

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Today—summer.

Mrs. A. E. Person, New Jersey, came to Centre Hall on Monday to visit her mother, Mrs. Margaret E. Strohm.

Mrs. R. R. Finkle, of Millinburg, came to town on Monday afternoon and will be at the Emery home for a few days.

Miss Twila Beightol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Beightol, of Penn Hall, is a guest at the J. E. Royer home.

Monday morning Mrs. John H. Knarr went to Geisinger Hospital, Danville, to have a specialist treat, or perhaps remove, her tonsils.

Gregg Post No. 439, American Legion, will hold a festival Saturday evening at Spring Mills. Two bands—Aaronsburg and Coburn—will furnish music.

The Rev. Paul M. Lambert, pastor of St. John's Reformed church in Pottstown, resigned to become instructor in religion at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster.

Word was received by William Garis that his brother, Reuben Garis, on his return from here to Luxor, met with an accident that resulted in his Nash car being pretty badly broken up. There was a collision for which Mr. Garis takes no blame.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bitner and baby daughter, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Bitner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leister, of near Potters Mills, recently made a trip by auto to Shamokin Dam, where they visited Henry Leister, a brother of Charles Leister.

After serving as county superintendent of schools of Clinton county for a period of twenty-one years, Ira McCloskey resigned the position, effective July 1st. He was re-elected for a full term of four years last May. Superintendent McCloskey has been ill at his home in Lock Haven for a period of five or six weeks.

The students of the Geesp Township Vocational School who graduated on Friday evening made a trip to Bellefonte the following day to pose for a class picture. On their return home they stopped for several hours at the J. Elmer Royer home, near Old Fort, with Miss Elizabeth Royer, one of the members of the class.

Misses May Huffman, of Latrobe, and Minnie Tekel, of Pittsburgh, are guests of Miss Anna Bertges, at the D. W. Bartiges home in Centre Hall. The young ladies are school teachers and the former and her hostess were roommates in the Indiana State Normal school. Miss Tekel is a chum of Miss Huffman's. The ladies are having a fine time seeing the natural beauties of Central Pennsylvania.

It is presumed it was "tourists" who broke into the P. R. R. tool house where Section Foreman Hartley and trackmen not only keep their tools but use it for a wardrobe. On Monday morning all the clothing left there by the men had disappeared, but nothing else was disturbed, except to break the lock bolt. Down the track a short distance the tourists made a closer investigation and threw to the side of the track the hats, overalls and coats, taking with them only one blouse—a new one—belonging to Mr. Hartley.

While Mr. Meadows and Mr. Weaver were fishing on Friday and Saturday Miss Hummel Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. Paul Riehel and Miss Grace Fiedler, accompanied Mrs. Killinger to State College, where her son is a student. On their return Russell Killinger joined them and returned to Harrisburg with the party. Mr. Meadow landed one trout 22 inches, one 21 inches and one 18 inches.

NATION'S DEBT TO WHITTIER

Poet's Writings Gave Valuable Assistance to a Large Number of Philanthropic Movements.

John Greenleaf Whittier, the Quaker poet, was born on a farm near Havertown, Mass., in 1807, says the Detroit News. He remained on the farm until he was nearly nineteen years old, dividing his time between field work and shoemaking. Whittier never forgot his connection with the "gentle craft" in early life, nor was he ever ashamed to own fellowship with its humble, but worthy members. What he thought of the craft itself and the spirit of the men who have followed it may be learned from his lines addressed to shoemakers in the "Songs of Labor," published in 1859.

Whittier's vigorous, thrilling lines gave assistance to every philanthropic movement in the United States. For many years he was the Hans Sachs or "Poet of the Liberation" in the cause of Protestantism in America, to that which the German gave to the cause of Protestantism on the continent of Europe, and the Englishman gave to the cause of the union in Great Britain.
