POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Sheriff.

We are authorized to announce that E. R. Taylor, of Bellefonte, will be a candidate for Sheriff of Centre county, subject to the decision of the Democratic voters as expressed at the primaries to be held on Tuesday, September 18th, 1923.

For Treasurer.

We are authorized to announce that LYMAN L. SMITH, of Centre Hall Boro, will be a candidate for Treasurer of Centre county, subject to the decision of the Democratic voters as expressed at the primaries to be held on Tuesday, September 18th, 1923.

For County Commissioner.

We are authorized to announce that JOHN W. YEARICK, of Marlon Township, will be a candidate for County Commissioner, subject to the decision of the Democratic voters as expressed at the primaries to be held on Tuesday, September 18th, 1923.

The governor is making a big howl about shortage of money in the State treasury and is forcing the legislature to pass additional tax laws and at the same time is responsible for the salaries of a large number of State employees being raised. The last is a raise of $2,000 in the salary of the State printer. Various new offices have also been created at the hands of the governor with big fat salaries, and all the while the governor is trying to beat down hospital appropriations.

The six graduates of the Loganton High school were addressed at the commencement exercises by former county superintendent of schools, C. L. Gramley, of Rebersburg.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

John I. Austin, Philadelphia
Rosetta May Harter, Howard

The League Busters.

The directors of the four districts—Millheim, Centre Hall, State College and Bellefonte—comprising the Centre County Baseball League, met in the Elks' Club parlor on Tuesday evening. The representation was complete, President Bezdek being in the chair. The principal business transacted was the adoption of the roster of players, which was done, together with paying into the pot the $50.00 guarantee. The league is a go.

THE DEATH RECORD.

BURRIS—Mrs. Harry Burris died at the Bellefonte hospital, on Saturday, during child birth. She had been in delicate health for some time previous, and was taken to the hospital where every effort possible was made to save her life.

Mrs. Viola Burris was the eldest daughter of Jacob Sharer, by his second wife, and was born January 4, 1897, making her age twenty-six years, four months, eight days. After her marriage to Mr. Burris the couple began farming operations, and at the time of her death lived on the Durst farm, at Earlstown. Several years ago Mr. and Mrs. Burris adopted a little girl, daughter of Charles Prazier, whose mother died when the child was but a few years old. The husband and the little girl survive, as do also her parents, and a number of brothers and sisters, also two half-brothers and a half-sister.

Since youth she was a member of the Lutheran church, and her pastor, Rev. M. C. Drumm, officiated at the services on Tuesday morning. Interment was made at Centre Hall.

BARTGES—Laura May Bartges (nee Meyer) was born in Haines township, October 16, 1868, and died May 12, in the Gossinger hospital at Danville, of heart trouble. She was aged 54 years, 6 months, 26 days. In early life she united with the Reformed church at Aaronsburg, in which congregation and later at Coburn she was an active member. She was married to Franklin H. Bartges on November 23, 1893. Her husband preceded her in death some years ago, having died on Dec. 9, 1909. Five sons are left to mourn her loss; they are, Calvin N., Daniel W., Ray M., Paul F., and Jacob W. Mrs. Bartges was well known in this community, especially as a musical instructor. Her life in the home and the church has left a permanent impression in the excellent conduct and character of her children. Truly can they rise up and call her blessed. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the home, continued in the Reformed church at Coburn. Interment in Fairview cemetery, Millheim.

KREBS—David Henry Krebs, long a farmer in College township, died near State College, aged sixty-three years. On retiring from the farm he became an assistant to the superintendent on the College farms. His wife was Maria C., daughter of Peter Corl, whom he married in 1891. Surviving him are his wife and two sons, Clayton and Alvin, both at home. He also leaves one sister and a brother, Mrs. Lizzie Smith, of Jeannette, and P. D. Krebs, of State College.

Funeral services were held in the Pine Hill church by Rev. S. C. Stover, after which burial was made in the Pine Hill cemetery.

HALE—The funeral of Mrs. Ann Graham Hale, whose death occurred at her apartments at the Nittany Inn, State College, took place at Reading with only the immediate members of the family attending.

Mrs. Hale, widow of the late William W. Hale, was a resident of the Phillipsburg region for many years, her home, the Hale chalet, being widely known, and which the family occupied when her husband opened up and developed South Phillipsburg. She was educated and unusually well informed and held in high esteem by a host of warm friends who learn of her death with much regret.

The parents of Mrs. Hale were William C. and Caroline C. Patterson, of Philadelphia, and the date of her birth was Sept. 11, 1838. Surviving are one son, Hugh E. Hale, of New York City, and two daughters, Caroline Patterson Hale and Maud Louise Hale, both residing at the old homestead, Southside.

BAIR—George Adams Bair died at his home in Altoona following an illness of a number of weeks. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bair, and was born at Rebersburg, Centre county, on April 13th, 1869, hence was 54 years and 17 days old. For a number of years he lived in Williamsport where he was employed by the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company. He never married but is survived by his father, living in Rebersburg, one brother, William H. Bair, at whose home he died, and two sisters living in Missouri. Burial was made in Rose Hill cemetery, Altoona.

EVEY—Mary, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jared Evey, of Pleasant Gap, passed away on Sunday from the effects of bowel trouble, aged twenty-one months. Interment was made on Wednesday afternoon at Pleasant Gap.

IMMEL—Eugene, aged eleven days, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Immel, of Green Grove, north of Penn Hall, died of pneumonia on Friday. Interment was made on Saturday afternoon.

COBLE—Harry Coble, a brother of Mrs. Anna Burris, of Centre Hall, died at his home in Altoona as the result of hemorrhages. He was a native of Huntingdon county and was fifty-five years old. Burial was made at Williamsburg.

Sacred Cantata.

The local Presbyterians will put on their annual sacred Cantata on Sunday evening, at 7:30. All are cordially invited.

The program:

- 12. Finale, "Unto the End of the World."

Missing Girl Found

Miss Julia Fuller, of Washington, D. C., who is visiting at the home of E. J. Clark at Waddle, disappeared Sunday evening. The mountains near Waddle and the region near State College, known as the "Barrens," were searched without any trace of the girl being found.

Monday evening the Rev. G. E. Smith and the Rev. G. W. Emmlinger, while motoring toward Bellefonte, picked up the young woman dressed in men's clothes. She gave them a fictitious name and asked to be taken to Bellefonte. Police are now endeavoring to get her brother, Bud Fuller, of Washington, to come to Bellefonte to take care of her.

Miss Fuller some time ago left her position in Washington, where she was employed in the civil service, on account of nervousness, and was resting at the Clark home. It was stated by friends that she has seemed worried for some time, although it was not known what she was worried about.

Miss Fuller's mother was a resident of Bellefonte at one time and the girl is well known there.

BOALSBURG.

Samuel Wagner was compelled to take his bed again. The condition of John Charles health has been such that he has been forced to quit carrying the mail, and another carrier will need to be appointed.

West Susquehanna Classis of the Reformed church convened in session Monday evening with a representation of twenty-two ministers and seventeen elder delegates.

Rev. Roy Moeched from Montgomery was elected president. The meeting is the largest body to open with for some time. A reception was given on Tuesday evening by the Boalsburg congregation. The members are being entertained in homes of the local church people.

TUSSEYVILLE.

Boyd Jordan made a trip to Lewisburg on Saturday.

The Mother's Day service held in the Evangelical church Sunday afternoon was well attended.

A number from this place attended the graduating exercises at Centre Hall Friday evening.

Floyd and Emily Jordan spent the week-end at the home of their parents and were accompanied by Miss Margaret Stock, also a student at the Seminary.
