William Showers Dead.

William Showers died at his home in Milesburg Monday night. He had been in poor health—a sufferer from diabetes—for more than a year, but was confined to bed only from the Saturday night previous to his death. Interment will be made this (Thursday) afternoon in the Pine Hall cemetery, above State College.

The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin B. Showers, and was aged about twenty-eight years. He lived with his parents in Centre Hall, and from here went with them to State College and later located in Milesburg. His parents survive him, as does also his wife whose maiden name was Miss Elsie Rankin, of State College.

Twelve Call Her "Granny," but She Is a June College Graduate.

A grandmother of twelve children was graduated from Penn State College at commencement on Tuesday.

Mrs. Sarah Shoemaker Farley, fifty-seven, has been certified for a Bachelor's course by the College Senate.

She was studying in the two-year Agricultural course while her youngest son was a student in the course of Horticulture. She later elected to specialize in Botany.

Mrs. Farley was left a widow twenty-three years ago with four young children to raise and educate. She saw three boys graduate from Penn State, and sent her daughter to Swarthmore. When all but the youngest had married she started studying Scientific Agriculture. She is the oldest person ever graduated from Penn State.

Contributors of Flowers.

The following children contributed flowers on Memorial Day for decorating the veterans' graves:
Glayda, Marian and Sarah Smith, William, Fred and John Spyrer, Alverda, Frances, James, Lester and George Weaver, Fay, Lois and Margaret Reese, Florence Zettle (for Service Class of Lutheran Sunday School), Marian Meyer, Violetta Hartley, Ruth and Alfred Grove, Helen Rine, Sarah Runkle, Beulah Bingman.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. I. A. Sweetwood desires to thank all friends who so kindly assisted during the sickness of Miss Elizabeth Runkle, and rendered aid at the time of her death.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from
The Pennsylvania State College

The Apple Crop—State College agricultural extension men report that from their observations throughout the state, there is a very good set of apples this year with the exception of Staymen and Yorks, in certain sections. The cold snap injured these varieties to a greater degree than was first thought, and if the June drop is heavy, some sections will have a very small crop of these varieties.

Potato Spraying—Growers in southeastern Pennsylvania started spraying their potatoes last week. State College extension men declare that the first spray of 4-4-50 Bordeaux mixture should be applied as soon as the plants make a fair showing above ground. Spraying will greatly increase the yield and thereby reduce production cost if carried out at regular ten day intervals through the growing season, regardless of climatic conditions.

Beekkeepers—By July 1 modern, movable frame hives will be required by law for the housing of all honey bees. The state law was passed over two years ago and all beekkeepers should be prepared by this time to meet its provisions. The aim is to prevent bee diseases. The movable frame makes inspection easy.

Garden—A light application of readily available fertilizer such as nitrate of soda, will help the growing vegetables if the ground is not in a very fertile condition.

Dairy Pasture—During the summer months, water should be available to cows in pasture. This water should be in a tank, or if in a stream, it should be so protected so that the cows cannot stand in it and convert the stream into a puddle.

Train Shed Burned.

The large train shed, a part of Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, took fire early Monday morning, burning it to such an extent that it is useless. Mail and railroad coaches were also consumed. The loss is estimated at over one million dollars.

Birds Rid Cattle of Parasites.

The ox-pecker, a bird inhabiting the dark continent, is so called from its fondness for being around domestic and other cattle, which it rids of various parasites. It is said that it actually eats large holes in the fleshy parts of the backs of cattle, often one or two inches deep, and two or three inches in diameter, thus creating bad sores. It does this little by little, and day by day, attacking just that part of the back where the ox cannot swish it off with its tail or dislodge it with its horns. The bird is a pest to the hunter, of whose approach it warns the buffalo and rhinoceros by its loud, harsh note, which is perfectly understood by its huge friends.

Jack Frost's Doings.

An egg expands when it is frozen and breaks its shell. Apples contract so much that a full barrel will shrink until the top layer is a foot below the chine. When the frost is drawn out the apples assume their normal size and fill the barrel again.

Certain varieties are not appreciably injured by being frozen. If the frost is drawn out gradually, apples will carry safely in a refrigerating car while the mercury is registering fully 20 degrees below zero.

Potatoes, being so largely composed of water, are easily frozen. Once touched by frost they are ruined.

Critics of Dickens' "Spontaneous Combustion" Death Proved Wrong by Eminent Medical Men.

It may be recalled that Charles Dickens, the famous novelist, employs spontaneous combustion to give force to one of the episodes in his fascinating story known as "Bleak House."

One of the dark characters of the story is old Krook, proprietor of a rag and bone warehouse. He is a grasping drunkard, consuming great quantities of gin. One day two men, occupying an upper room in the old warehouse, smelt burning, and on going below to investigate, found a smoldering heap of something looking like charred oiled rags. At the inquest the coroner's jury held that old Krook came to his end by spontaneous combustion.

Some critics of Dickens challenged this as being impossible. The account of Krook's death was, therefore, had art and a blemish on the whole story.

Dickens replied by citing a similar case that had occurred in Paris, France, and was confirmed by a report of several eminent medical men who had thoroughly investigated the matter.

Goodness Increases Wisdom.

Sir Henry Taylor three generations ago wrote "The Statesman." It remains a classic of English literature. This paragraph is a fair example:

"The correspondence of wisdom and goodness are manifold; and that they will accompany each other is to be inferred, not only because men's wisdom makes them good, but also because their goodness makes them wise. Questions of right and wrong are a perpetual exercise of the faculties of those who are solicitous as to the right and the wrong of what they do and see; and a deep interest of the heart in these questions carries with it a deeper cultivation of the understanding than can be easily affected by any other incitement to intellectual activity."

The Wise in Council.

The men who have method, and, as it were, a judicial intellect, are most valuable councilors. Without such men in a council, a great deal of cleverness goes for nothing; as there is nobody to see what has been stated and answered, to what their deliberations tend, and what progress has been made. Such persons gather the sense of a mixed assembly, and suggest a line of action which may honestly meet the different views of the various members. They will bring back the subject matter when it has all but floated away, while the others have been looking for seaweed, or throwing stones at one another on the shore.—Sir Arthur Helps.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS
is greatly relieved by constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.
