The First National Bank Centre Hall, Pa.

A Teakettle Bank in a Cornfield

A sly old fellow was Farmer Brown. Hard working, honest, saving-but no faith in any one but himself.

He placed his hard earned savings in an old teakettle which he hid in his cornfield.

It was discovered by tramps-sorrowfully he learned that it was no place to keep money.

What does it profit a man to save his money and hide it in a teakettle?

Of course very few people today literally place their money and faith in old teakettles, but countless numbers are still banking their hard earned funds in the old kettle of indifference without even thought of the oncoming tramps who so often discover its hiding place.

Your money and valuables should be properly cared for. Discard teakettles and let us show you the wisdom of making this bank your regular depository either in a savings or checking account, and by the use of our safe deposit facilities and place it out of reach of the tramps.
