THE DEATH RECORD.

KREAMER.—Henry Weaver Kreamer, Centre Hall's oldest and one of its most respected male citizens, passed away at his home on Sunday evening after an illness extending over a period of several weeks. His death was due to complications, resulting largely from age. Prior to his last sickness Mr. Kreamer was extremely active. His movements were unlike one who had almost attained his 86th year.

Mr. Kreamer was born in Miles township, and was a son of Daniel and Susanna (Weaver) Kreamer, his birth having occurred September 28, 1837. His first wife was Miss Emma Stricker, a daughter of Dr. Strohecker. The couple began life as farmers in Miles township. Early in the eighties they moved to Centre Hall where Mr. Kreamer formed a partnership with Simon Harper and engaged in the mercantile business. Later the firm became that of Kreamer & Son, business continuing under that firm name until six or eight years ago.

There was born to Mr. Kreamer by his first wife these children, all of whom survive: Samuel S. Lewistown; Mrs. S. H. Heckman, Johnstown; Miss Tacy, Johnstown. A son died in infancy. Upon the death of the first wife, Mr. Kreamer married Miss Maggie Hannah, who also survives him.

The following sisters also survive the deceased: Sarah, Mrs. John Wolf, Rebersburg; Amanda, Mrs. Abraham Luckenbach, Bellefonte; Eliza, Mrs. David J. Meyer, Centre Hall; Emma, Mrs. Jacob Kephart, Rebersburg.

Mr. Kreamer was all his life an active church member, having joined the Reformed church in his youth. He was an attendant at all services when physically able to do so, and during his life time filled various offices in the church and Sunday-school.

Interment was made on Tuesday afternoon in the family plot in the Rebersburg cemetery, the officiating minister being Rev. W. A. McClellan, pastor of the Rebersburg Reformed church, assisted by Rev. C. F. Catherman, pastor of the local Methodist church.

WILLIAMS.—Mrs. Mary Williams, wife of W. S. Williams, died at her home in Lemont on Sunday afternoon. The deceased, whose age was about 52 years, was born at Boalsburg. Her maiden name was Miss Mary Miller.

During the nine or ten years that Mr. and Mrs. Miller resided in Phillipsburg, says the Daily (Phillipsburg) Journal, prior to returning to Lemont, from whence they came, the deceased won many friends by her beautiful christian life, having been a devoted member of the Methodist church. She will be most pleasantly remembered by our people, states the Journal. Besides her husband she leaves one sister and one brother: Harry Miller, of Boalsburg, and Mrs. James Longwell, of Lemont.

The funeral took place on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, with burial at Houserville.

HAINES.—Mrs. Wilson Haines died at her home at Aaronsburg, aged 73 years and 8 months. She had undergone a siege of grip but had recovered sufficiently to be about her household duties until a few days previous to her death when she suffered a relapse and grew rapidly weaker until death claimed her.

Her maiden name was Kline, being born in the vicinity of Penn Hall, where she grew to womanhood.

She was a consistent member of the Lutheran church for many years and was a kind neighbor and good mother.

The husband survives with three sons and one daughter—William K., of Aaronsburg; Charles S., of Joliet, Ill. H. D., of Lewistown, and Mrs. Harry Acker, of Aaronsburg.

Funeral services were held at the Lutheran church at Aaronsburg Friday morning, Rev. F. H. Daubenspeck officiating, and interment made in the Aaronsburg Lutheran cemetery.

ORNDORF.—Mrs. Sarah L. Orndorf died at her home at Woodward. Her husband, John J. Orndorf, preceded her in death about eleven years ago, also a son, Howard, and two daughters, Sadie and Mrs. Warren Hosterman. She was born near Woodward October 31, 1846, making her age 76 years, 4 months and 25 days. She was a daughter of Lewis and Catherine Dorman. She leaves to survive the following children: Mrs. D. J. Benner, Charles and Lewis D. Orndorf, all of Woodward, and Mrs. John Hosterman, of Scotland, South Dakota. The following brothers and sisters survive: David Dorman, who lives on the old homestead, near Woodward; Mrs. Emanuel Vonada, of Woodward; Mrs. J. W. Confer, Millheim; Mrs. Mary Snavely, of Snyderstown; Mrs. John A. Guiswhite, of Avis; Mrs. Catherine White-leather, of Lock Haven, and Mrs. Newton Hess, of Scotland, S. Dakota.

Spring Mills on January 22, 1859, and was aged 64 years, 2 months and 4 days. He was married to Sara Neff, who survives with the following children: Clarence A. Lohr, of Lewisburg; Mrs. John E. Moyer, of Bloomsburg; also by the following brothers and sisters: John P. Lohr, Millburg; James J. Lohr and George C. Lohr, of Forest Hill; Mrs. Mary C. Haidabaugh, of Ravena; Ohio, and Mrs. Mrs. Avilliam Keeler, of Richmond, Va.

Meeting of Sheep and Wool Growers. The annual meeting of the Centre County Sheep and Wool Growers Association will be held the second week of April.

For the convenience of sheep raisers it has been custom to hold three local meetings. The same plan will be followed this year with meetings as follows:

Pine Grove Mills, Tuesday, April 10, at 8:00 p. m., at the school house.
Bellefonte, Wednesday, April 11, at 8:00 p. m., at the Farm Bureau office.
Spring Mills, Thursday, April 12th, at 8:00 p. m., at Vocational school.
