

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

No paper next week.

C. P. Deininger, of Harrisburg, was at his home in Centre Hall beginning of the week.

Rev. M. C. Drumm, on Saturday, married a couple who requested their names be withheld.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Slack, on Saturday morning, on the Slack farm, east of Old Fort.

Miss Sarah Wright, of State College, for a week was a guest of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Dashem, in Centre Hall, returning home on Saturday.

Some of the Harding speeches have been heard very distinctly over the Grandola radio machine at the Kerlin Grand View Poultry Farm in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Clayburn Breen and children, of Lock Haven, are guests of Mrs. Breen's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mitterling, and brother, D. C. Mitterling, in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Alice Durst is having a porch built to the front of her house in Centre Hall. It is her intention to have the house painted after the addition has been made.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mitterling arrived in Centre Hall from South Dakota, on Sunday, on schedule time. They camped along the way and say the trip was a most delightful one.

It is haying time, but the severe drought has retarded to a considerable extent the maturity of both clover and grasses so that haymaking will be postponed. The crop will be very light in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Deitzel and children Miss Esther, John, Ellwood, Charles and Lee, of Avis, on Sunday were guests of Prof. N. L. and Mrs. Hartges, in Centre Hall. Mr. Deitzel is an overseer in one of the Avis railroad shops.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Stahl, of Philadelphia, are at the Stahl home, west of town. Mr. Stahl, who is a Pennsy. office man, has not been in the best of health during the past few months, and came out into the country to get a few whiffs of good pure air.

Mrs. Florence Rhone Bayard, of Tyone, is making a pleasure trip through the New England states, and declares the Green and White Mountains most wonderful. She is now in Portland, Maine. Before returning home she will visit Mrs. Kaul, in Batti, also in Maine.

Mrs. Annie Bell and daughter, of near Philadelphia, arrived in Centre Hall on Friday, having come here to attend the Brooks' reunion on Grange Park, on Saturday. Mrs. Bell is a sister of William S. Brooks, in Centre Hall, at whose home she is making her headquarters.

On reaching his home in Columbia, South Carolina, in the near future, one of the jobs awaiting J. W. McCormick will be to disinter one hundred five bodies of soldiers now lying in Camp Jackson, near Columbia. The bodies will be enclosed in hermetically sealed boxes and shipped to Beaufort, S. C., where they will be reinterred in the National cemetery.

While unloading milk from a wagon onto the milk car at Centre Hall station on Monday morning, Albert C. Walker, who has the local milk plant of the Dewart Products company in charge, fell from the wagon, the result being a fracture of one of the bones in the forearm and tearing one or more ligaments in the same arm. In the afternoon an X-ray photo of the arm was made at the Bellefonte hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allison, of Toronto, Canada, are at the Allison homestead, at Spring Mills, presided over by Miss Mabel Allison, a sister of the former. Mr. Allison is connected with the Canadian Ice Machine company, which firm sells and installs ice machines and refrigerators. The company has been enjoying an extensive business since its founding. The Allison family will remain at Spring Mills for at least a month.

Rev. Harry W. Buck, of Minneapolis, Minn., was a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. P. P. Geary, in Centre Hall. He is pastor of a Presbyterian charge in that city and as such has been meeting with success. Mrs. Buck accompanied him on the trip east. Thomas R. Buck, storekeeper for the American Car and Foundry company, at York, was also a guest at the Geary home, as was also Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Geary and children, of Newport.

To accommodate the one hundred thirty additional incubating machine to be installed at the Kerlin Grand View Poultry Farm, it is necessary to erect a house especially for that purpose. The structure will be erected between two of the present incubating houses and will connect them, so that passage made by made from one to the other without being exposed to the weather. The new structure will be seventy-five feet in length, connecting two buildings of ninety feet each.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

William Sweetwood is doing clerical work in the State Highway office in Bellefonte.

Mrs. Daniel Daup has been confined to bed for several days suffering from a severe cold.

Lost—A Shrine pin, between her home and Reformed church, Sunday, June 17.—Mrs. Samuel Shoop, Centre Hall.

A. E. Person, of Trenton, N. J., came to Centre Hall the latter part of last week, and Tuesday afternoon he and Mrs. Person returned to their New Jersey home.

Prof. N. A. Danowsky, principal of the schools of Northumberland, and Miss Kathryn Hendershot, of the same place, made a brief call at the Reformed parsonage in Aaronsburg, Sunday evening.

At the Logan Fire company picnic, to be held at Heck Park, July 4th, the Centre Hall and Bellefonte baseball teams will engage in two contests—morning and afternoon—10:30 and 2:30. The fire company is planning a day of real enjoyment for all, so go to Heck July 4th.

A. E. Kerlin and Wm. W. Kerlin, proprietor and manager, respectively, of the Kerlin Grand View Poultry Farm, at Centre Hall, on Wednesday, started on a trip through the middle west in the interest of their business. The first stop will be Chicago, where on Friday or Saturday the International Baby Chick Association will meet at Hotel Sherman the Junior Kerlin being on the Welfare committee. They will go on to Kansas City, Missouri, to visit the American Poultry School, and from there to various large poultry plants and factories making poultry supplies located in various western states.

Dutrow—Stump.
Claude Dutrow and Miss Grace Stump, both of Centre Hall, were united in marriage at the Lutheran parsonage in Centre Hall by Rev. M. C. Drumm, Saturday afternoon. The ring ceremony was used. The bride wore a dress of white crepe dechene and looked charming. The young couple left immediately for Altoona and points west. The groom is employed at a Lewistown oil station, but the couple expect to live in Centre Hall for the present.

Attended Meyer Funeral.
The funeral of D. J. Meyer, on Tuesday, was largely attended. Following is a partial list of those from out of town:

D. H. Brembour, W. H. McLanahan, Fred McLanahan, Katherine Luckenbach, Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Hepler, John K. Miller, C. O. Miller, Ralph Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jenkins, of Tyone; Frank Hastings, B. P. Wilkinson, W. F. Westfall, of Altoona; S. H. Heckman and wife, of Johnstown; John D. Meyer, of Pittsburgh; S. P. Moyer and wife, of Womelsdorf; J. L. Spangler, A. G. Morris and daughter, Mrs. C. New Head of Vocational School.
The Gregg Township school board was not long in finding a head for the Gregg Township Vocational School. Being acquainted with the efficient work of P. B. Bennett, one of the faculty, who had served in various capacities, he was selected to fill the position of director. Prof. Gehr will be a hard man to follow; it is confidently predicted that the new head of the institution will be capable of further bringing the school to prominence.

Prof. Bennett graduated from Pennsylvania State College in Agriculture in 1918; spent following year in the army; came to Spring Mills in September 1919 as assistant supervisor of Agriculture. The following two years were spent in Bethel township, Allegheny county, as Supervisor of Agriculture and Director of Vocational Departments, respectively. Last June he returned to Spring Mills as Supervisor of Agriculture.

From the above you will note that it has been his privilege to serve in the capacity of Assistant Supervisor of Agriculture, as Supervisor of Agriculture and now as Director.

TRIPLE SHOOTING.

Enraged Man Shoots Wife and Mother-in-Law—Kills Himself—Women Former Residents Here.

Walter S. Bush, 27 years old, of Williamsport, shot and seriously injured his wife and mother-in-law at the latter's home, on Friday, and then turned the weapon on himself. He died on Monday from the effects of the wound. On Tuesday both of the women were in a very serious condition, there being very little hope for their recovery.

Bush's wife was Hilda Ruhl and her mother, Mrs. John Mergner, is the divorced wife of Calvin Ruhl. The Ruhl family lived in Centre Hall, some years ago, and also lived on the Colyer farm east of Old Fort. Hilda will be remembered as a pretty little black-eyed girl. The mother was a Stiffler and has relatives about here.

Narrow Escape from Lightning.
During a recent rain, and electric storm lightning struck twice in one of John Snaveley's hay fields. Mr. Snaveley and his son were loading hay and fearing rain the elder Snaveley hurried to the barn with the hay, sending his son for the team in the hay rake which was standing under a tree. The team was driven some little distance from the tree to unhitch, and while this was being done a bolt of lightning struck the tree and shattered it. Later the hay loader was struck, the charge tearing off several of the cross slats.

WIN FROM MILLHEIM; LOSE TO BELLEFONTE.

Bellefonte, 4; Centre Hall, 3.

Last Thursday's twilight game was won by Bellefonte on the latter's grounds, from the Centre Hall team, in a whirlwind finish that took both players and spectators by complete surprise. Outplaying the Bellefonters in all departments of the game, the last two minutes of play witnessed a barrage of hits off Gross that turned apparent defeat into victory. With the score 3 to 1 against them, the Bellefonte team suddenly came to life and with three safe hits won the game, just when it appeared that the visitors were sure winners. Up until the last frame Gross pitched strong ball. The Centre Hall boys put up the best fielding game of the season, making a number of spectacular plays.

Following is the box score:
