

HORSE SALE—SATURDAY.

Carload of Western Horses to Be Sold at Centre Hall by Charles Hollman

Charles Hollman, of Lancaster, will sell at the Centre Hall hotel stables, on Saturday afternoon, April 7, at one o'clock, a car load of Western horses. These are general purpose horses, selected especially for sale in this community. Mr. Hollman is not a stranger here, as a horse dealer. He has held a number of sales in Centre Hall heretofore, and has always made good his word. All horses were just as represented. The sale on Saturday will be conducted on these lines; the buyer will be protected.

Farmers Move.

The are not a great many changes of tenants on farms in the vicinity of Centre Hall. A few are noted here: Harry E. Fye moves from the L. R. Lingle farm to that of A. W. Alexander, nearby; Clayton Musser, of Fye, and onto the Conley farm he vacates; George W. Sharer will move, having purchased it from Mr. Musser; Lee Brooks comes from Pleasant Gap to the Ross farm, east of Centre Hall; Lee R. Markle "officially" moves from the Spicher farm to the Colyer farm, east of Old Fort. The Spicher farm is now tenanted by Mr. Barger, who moved there from the Burkholder farm at Centre Hall. The latter place will again have its owner, John H. Burkholder, farming it. Mrs. Maynard Meeker also assumed charge of her farm near Potters Mills, going there from her town property. Paul Bradford is on the Old Fort farm, owned by W. F. Bradford, the tenant on this latter farm having quit the farm to locate in the Lewistown district. O. M. Swartz, who was right hand man for Thomas F. Delaney for several years, takes up farming for Edward Durst, west of Old Fort, and Ray Sharer goes to the Keller brothers' farm, east of town. Floyd Walker is now on the Potter farm, west of Centre Hall, having moved there from Linden Hall. The former tenant was J. W. Tressler, who located at Linden Hall. P. E. Mersinger left the Treasurer property, near Egg Hill church, to farm the Zolber place in the Penns Cave section. Fred Klinefelter moved from near Colyer to the Mothershead farm at Boalsburg.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

A. F. Heckman and family, of State College, were visitors in town on Monday.
J. H. P. Royer, of near Spring Mills, was a Reporter caller on Monday and enrolled as a subscriber.
Carl A. Brown, of Lock Haven, has been missing. A reward has been offered to anyone locating him.
The Centre Hall crew of road men are engaged on the State College road above Pleasant Gap, doing patch work.
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Daniels are spending a three weeks' vacation among relatives in Centre Hall. They are both engaged in a State hospital in Connecticut.
Mrs. H. E. Homan and daughter, Miss Corn, on Saturday went to State College to take care of Mrs. Homan's daughter, Mrs. Chester Homan, who was then quite ill.
John E. Rishbi, who for a number of years lived on the Fleisher farm near Sayre, is now in the latter part of last week moved into the John Luss property, purchased by him several months ago.
Messrs. H. H. Houser and R. G. McClellan, two of Linden Hall's progressive farmers, were business callers at the Reporter office on Monday and took a keen interest in the workings of the Idioty.
D. Milton Bradford, second man at the Pennsylvania railroad station at Centre Hall, on Monday was off duty to attend to business in Bellefonte. His place was taken by H. W. Brown, formerly of Spring Mills, now regularly in the Pennsy service.
Misses Mildred and Hazel Myers, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin S. Myers, of Altoona, visited among relatives in Centre Hall for a few days. Among other places they stopped was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McClenahan and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Durst.
The barn on the Felding farm, near Linden Hall, was pretty badly damaged by the storm of last week. The entire gable end was pushed in and a portion of the roof carried away. Aaron Thomas and a crew of men made the repairs. The place is tenanted by Wallace White.
Mr. and Mrs. Yalcico, of Bellefonte, will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Matko, on the Brookerhoff farm, south of Old Fort. Mr. Yalcico to be a helper on the farm. Mrs. Yalcico and two pretty little children, Agnes and Robert, last week, went to Bellefonte for a few days visit.

Lot Cond, moved from Potters Mills to Old Fort, where he opened a blacksmith shop. The house he occupies was vacated by Harry Meyer who moved across the road. Frank Phillips is now living at Potters Mills, where he will conduct a garage, the building now being under construction. William Snyder moved from Centre Hill to the McKinney home vacated by John H. Burkholder.

CENTRE COUNTY B. B. LEAGUE

Formed With Four Clubs—Bellefonte, State College, Centre Hall and Millheim—Arrange for 30-Game Schedule—Strictly Amateur Proposition.

The Centre County Baseball League was formed at a meeting of representatives from the towns of Centre Hall, Millheim, State College and Bellefonte, held at the Elks Club, Bellefonte, on Friday evening.

The following officers were elected: President of the league, Wilson I. Fleming, Bellefonte; secretary-treasurer, Rancall Miller, Millheim; statistician, John Bower, Bellefonte.

The national pastime, as far as this league is concerned, is to be on a strictly amateur basis. Players must be residents of the district wherein they reside; each town has the privilege of drawing players from within a radius of six miles, Centre Hall, however, being granted the additional right to draw from Boalsburg such players as may be obtained from that point.

Each club may carry twenty-five players, who in order to be eligible to play during the season must be signed up by April 15. After this date no players may be added, regardless of whether or not a club's eligible list numbers twenty-five.

Play on Thursdays and Saturdays.

Each club must deposit the sum of $50.00 as a guarantee of good faith to complete its schedule, this sum to be refunded at the close of the season. The matter of umpires has not yet been fully determined, but it is planned that each club name two local men, these to be submitted to the board of directors of the league for acceptance. The organization aims to keep expenses to a minimum, and therefore did not entertain the idea of hiring outsiders more proficient arbiters from outside their territory. The honor system is to be employed, and it is believed will carry through if only true sportsmen whose love for the game is genuine have an active part in the sport.

Mingie House Sold.

The home well known as the W. D. Mingie property, in Centre Hall, was sold to George Seanson, of Linden Hall, the consideration having been $1900. The property was sold by the Mingie heirs to George E. Heckman several years ago for $4700. By Mr. Heckman a few months later it was sold to Dr. G. I. Yearick, and by him to Mr. Seanson.

Fire at Millheim.

Two business buildings on Main street, Millheim, were destroyed by fire early Saturday morning, the damage amounting to $30,000. The fire was discovered about 12:30 and was not controlled until 2:30. It was caused by a defective flue between the Stedman and Brubaker buildings.

Look for the PINK label next week. On it will be shown credit to all who are entitled to it by reason of having paid their subscription to the Reporter since the last PINK (not yellow) label appeared.

Wise—Wagner.

The marriage of Paul S. Wise, of Madisonburg, and Miss Rena E. Wagner, of Spring Mills, was solemnized in the Lutheran church at Spring Mills, on Sunday morning, at the close of the regular church services. The couple were attended by John W. Decker and Theresa Wagner, a sister of the bride. The beautiful ring ceremony was used by the bride's pastor, Rev. M. C. Drum.

The bride was dressed in white crepe de chene and looked charming. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper A. Wagner, of Spring Mills, and like the groom was engaged in teaching school for a period of five years. The couple will begin housekeeping on a farm near Madisonburg, and will be engaged in farming.

Greet Old Friends.

On Friday night a number of former neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Reish came from near Spring Mills to the Reish home in Centre Hall to spend the evening. The company was composed of the following: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Heckman and children, Carrie, Birdie, Renna, Robert and William Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ohi and son Richard, Mr. and Mrs. William Bressler and son Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Bressler and son William, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Krape, Mrs. Hoy and Clyde Lingle. Refreshments consisting of choice cake, ice cream, sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, popcorn and candy were served.

A Happy Occasion.

The Tyrone Herald of March 26 had the following which will be of interest to friends of Mrs. Mary ("Auntie") Shoop:

Monday Mrs. Emerson Karna, wife of Rev. Emerson Karna, D. D. superintendent of the Methodist Home for the Aged, Tyrone, very happily celebrated her birthday anniversary. The dinner, arranged in Mrs. Karna's honor, was a big surprise to this splendid lady, which of course made it all the more enjoyable for all concerned.

Penn State Student Seriously Injured.

Clifford Bauer, State College student, was in a serious condition last Thursday at an Ephensburg hospital, suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident the night previous. Dr. Grant Chambers, dean of the State College summer school, who was injured when his machine struck a rut in the road and overturned, was treated by an Ephensburg physician and was able to continue his journey to Pittsburgh.

For Parer Ice Cream.

The new Ice Cream Law strengthens and improves the law that it replaces and will insure for the people of Pennsylvania a higher quality ice cream. The purpose of the law is to prevent the use of coconut fat and other foreign fats and oils in the manufacture of ice cream. It also prohibits the use of paraffin in chocolate-coated ice cream and bars the use of other substances injurious to health.

The legalized use of gum tragacanth in ice cream making is eliminated in the new measure and the sole of any imitation or substitute for ice cream under any coined or trade name is also prohibited. It is further declared unlawful to offer ice cream for sale from any cabinet or container which contains any article other than ice cream, as for instance, oysters or fish. In brief, the present law prohibits the use of all chemical and doubtful substances that can prove injurious to the well-being of the consumer, Cream and its products will heretofore be the principal ingredients used in the manufacture of ice cream.

WILL A HEN LAY TWO EGGS A DAY?

The Question Is Answered in the Affirmative—Has Two Vents and Productive Organs.

The question frequently arises, is it possible for a hen to produce more than one egg a day? Those who are skeptical we invite to read the following report of the performance of a pen of English-American S. C. White Leghorns on the Kerlins' Grand View Poultry Farm of Centre Hall.

The Kerlins at the present time have two Champion pens under the trap-nests—every hen in trapped every day in the year. Pen No. 2 consists of fifteen hens and each hen possesses a pedigree covering a period of three to five generations. Their dams produced in their pullet year from 281 to 326 eggs. This pen is headed by a splendid cockerel from a hen with a trap-nest record of 326 eggs in one year, having seven generations of pedigreed ancestors, ranging in trap-nest records of 255 to 326 eggs, three of these seven years being above the 300 mark.

During the month of February, last, these hens produced on the trap-nests, 351 eggs. Individual records were preserved and Hen No. 28, daughter of a 326-egg hen, laid 28 eggs in the 28 days of February. Hen No. 30 laid two eggs February 4th and two eggs February 28th. She has "repeated" again during the present month. This pen of fifteen birds produced a trifle better than 12½ eggs per day during February and present indications are that they will "bold their own" during March.

Pen No. 1, the sister pen to No. 2, is making a record practically as marvelous although a few eggs under No. 2 for February. No. 1 however has had its membership increased recently by the addition of a hen from Chicago which the Kerlins hatched last season and shipped to a customer in the "Windy City" as a baby chick. This bird has the distinction of possessing two perfectly formed vents and productive organs. She is normal in every respect and is a good layer, although she has not to date produced more than one egg a day. The Kerlins, at the present writing, have a number of this bird's eggs under incubation and are awaiting results with no little interest.

This hen, who has been named "Madam Double X," has aroused considerable interest among the poultry fraternity throughout the country, all who have seen her declaring her to be in a distinct class by herself—W. W. Kerlin.

Note—This article was purposely withheld from last week's issue in order that we might be able to give our readers the complete March record of this exceptional pen of Leghorns. During the 31 days of March these 15 birds laid 481 eggs, or an average of practically 13 eggs per day. Hen No. 28, not being satisfied with her 199 percent record for February, laid 32 perfectly formed, good size eggs in March. Two eggs were deposited by her in the traps March 31st, giving her a record of 60 eggs in the 59 days of February and March. Three eggs were laid outside the traps this month to which no individual credit could be given. Hen No. 30 maintains a 100 percent record.

High School Baseball Schedule. Centre county High schools have adopted a baseball schedule for the spring of 1923, which season begins April 6 and ends May 18. There are two leagues—the Eastern, comprising the High schools of Centre Hall, State College, Millheim and Spring Mills, and the Western, comprising Blanchard, Hubbardburg, Howard and Port Matilda High schools. Following is the schedule of the Eastern League: Friday, April 6—Spring Mills at Centre Hall; State College at Millheim. Friday, April 13—Millheim at Centre Hall; Spring Mills at State College. Friday, April 20—Centre Hall at Millheim; State College at Spring Mills. Friday, April 27—Centre Hall at State College; Spring Mills at Millheim. Friday, May 4—(All open) Centre County Track and Field Meet, Saturday, May 5—all day. Friday, May 11—Centre Hall at Spring Mills; Millheim at State College. Friday, May 18—State College at Centre Hall; Millheim at Spring Mills. [Note—After the above schedule was put in type it was found necessary to change the schedule so that each game will be played one week later than on the dates above given.]

TIMOTHY HEAD LODGES IN LUNGS

Removed in Violent Fit of Coughing After Suffering for Six Months.

James Kinster, 6 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kinster, of Lewistown, swallowed a timothy head last August while playing in the field adjacent to his home. The swab-like head lodged on the youth's left lung and after repeated efforts to dislodge or remove the foreign object at the Lewistown hospital, he was, upon the recommendation of Dr. Rupp, to whom the case was referred after nothing could be done for him at the local hospital, taken to the Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, where Dr. Chavillier Jackson, a specialist along this line, immediately began series of x-ray photographs. Before these were completed the lad, in violent fit of coughing, dislodged the timothy head which measured one and one-fourth inches. For several weeks the lad's recovery was problematical as it was thought tuberculosis had developed, but now every hope is entertained for the lad's recovery.

Crider Miller Injured.

Crider Miller, a student at Franklin and Marshall college, enroute to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, of Colyer, met with a serious accident on Wednesday evening of last week. Mr. Miller was anxious to get to his home and when the passenger train stopped at Centre Hall, a local freight train was standing on the siding. Instead of waiting, he crossed between two cars of the freight train, walking on the end sill of one car. He got his traveling bag and was returning between the cars, when the freight train was signaled to give slack; this caused an unexpected jolt and his foot slipped, being caught between the bumper of one car and the end sill of the other car, crushing the right foot from the instep forward. He was rushed to the Bellefonte hospital by Dr. H. H. Longwell, where every effort is being made to avoid amputation. From what can be learned this is thought possible.

Extended Call to Minister.

The officers at the various appointments constituting the Centre Hall Reformed church recently met and extended a call to Rev. E. R. Kener, of Reading. It is not definitely known whether or not the young minister will accept. Rev. Kener is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall college, as well as of the seminary connected with that institution. He filled the pulpit on the charge on several occasions during the past winter, the result being a unanimous election as pastor at a salary of $1800.

Easter Day in the Lutheran Church.

The early sunrise children's service on Easter morn in the local Lutheran church was better attended than ever, 63 being present, in spite of the unusually cold weather.

The Holy Communion service in the afternoon was very well attended, 133 communion, many being sick and unable to be present. Two children were baptized, 2 adults confirmed and 10 added to the church by letter, making the present membership 228.

To Refund Liquor License Fees.

Representative Ogde, Somerset, introduced in the house a bill for the refunding of liquor license fees to saloon keepers. The measure provides that the unearned part of the license fees shall be returned after filing of a petition with the clerk of the court of quarter sessions.

Clement Gramley has been named acting postmaster at Rebersburg, succeeding Snyder Miller, deceased. Mr. Gramley has held the office of county auditor for some time, having been considered entitled to a slight reward for faithful political activities in his district which is largely Democratic. The appointment as postmaster is a further recognition of his regularity as a Republican and usefulness in his party. The postoffice is of the fourth grade, the salary being about $850.

Frank Florey, of Colyer, willingly paid the legal and customary fine of $25 a short time ago when confronted by Game Protector Thomas Mosier with information that the animal had been caught racing a deer. The deer was cut and torn by being bitten by the dog and about exhausted. In mercy, Mr. Mosier shot it. A neighbor of Florey's, seeing the dog on the heels of the deer, shot the canine dead at its tracks. The carcass of the deer was not fit for consumption on account of the punishment it had endured and it was therefore buried.
