

NO OPERATION FOR HER

She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Escaped the Operation Doctor Advised

Louisville, Ky.—"I wish to thank you for what your medicine has done for me. I was in bed for eight or nine days every month and had a great deal of pain. The doctor said my only relief was an operation. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines and tried the Vegetable Compound and the Sensitive Wash, and they surely did wonders for me. I feel fine all the time now, also am picking up in weight. I will tell any one that your medicines are wonderful, and you may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. Ed. BOEHLER, 1130 Ash St., Louisville, Ky.

Backache, nervousness, painful times, irregularity, tired and run-down feelings, are symptoms of female troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken whenever there is reason to fear such troubles. It contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they may work in a healthy, normal manner. Let it help you as it has thousands of others. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now selling almost all over the world.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE "RUN DOWN"

A "RUN DOWN" feeling is a danger signal. If you neglect it, you are leaving the door wide open to dangerous diseases. Build yourself up to health and strength with Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It will purify and enrich your blood, tone up your nervous system, and help you eat well, sleep well and feel well. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is a time-tried tonic, recommended by physicians for over 30 years. At your druggist—liquid or tablets, as you prefer.

Deck the Altar with Blossoms Fair

Words by H. A. La Fontaine Music by Rev. J. S. W. Hodges

Deck the Al tar with blos-soms fair, Pil-lar and chan-cel with gar-lands rare. All ye peo-ple in har-mony sing, Christ our Word is ris-en a King. All ye an-gels in glory on high with glad an-thems fil-ling the sky.

Al-le-lu-ia! Al-le-lu-ia! Al-le-lu-ia!

All ye lil-ies with in-cense rare Bling-ing your fra-grance on the air All ye flow-ers that spring from earth And ye bells that chime the New birth. All who e-ver in Christ's grave lay Shall rise with him on Cas-ter Day.

Al-le-lu-ia! Al-le-lu-ia! Al-le-lu-ia!

No Human Being Saw the Savior Leave the Tomb

It is strange to consider the fact that the most extraordinary event in the world's history was witnessed by no human being. Jesus rose from the dead, but no body beheld His resurrection. The soldiers placed as guards at the sepulcher were first to discover that the body was gone. They saw the stone (which sealed the entrance) rolled away, and soon afterward, going in, they found the tomb empty. Mary Magdalen was first to arrive at the tomb the next morning, which was Sunday. Finding it empty, save for the white linen cloths in which the body had been wrapped, she hastened in great distress to Peter and John, her supposition being that it had been stolen.

Peter and John could hardly believe what she told them, but, going to the sepulcher thereupon, they verified her statement. John had been an eyewitness of the crucifixion. He knew that Jesus was dead, and to his mind that tremendous fact was final. To all the followers of the Master His death was a shock peculiarly dreadful because they had taken it for granted that He could never die. After His execution, they had no notion that He would return to them, and, as will presently be shown, even the apostles were at first wholly incredulous of His resurrection.

John tells how he saw the soldiers break the bones of the two thieves, as they hung on their crosses, to hasten their death; and, further, that they did not do this to Christ because He was dead already—a fact which was made sure by a spear which one of the soldiers thrust into Jesus' side.

Tomb Guarded by Soldiers. Jesus had preached doctrines which the authorities in Jerusalem regarded as dangerously socialistic. In addition, His teachings had given offense to the Jewish priesthood, which stirred up popular feeling against Him. Arrested on trumped-up charges, He was condemned to death to satisfy the mob and appease the rancor of His high-placed enemies. Pilate, though he weakly yielded to the demand for Jesus' condemnation, had himself no sympathy with the proceedings. It was therefore with entire willingness that he granted to Joseph of Arimathea permission to take down the body and see to its interment.

Joseph of Arimathea was a rich man. He had, a short time previous, ordered the construction of a burial vault, cut out of solid rock—presumably for the use of his own family.

Hither the body, wrapped in white linen, was taken and laid out to await embalming. Thereupon it was that certain Jews went to Pilate and said to him: "Sir, we remember that the Deceiver said, while He was yet alive: 'After three days I will rise again.' Command, therefore, that His sepulcher be made sure, lest His disciples come by night and steal Him away, and say unto the people, 'He is risen from the dead.'"

Pilate granted the request, and sent a squad of soldiers to guard the tomb, against the opening of which they rolled a large bowlder, to close it. But in the night an earthquake came, the bowlder was rolled away, and, when the soldiers entered the sepulcher, a little later, the body had disappeared.

An Angel Appears. We read: "One of the soldiers came and said, 'Know that Jesus is risen.' The Jews said, 'How?' And he replied, 'First there was an earthquake; then an angel of the Lord, bearing lightning, came down from Heaven and rolled away the stone,'

And the angel answered and said unto the woman, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus that was crucified. He is not here, for He is risen as He said.—Matt. 28; 5-6.

and sat upon it. And, through fear, all of us soldiers became as dead men, and could neither see nor speak."

The soldiers, worried lest the disappearance of the body bring punishment upon them, sought advice from the high priests, who gave them money, saying, "Say you His disciples came at night and stole Him away while we were asleep." The priests promised to square the matter with Pilate, and so the affair was adjusted.

"He Is Risen." The same morning (Sunday), after Mary Magdalen, Peter and John had visited the tomb and gone away again, women came to embalm the body in accordance with the Jewish custom, bringing myrrh and spices for the purpose. On entering the sepulcher they saw (according to St. Mark), an angel—"a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment." They were frightened, but the angel said: "Be not affrighted. Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified. He is risen; He is not here."

The immediate followers of Jesus were not only overwhelmed with distress by His death, but felt a very natural alarm for their own safety. They could not fail to perceive that they were in great danger. At any moment they might be arrested as criminals, and meet the same hideous fate as that which had overtaken their Master. Their best chance was to scatter and hide, and to remain hidden until

GREAT MEN MERELY HUMAN

"Select of the Earth" Really Differ Very Little From the Rest of Mankind.

Once when a grave ambassador visited an English king he was ushered into a room where he found the king on all fours, his son mounted upon his back and riding him hard. Around the tables, in and out between the chairs, the horse traveled while the gray-haired ambassador cheered the rider on.

Abraham Lincoln carried a load of responsibility and care that might have staggered the bravest man, but in the midst of his sore distress he found time to slip away to spend an hour with Tad, and when his duties called him from home he could still find time to write a note to the child he had left behind—tender little messages breathing fatherly thought and affection.

Our own Roosevelt—there was a man's man, but he found time to father his children. He knew how to play with them. Remember that story of his playing "hide and seek" in the barn with the pack of youngsters in full cry? He was then President of the United States. There was every reason why he should have cried from the frolic; he was not as young as he had been; his office was one of tremendous dignity and of such responsibility as to make his life not his own, but a people's trust. Still he played with the children.

Twanging the Lyre.

The Kansan and the Texan were telling each other of the thoroughgoing, efficient nature of cyclones in their respective states.

Said the Kansan: "Well, sir, it was in 1906 and I was drilling for oil. Knew it was there, about 2,000 feet down, but I had just got down a thousand and ran out of money. Figured I was busted. Along came a Kansan twister and didn't do a thing but suck the bottom out of that well and bring in a gusher. Hard to believe, but the well's there yet."

Said the Texan: "Sure, I believe it. That's nothing. During the drought of '37 my cattle in west Texas were dying fast. I set out to drill for water. Got down about a mile and still digging dust. Figured I'd better ride over to town and ask the school teacher how far I could go before I struck China. Well, sir, while I was gone a Texas cyclone came along, took rig, well and all. When I got back there was a lake a mile across and spreading fast, and the strange part was that the water was a regular Chinese yellow and just wiggling with cross-eyed tadpoles."—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Trapping the "Flu" Germ.

Germ of the "flu" has been "isolated," which is the doctors' word for caged, so that it can be microscopied. It is, no doubt, dashing wildly about, gnashing its teeth with rage; and as demagogically possessed of the will to do evil as if it were a baleful-eyed fire-breathing dragon of the sort that St. George slew.

There are dragons in our day, too; only they are well-nigh invisible. They are as ravenous of sentient life as anything which wandered among the great ferns of the steaming prehistoric ages, although a microscopic photographic picture of them makes them look no more ferocious than a hyphen or the point of a needle. All the large predatory animals that threatened man are extinct or on their way to extinction. It is the invisible world of malevolent creation that we have now to fear; and our resentment against the influenza germ hardens our hearts almost to a desire to practice cruelty upon it, if that were possible.

Had Money Enough.

Twenty years ago or so there used to be a story of a negro boy who refused to carry a grip uptown for a traveling salesman. "Give you a quarter," offered the salesman. "I got a quarter, boss." The same little darky, now grown, was encountered by a Kansas City man on a dark street the other night. As there was no one about, the Kansas City man shied to the edge of the sidewalk, giving the darky plenty of room. "Nev' mind, mister," the darky assured him. "I ain't gonna hold you up. I got as much money as you have."

Inspiring Interest.

"It took me a long time to get the opposition editor out home to print that extract from my speech," murmured Senator Sorghum. "How did you manage it?" "Wrote it in a letter addressed to somebody else, but apparently put into the wrong envelope and marked it conspicuously, 'Not for Publication.'"

An Oversight.
