The stork was busy last week, leaving a boy at the Clarence Corl home—the first born—and at the same time a boy at the Kelly Henry home. All are doing well.
Grover C. Corl, one of our popular young farmers, took ill Friday and was rushed to the Bellefonte hospital where an operation was performed on Saturday morning for appendicitis. The report is that he is getting along nicely.
Many changes are being made, mostly among farmers. The late end of the week will see many of them flitted to their new places of abode.
Some farmers are plowing for spring crops. Wheat is not looking very promising.
The Methodist folk of this section are well pleased over the return of their beloved pastor, Rev. J. W. McAlarney. It is likely that Huntington Furnace may be revived, thus making five appointments on the charge. Both Mr. McAlarney and his wife are held in high esteem not only by the congregation but by all the townspeople in general. The Rev. is a Civil war veteran and received a postal shower the first day of spring as a reminder of his 78th birthday. He is as sprightly as most men at fifty.
