

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know that the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. IDA HEWITT, 1529 Penna. Ave. S. E., Washington, D. C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The SANDMAN STORY

THE BIRDS' REVENGE

MR. AND MRS. WOODPECKER had finished their home and had four eggs resting on the soft sawdust inside when one morning they heard some one at the door.

Mr. Woodpecker flew to open it, and who was it but Mr. Squirrel asking if the house was for rent.

"The very idea," said Mrs. Woodpecker, when her husband told her what Mr. Squirrel had asked; "he knew perfectly well that we were living here. What he wanted to find out was if we were at home and if we were not he would have come right in and taken possession."

"I gave him a good sharp peck," said Mr. Woodpecker, "and he knew

"Who Was It, but Mr. Squirrel!"

I was at home and on guard. He won't come back. I think we are quite safe, my dear."

But Mr. Woodpecker was wrong, for Mr. Squirrel had his mind set upon that very house for a home and he intended to have it, so he ran up to a place where he could watch unseen by the Woodpeckers and waited.

By and by Mr. Woodpecker flew away and after a while Mrs. Woodpecker came out and off she went. Mr. Squirrel knew that she would quickly return and he must not lose time, and he didn't, for he was in her home before Mrs. Woodpecker was out of sight of the tree.

Then that wicked Mr. Squirrel ate the four eggs for his breakfast and when poor Mrs. Woodpecker returned home he met her at the door like an angry cat, chattering that this was Hatch Eggs in Decaying Plants.

The Australian brush turkey lays its eggs on the top of a heap of decaying vegetation, which it has piled up to a height of fifteen feet or so. The eggs are laid at a depth of five or six feet, and left to hatch themselves by the warmth generated by the decaying matter.

THERE are some people—one finds them everywhere—who seem to like to bring up for conversation topics of a morbid or salacious interest. his home now and that possession proved it.

Mrs. Woodpecker flew away to find her husband, but he met with no better success, for Mr. Squirrel told him the same thing he had told his wife and drove them away.

But the Woodpeckers knew that Mr. Squirrel would not stay in the house all the time so they patiently waited for revenge.

It was not until the next day that Mr. Squirrel ventured far from the new home. Then he came to the door and took a look all around, but he did not see the Woodpeckers, who were flattened against the tree far over his head.

Mr. Squirrel had been busy storing away food and while the Woodpeckers knew they would never be comfortable again in their home they determined that bad Mr. Squirrel should not live in comfort there either, and as soon as they had watched him running down the path they flew over to Reddy Squirrel's and told him about the food in the hollow of the tree which had once been their home.

Now Reddy Squirrel liked nothing better than to find a store of food which Mr. Gray Squirrel had hidden. When he heard the news he did not even stop to thank the Woodpeckers, for Reddy is not a very polite creature. Off he scampered.

It was late in the day when Mr. Squirrel returned to his new home, and when he discovered he had been robbed he ran to the door of his home and chattered angrily.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodpecker knew that they were revenged, but before they flew away from the limb where they sat watching, Mr. Woodpecker said, "Reddy Squirrel called white you were out, Mr. Squirrel, and we told him to go right in and make himself at home."

"What's in a Name?"

Dr. MILDRED MARSHALL

FACTS about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel

NINA

THOUGH Nina has a typically French sound, the name is regarded as English. However, it came to us through the French by a lengthy process of evolution. The Hebrew Chanaah was its earliest source and from this word it derived its significance of "grace."

Through the English Hannah, it came to France as Anne and was soon given the diminutive, Annette. As Nanette, it appeared simultaneously, but the French love of variety changed the latter form to Nanon and finally Ninon.

The beauty and fame of Ninon de l'Enclos, superwoman and court "vamp" in the reign of Louis XIV, spread her name afar. It became almost a synonym for charmer and the maids of several countries coveted it. But Ninon is too Gallic for English ears, so, in its transportation across the channel, the ending underwent a change and Nina was the final result. It has enjoyed extraordinary vogue in this country.

The diamond is Nina's talismanic gem. It is the emblem of fearlessness and invincibility and promises its wearer success in all undertakings and freedom from misgivings. According to an old superstition, it enhances the love of a husband for his wife. Sunday is Nina's lucky day and 3 her lucky number. (© by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

Mr. Squirrel watched the Woodpeckers fly out of sight and then he ran down the tree and away from that part of the wood to look for a new home, for he knew it was no use living there now that Reddy Squirrel had discovered his storehouse.

"Well, I never dreamed there was such a grand medicine as Tanlac. Soon after starting on it, I was eating and sleeping fine and when I finished the treatment I had gained fifteen pounds and hadn't a sign of my former troubles. Why, even today, I still have the splendid appetite, strength and weight Tanlac brought me and the longest day of housework doesn't tire me. Tanlac was a great thing for my husband, too."

Alice, the five-year-old of the family, was sent to the grocer's to find out whether he had any fresh eggs or not.

"Certainly they are fresh, little girl."

"No, they isn't," she persisted. "I heard my father tell my mother there's a corner on eggs, and these are all smooth."

MEN YOU MAY MARRY

By E. R. PEYSER

Has a galoot like this proposed to you?

Symptoms: "Mincing": that's what the novelists call his gait. His dainty hands, flowers in his buttonhole—all is mincing. Sometimes a monocle flashes forth to enlarge his vision. Oh, he may seem dashing, but—You should see him fuss over his boiled egg mornings! In fact, the only thing that he doesn't fuss over, his family says, is ocean bathing, and some one heard him say once that the ocean wasn't "the same" enough.

IN FACT

Sameness is his middle name. Prescription to his bride: Buy an egg timer and Always boil his egg the same way!

Demand much from him in work and play. Absorb This: Responsibility melts fussiness as sun the snow. (© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
