REBERSBURG.

Harry Corman, of Williamsport, transacted business in town last week. Rev. Shultz moved to Espy, near by Bloomsburg, where he has accepted a call.

Clement Gramley, who has been appointed acting postmaster at this place, took charge of the office on Monday.

The public sales are over at this end of the valley and all articles offered for sale brought top notch prices.

Mr. Bannage moved from a farm near Millheim to the Mrs. Wesley Hackenberg farm, west of Smulton.

Samuel Winters left last week for Lock Haven where he has found employment at a hotel.

William Tarbet, of Pittsburgh, who bought the Corman property at this place, is now with his family occupying the same.

Wilber Brungart moved from near Wolfe Store to this place and now occupies the brick residence which he bought a few weeks ago from Mrs. Jasper Gramley.

Jacob Kerstetter had sale on Saturday of household goods and his farm implements and live stock and will leave in the near future for Ohio where he will locate for the time being.

The property belonging to the Elias Breon heirs and which was put up at public sale on Monday, was not sold, as the highest bid was not deemed sufficient for so desirable a home.

The stork again visited our valley last week and stopped at the Clyde Weber home and left a baby boy; next he came to Smulton and stopped at the home of Clayton Winters and there left a wee baby boy.

James Danler, who, for the past two years occupied the Corman home at this place, where he looked after the wants of the traveling public, moved on last Thursday into the old hotel at this place.

SPRING MILLS

William Rossman, of Philadelphia, spent Easter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rossman.

The representatives of the stone company have bought the Fisher farm at Penn Hall.

There are several families to move but on account of the scarcity of houses are being held up.

Mrs. Steiffer, of Bellewood, is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Ammon Decker.

Scarlet fever is not spreading any; only two families are quarantined and these are very mild cases.

The east-bound train on Monday afternoon set fire to grass, ties, etc., along the railroad and did much damage.

Mrs. Roy Gentzell moved in the house with William Bitner; George Bartley into the Eisenbath house vacated by Mrs. Gentzell; John Bair into the house vacated by Bartley; Arch Confer into Calvin King's house; Wm. Smith, of Pleasant Gap, in his home vacated by Confer; Wallace Runkle in with Mrs. Oerman; Frank Ross in with Perry Deweller; G. C. Decker moved to Bellefonte and Arthur Grove into the home he purchased from Mr. Decker.
