

LOVE'S MOCKING BIRD.
By "Ellsworth Camerly."

'Twas in the fall of one September,
I met a girl I oft remember,
It sure was love that drew me there,
Altho now Fate will have its share.

The Cupid then within me danced,
And once the cords of love were lanced,
My thoughts were building castles fair,
And once again Fate took a share.

Her lips and cheeks were of a rose,
And for an artist she could pose;
Those tresses were of dark brown shade
And framed the picture God had made.

With eyes that pierced your very soul,
You hurried on to reach the goal;
But once again you bow your head,
And wish to God that you were dead.

You've asked her for a small caress,
It's nothing more, and little less
Than clinging to a broken oar,
While waves are drifting you from shore.

With love installed within my heart,
I sure do hate from thee to part;
Love comes but once to man or beast,
Unto the greatest and the least.

I've cherished you with hope and trust,
That some time you would shake the dust
From off your feet where you now trod,
I pray for help from yonder God.

I sure had thought the race was run,
The battle fought, the victory won;
But, Oh! Alas! I met rebuff,
Which told me plainly 'twas enough.

Now then with thoughts on brighter days,
I tread more careful Cupid's ways;
Some time with more hope in my chest
I'll simply say this was a jest.

I weep and cry at this here fate,
Who has its hands on me of late;
I'll now step into one more mass,
Which old maids call the batchelor class.

I've sought in vain to find a wife,
Who would go with me thru life;
But they would smile and only laugh,
"You homely looking old giraffe."

MILLHEIM.

(From the Journal.)
Mrs. John Kemmerer, of Loganton, is at the Nathaniel Boob home taking care of her sister, Mrs. Boob, who has been quite ill with grip.
Mrs. Clara Weiser went to Altoona last Thursday, being summoned there on account of her son-in-law, Charles Breon, undergoing an operation in the Altoona hospital.
Jay H. Winegardner, who is firing on the Pennsylvania railroad between Sunbury and Mt. Carmel, arrived at his home in Millheim Saturday evening and has since been confined to the house suffering with grip.
Charles H. Hosterman, of Buffalo, N. Y., was circulating among friends in Millheim and vicinity during the week. He and his wife were summoned here on account of the death of Mrs. Hosterman's mother, Mrs. Erie Vonada, which occurred at her home in Gregg township on Sunday evening.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS
is greatly relieved by constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

In a Mummy's Pant's Pocket.
Up in the Cosmopolitan Museum lies all that is mortal of His Imperial Majesty A-men-hotep, late King of Egypt, who, in the year 5000 B. C. ruled the lands of the Upper and Lower Nile.
Bound up in a couple of miles of three-inch adhesive tape—in a glass case—he is an object of much curiosity.
In the outer folds of the mummy's windings—IN A MUMMY'S PANTS POCKET—was found an Egyptian silver coin, resembling our ten-cent piece, and worth that amount at the present rate of exchange.
THINK what that money would have been worth if he had kept it in a savings account all this time instead of his pocket!—
Principal ..... $ .10
Years—6,921.
Interest Compounded.
As near as we can figure it A-men-hotep's ten cents would have been worth $16,000,000,000.10 this year.
Never can tell how long you are going to live.
