

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Miss Grace Smith, on Saturday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock.

Car Camel Coal; car Lump Coal. Come and get your supply soon.—C. P. LONG CO., Spring Mills, Pa.

Mrs. Jewett Brooks and little daughter, of near Centre Hall, made a trip to Bellefonte, the latter part of last week.

Mrs. S. H. Heckman and Miss Tracy Kreamer, of Johnstown, on Monday, came to the home of their father, H. W. Kreamer.

Albert Bartsch, son of W. D. Bartsch, on account of sickness has been unable to attend the Vocational school at Spring Mills for ten days.

Just unloaded a carload of cement—a high quality brand. Get prices before buying elsewhere.—William McClenahan, Centre Hall.

Murray C. Drescher and sister, who have been living at Boolsburg since the death of their mother, Mrs. Sarah Drescher, will move to Millmont, R. D.

Frank A. Carson, of Pottery Mills, publishes letters of administration in the estate of John Wilkinson, late of Potter township, deceased, in this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bitner will soon set up housekeeping in a portion of the Weaver home, on Church street. Mrs. Weaver has reserved two rooms but expects to be away from the place most of the time.

Miss Mary Kennedy, who has been in Altoona since last fall, arrived in town Friday. After a few days' stay here she will again return to Altoona, where she has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Edward L. Bartholomew.

The little daughter of Mrs. Alm Rickett, who makes her home with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Stoner, at Centre Hall, became quite ill a few days ago, necessitating the calling of her mother from State College to her bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Detrow, on Thursday of last week, went to Williamsport to visit their son, P. Roy Detrow, who became ill and was taken to a hospital in that city. The young man is a World War veteran and since has been in delicate health.

Mrs. Kate Saunders came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Krape, in Centre Hall, on Monday. Mrs. Saunders had been very ill for two months, in Bellefonte. She is yet very feeble, but considering the severity of her illness she is today in a hopeful condition.

Rev. A. H. Spangler, of Yeagertown, recently attended the funeral of his mother at Shanksville, Somerset county. She was the oldest lady in her community, having attained the age of one hundred and one years, and to the end to a large degree retained her mental faculties.

Messrs. O. F. Funk, Samuel Bitner, of Centre Hall, and Edward Brown, of near Pottery Mills, were witnesses who went to Bellefonte Thursday of last week, on account of the Burkholder dog case. Mr. and Mrs. Burkholder and daughter were also witnesses. The outcome is noted elsewhere in this issue.

James C. Goodhart, who stocked his Centre Hill farm, has decided to leave his tenant, Elmer C. Langle, find his own stock. This compels him to make sale, which he announces for Tuesday, March 27, ten o'clock. Mr. Goodhart, like all his previous sales, will sell a fine lot of horses, cows and young cattle.

The store room in the P. O. P. building as finished now presents a better appearance than at any time in its history—better than when occupied. It has been repapered and repainted and the shelving fitted up in good shape. The painting was done by W. S. Slick and the papering by John Coldron.

The following is reprinted from the Watchman: Mrs. W. W. Bible has had as house guests during the past week her sisters, Mrs. Harter, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. C. E. Saunders, of Juniata; Mrs. Christy Smith being the fourth sister, Mrs. Bible and Mrs. Smith both entertained with quilting parties in celebration of their being together the first time in twenty-one years. Mrs. Harter returned home on Thursday, after a week's visit in Bellefonte, while Mrs. Saunders came down for an over night visit only.

The grand jury expressed the sentiments of the writer when in its report to the court it recommended the leveling of the walk around the Curtin monument. At the time of the opening of the court, there was a sheet of water of from one to three inches in depth within a few feet of the monument. To one not on the jury, a pile of dirty snow, banked several feet high, near the monument, looked as though it wanted to be removed to a less conspicuous place. The conditions about the square, on Monday of court looked like h—. The grand jury saw it, too.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Ruth Musser, of Spring Mills, was a guest recently of her sister, Mrs. Ralph Dinges, near Centre Hall.

Just received a carload of Alpha Portland cement; also carload of small stove coal.—A. M. Grove, Spring Mills, Pa.

To haul the freight train from Sunbury to Bellefonte over the Lewisburg and Tyrone branch, on Monday, three engines were put to use at different times. At Centre Hall the throttle lever broke, but this was electrically welded at the Moyer wedding shop.

A bond issue for $100,000 is authorized in an ordinance introduced and passed on first reading by Williamsport City Council. The funds will be used to carry out the first steps of a paving program to be launched next summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Homan, on Saturday, went to Shamokin where for a few days they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Runkle. One of the pleasures anticipated was to hear Dr. W. E. Fischer, former pastor of this place, preach in his Shamokin church.

The large Linden tree to the front of Mrs. Margaret Smith's home in Centre Hall was induced to put forth leaves during the excessively warm weather of last week, and like the robins that came up north had some real winter weather to encounter and may have more.

A car driven by H. C. Robinson, of Milesburg, the fiber broom manufacturer, was struck at the Milesburg railroad crossing by an express train and badly wrecked. Mr. Robinson was not injured, although the car was struck with such force as to knock him from the front to the back seat.

A crate of "coon" brand oranges was forwarded by parcel post from California by Jesse Frederick to his sister, Mrs. John M. Coldron. Of course, this was a miniature crate and the oranges were likewise small. The packages are made up especially for remembering friends at distant points.

Russel Wolf, son of Rev. and Mrs. D. J. Wolf, of Homestead, stopped off over night, last week, with his grandfather, Alfred Durst. When a boy, Mr. Wolf spent considerable time in Centre Hall. He is now married and is living in Pittsburgh and is a salesman for a firm manufacturing heating plants.

Miss Gertrude R. Musser, daughter of former Commissioner R. D. Musser, of Spring Mills, forwarded a check to the Reporter and asked to be enlisted as one of its great family. Miss Musser is employed as a bookkeeper in the offices of the Pennsylvania railroad company in Harrisburg, having held that position for several years.

For twenty-three years E. W. Crawford has been employed in the local creamery by various individuals and companies operating it. For five or six years he conducted the place for the Dewar Products Company, which corporation now owns and operates it. It is Mr. Crawford's intention to change occupations. His successor has not been named.

Nieman's Store Remodeled.

Patrons of Nieman's Department Store, Millheim, are agreeably surprised upon entering the store to observe a complete remodeling of the interior, which has just been completed. New glass show cabinets contain the various articles of merchandise, giving a decided appearance of cleanliness and up-to-dateness such as seen only in the department stores of the larger cities. Nieman's has taken on a rug department which promises to increase the business of this progressive store to a large extent.

Mr. Nieman extends an invitation to everyone to pay his store a visit and examine the quality of merchandise being handled.

Literary Program Friday Evening.

The Centre Hall High school will hold their postponed literary program on Friday evening of this week in the Grange hall, when they will meet the Millheim team in debating and spelling contests. Everybody invited.

CHOOSE THEIR OWN LEADERS

Eskimo Tribe Has Made Conspicuous Success in an Effort at Self-Government.

From Point Hope, 300 miles north of the Arctic circle, comes a remarkable story of a self-governing Eskimo community which has been successfully carried on there for the last six years. Under the tutelage of missionaries equal suffrage has been established among the Tigras, who annually in town meeting elect from among themselves the omak, or council of leading men, who in turn enact the local laws and see to their enforcement among the thousand natives who inhabit the region.

Originally the omak was composed of seven men, it is recounted. But it was found later that five was a better number. From the beginning of the experiment the right of suffrage was given to men and women alike, in the selection of the council. Christmas was fixed as the day of the election because on that day all of the tribesmen come into the settlement for feasting and merry-making. The names are written on a blackboard, and the five securing the greatest number of votes are declared elected, while that one of the five who receives the greatest number of votes becomes the chief councilman.

Spiders and Music. It has been asserted that spiders possess a sensitiveness to musical sounds. Some species seem to respond to the note of the piano, the harp, the flute, and so on, in a manner suggestive of their ability to recognize these sounds or the harmonic vibrations on which they are based. But a member of the College of France, who is said to have made a special study of the instincts and the supposed "psychism" of spiders, thinks that the apparent sensitiveness of these creatures to music has been misunderstood. It is his opinion that when musical instruments are played near their nests the spiders simply feel the vibrations through their webs, or otherwise, without recognizing the musical notes as sounds. The effect upon them is similar to that of the buzzing of an entrapped fly. He does not ascribe much "intelligence" to spiders.—Washington Star.

First Bible in English.

The first complete version of the English Bible was that of Miles Coverdale. It appeared in 1535, and was based on the Swiss-German version published at Zurich in 1524-1529. In 1382 there had appeared a version attributed to Wycliffe, but the gospels alone can be identified as the work of Wycliffe himself. The translation of the Old Testament and the Apocrypha is the work of Nicolas de Hereford. The translation of the New Testament by William Tyndale appeared at Worms in 1525; later editions in 1534-35. The King James version, otherwise known as the authorized version, was begun in 1604 and published in 1611.

Social Justice in Earlier Ages.

The disturbing thing is the constant discovery that earlier ages were equal to us in what we may broadly call moral progress. The minimum wage in ancient Babylon, the emphasis on justice in the Egyptian code, the same standard of personal conduct everywhere, the concern of the gods for righteousness, the full democracy of Athens and Rome, the beginning of the enfranchisement of women, the privileges of the Roman workers, the complete scheme of free education, the trade combinations. It certainly looks as if we ought to be much more advanced than we are in 1921.—J. McCabe in "The Evolution of Civilization."
