new interest.

The L. O. O. F. have set Jan. 18th as the time for holding their banquet. The supper will be served on the cafeteria plan.

Harry Kuhn and wife and little daughter, of Williamsport, spent over Christmas with their parents. They say they like living in Williamsport.

William Reish had a fine new Wellmore piano placed in his home to add to the joy of Christmas. The piano was purchased of George E. Meyer.

The death of Mrs. Sarah Long (nee Sarah Stever) a few days before Christmas, brought feelings of sadness to our town. Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon; interment in Boalsburg cemetery.

Among the young people of this place who are working elsewhere and who spent Christmas here were Cyril Zoelmann, Charles Hosterman, Fred Isler, Fred Brouse, Albert Meyer, Cyrus Wagner, Miss Blanche Rowe.

The various Sunday schools had Christmas entertainments and treated their scholars—the Lutherans on Saturday evening, Dec. 23rd, and the Reformed's on Monday evening, Dec. 25th. The services were good and large audiences were present.

"HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN"

Toast Proposed by Loyal Scot Worthy of a Place Even in Scrapbook of Good Republican.

The following was on the back of a postal card recently received by a Kansas City man from a friend in Brussels. It evidently was composed during the life of the late Queen Victoria:

"No, Gentlemen, fill a' your glasses, for I'm about to bring forrit 'The Queen'. (Applause.) Our Queen, gentlemen, is really a wonderful woman, if I may say it. She's ane' o' the gud auld sort, nae whigmaleeries or falderals about her, but a dounce, dalcotent bodie. Respectable beyond a' doot. She's brocht up a grand family o' weel-fair'd lads and lassies—her auld-est son wad be a credit to ony mither, and they're a' weel married—a'e daughter is nae less than married to the duke o' Argyle's son and heir (Cheers.) Gentlemen, ye'll maybe no believe it, but I ance saw the Queen. (Sensation.) I did. It was when I took my auld broon coo to the Perth Show. I mind o' her weel—sic colour! sic hair! sic (Interruptions, and cries of 'Is it the coo or the Queen that ye're proposin'.) The Queen that ye're proposin' for pardon, but I was talkin' of the coo. However, as to the Queen; somebody pointed her out to me at the Perth Station. And there she was, smart and tidy-like; and says I to myself, 'Gin my auld woman at hame slips awa', ye needna remain a widow another hoor langer'. (Cheers.) Noo, gentlemen, the whisky's gude, the nicht's lang, the weather's weel, and the roads are soft and will harm naebody that comes to grief. So aff w' ye; every glass to the bottom—'The Queen'!"—Kansas City Star.

WILL NOT SUBMIT TREATY.

Swiss Parliament Will Not Get Arms Pact, League Is Told.

Geneva.—The League of Nations has just been notified by the Swiss Government that the latter feels it is obliged to abandon its original intention of submitting the St. Germain arms convention to the Swiss Parliament.

The reason given is that the refusal of the United States to sign will nullify the entire convention, which represented the first serious international effort to limit the private manufacture of arms.

League officials hope that the United States Government, having expressed sympathy with the League's aims in this respect, will promptly consent to indicate what are its specific objections to the St. Germain text.
