

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The Pink Label appears this week. Mrs. F. P. Geary and daughter Miss Agnes are spending the week among friends in Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Small, of Altoona, were visitors at the Wilkinson home at Potters Mills, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Henshall, formerly of State College, left for Atlantic City last week, where they are now making their home.

Mrs. Julia D. Stevenson is a candidate for Clinton county treasurer. She has been serving as deputy treasurer, her husband being treasurer.

Mrs. Harry Spangler and daughters Dorothy and Virginia, of Park Ridge, Ill., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Spangler's mother, Mrs. Ella Wilkinson, at Potters Mills.

The foundation is being laid for an addition to the Puff home and when completed in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Puff will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boozer.

Centre County Threshermen and Farmers' Protective Association will meet in the grand jury room in the court house, Bellefonte, on Saturday, July 14th, at 10 A. M.

Mrs. L. Ray Morgan is at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. W. Smith. She came as far as Bellefonte with friends from Homestead who were on their way by wheel to Boston, Mass.

It required twenty-one ballots to elect a superintendent for the Lewisburg schools. The selection was Charles Cox, of Wilmington, Delaware, who was picked from forty-five applicants. The salary is $3,500.

Prof. L. O. Packer, one of the teaching force in the Pittsburgh public schools, is with his family in Centre Hall. The beginning of this week he and Mrs. Packer returned from a trip to Gettysburg.

The following persons were entertained at the A. P. Krape home on July 3rd: Mrs. Isaac Ruhl, Mrs. Mark Schure, Miss Mabel Custard, of Lewisburg; Mrs. Curie Piek and Mrs. Susan Neff, of Millburg.

Rev. S. A. Snyder, former pastor of the Evangelical church in Centre Hall, assisted the present pastor of that church in conducting the funeral services for Mrs. Daniel Daup, one of the loyal members of that denomination. Rev. Snyder is located at Hellam, York county.

M. L. Royer, of Spring Mills, and niece, Miss Elizabeth Royer, of Centre Hall, are off on a visit to relatives in Cumberland and Franklin counties. Among other places they will stop at Carlisle, Chambersburg and Green Castle. They will be gone for two weeks or more.

A car driven by farmer C. G. St. Clair, east of Old Fort, and one driven by Ernest Frank in which Newton Crawford and Howard Emery were companions, collided where a road leading to the former's home and the State highway intersect. Both cars were pretty badly damaged.

Miss Elizabeth A. Hugg accompanied "Windy" Smith, the veteran aviator, on a trip from Bellefonte to DuBois. The father of the girl was booked to go on the air spin, but "business" prevented him from being ready at the appointed time. Miss Hugg at once expressed a desire to fly and so she did, enjoying the experience greatly.

Miss Anna Louise Laub, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Laub, of Lewisburg, was one of several truck loads of teachers enrolled in the summer school at Penn State, to make a trip to the Poe Mountain fire tower, near Coburn, on Saturday. While in town she paid her respects to this office. Miss Laub is a teacher in the fourth grade of the Lewisburg public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Deckard, of New Bloomfield, motored to Centre Hall and were guests of Mrs. Lucy Henney, William C. Lebo, editor of the Perry County Times, and postmaster at New Bloomfield, Warren Clouser, Charles Bretz, Joseph Jefford, Joseph Darlington, Ralph Treaster, William Messmer, also of New Bloomfield, completed the motor party here, their chief object being to attend a session of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, on the last night in June, and witness the second degree work which was being done that night.

A social and religious survey is being made by a private party in New York City of a number of small boroughs and villages throughout the United States. Centre Hall and Howard, Centre county; Spring Grove, York county; Richland, Lebanon county; Halifax, Dauphin county; Martintown, Blair county; Mill Hill, Clinton county; Lyonsville, Crawford county, have been selected in Pennsylvania for this survey. The work is being done by E. W. Lentz, of Dayton, Ohio, and N. C. Harner, Lovettsville, Virginia, both of whom are students in the theological seminary in Lancaster. The survey will take account of the religious, social, industrial and educational activities of the places named.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. Flora M. Lambert, of Rebersburg, was a guest of Mrs. D. J. Meyer, in Centre Hall, for a week.

While trying out a motorcycle, Claude Dutrow fell and badly cut his left arm between the wrist and elbow.

Mrs. Wilmina Packer, of Clearfield, last week came to the home of her son Prof. L. O. Packer, in Centre Hall.

Miss Flora Love, of Bellefonte, after spending a week with friends in and about Centre Hall, returned home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Morris Breen and little son Perry, of Newport News, Virginia, are at the home of Mrs. R. D. Foreman, in Centre Hall.

On Saturday a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corbin, in Johnstown. This put Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Heckman, also of Johnstown, on the grandparent list.

W. H. Baird, of Pleasant Gap, was a caller at this office one day recently. He reported a pleasant visit from his son, Prof. Lester E. Baird, and family of Boiling Springs, Pa.

The large porch to the front of the residence of T. A. Hosterman, manager of the local Orick store, was repainted last week, the work having been done by W. S. Slick.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hosterman, of Milton, motored through Centre Hall a week ago, on their way to Rebersburg, Mr. Hosterman's former home, for a short vacation.

Mrs. R. W. Barber, Mrs. Anna Wolf, Newton Kreider, of Millburg, and Charles Ernest, of Philadelphia, were visitors of Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Hollenbach at Aaronburg one day recently.

Mrs. Alice Durst, Edward Durst and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ebright and little daughter Bettie, on Sunday, drove to Williamsport where they were guests of Mrs. Durst's sister, Mrs. Mervin Kuhn.

Mrs. (Rev.) J. Elmer Williams and daughter, Miss Laura Lynn, of Chicago, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Alexander, having come here to attend the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Laura Strohm Meehan.

Philip Musser, of Centre Hall, and Carl Ehn, of Rebersburg, drove from Akron, Ohio, to Centre Hall for a week's stay with their parents. The young men are employed in the rubber works in Akron and will return to their work on Monday.

A. S. Fleck, accompanied by a son and daughter, of Midvale, New Jersey, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brooks in Centre Hall and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Fleck was obliged to remain at home owing to a slight illness of one of the children.

Those who spent a few days with Mrs. Sallie Rubie, in Centre Hall the past week, were her sister, Mrs. Mary Brandt, and son; Miss Katharine Rubie, Mr. and Mrs. McMasters and two sons, and Mrs. McMasters' mother, Mrs. Brown, all from Altoona. The party enjoyed a trip to Penns Cave.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Clark, and children visited Mrs. Clark's brothers, Thomas F. Delaney, M. C. Delaney and John Delaney, near Centre Hall, returning home Monday morning. Mr. Clark represents the Aarons' furniture store, the largest establishment of that character in Westmoreland county, as a prospect man.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lingle and daughter, Arlene, Mrs. Harry Sellers and two daughters, Grace and Anna, all of Sunbury, formed an auto party to Centre Hall one day recently. Mr. Lingle came to visit his father, Solomon Lingle, near Spring Mills. He is employed by the Sunbury Milk Products company and is getting along splendidly.

Penna Valley people visiting Bellefonte on Saturday nights, or on other nights of the week, find a hour's real enjoyment at the Scene or Opera House, where the best in pictures are screened. Managers Brown and Toner are putting on nothing but the best and the large audiences both houses are constantly drawing are marks of appreciation on part of the public.

John D. Homan is driving a new Chevrolet sedan purchased through his brother, W. A. Homan, of the Homan garage. W. E. Lee, proprietor of the Potters Mills hotel, has an order in with Mr. Homan for a Chevrolet touring car, which will be delivered in the near future. C. B. Smith, farmer at Centre Hall, is another to begin auto driving and is now handling a Chevrolet touring car purchased through the Homan agency.

The local baseball team has been playing good clean ball and is deserving of more general support on the part of the citizens. It is true that some very distasteful and regrettable incidents during a few of the games have had a tendency to discredit the sport, but the announcement of President Bezdek that he would throw out any player who uses profanity on the field ought to have a wholesome influence. It is only fair to the home team to say that they are not the accused.

EVANGELICAL MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Met in Evangelical Church in Centre Hall—Twenty-four Dined at Parsonage.

On Tuesday morning the Evangelical Ministerial Association of Lewisburg and vicinity met in the St. John's Evangelical church of Centre Hall. The session was opened by Rev. W. J. Campbell, presiding elder of the Lewisburg district. Rev. W. E. Detwiler, and aged and highly respected minister of the Evangelical Home of Lewisburg conducted the devotional services. Rev. J. B. Mayes read the minutes of the former session.

The Gospel Team now conducting special revival services at Tusseyville sang a very impressive and appropriate selection—"Fifty Miles of Elbow Room." On motion it was decided that the regular order of field reports be dispensed with and that the subject of the day be taken up. Rev. J. F. Hower of Milton then read a well-prepared paper on "The Life and Times of Rev. Jacob Albright, the Founder of the Evangelical Church." In it the writer told of the struggles and persecution of his man of God and also of the great good he accomplished. A very profitable general discussion followed. The visiting members were Rev. G. W. Curdin of Williamsport; Rev. Miller of Myersstown; Revs. Howsare and Purinton, Mr. Speidel and Floyd Jordan, members of the Gospel Team of Schuylkill Seminary.

The session closed with a season of prayer. Twenty-four came to the Evangelical parsonage and partook of a sumptuous dinner prepared by Mrs. Blingman and her daughters.

At the parsonage preceding the dinner, Floyd Jordan sang a solo and Rev. S. S. Mumey, superintendent of the Evangelical Orphanage at Lewisburg, made the after dinner speech. Following this a very profitable social hour was spent in singing and conversation.

Fell from Roof; Broke Arm.
Fred Walker, son of William S. Walker, of near Centre Hall, while working on a roof in Bellefonte fell and broke the bone in one of his arms and also sustained other injuries. Mr. Walker is a carpenter. The accident occurred on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Leeper and daughter, of Williamsburg, autoed to Centre Hall and are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Funk. Miss Leeper will graduate as a nurse from one of the Pittsburgh district hospitals in September.

TUSSEYVILLE.

Everyone was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Miss Lydia Ishler.

Misses Mildred Palmer and Kathryn Wagner of Potters Mills spent a few days with the former's sister, Miss Violet Palmer.

Mrs. Dunkle, of Punxsutawney, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wolfe and family of Juniata spent a week end at the home of John Fortney.

The Gospel team of Schuylkill Seminary, Reading, which is holding services at the Evangelical church on Zion Hill, Tusseyville, is composed of four members who are students at that institution. Revs. James S. Housan and Rosa E. Purinton are the preachers and Floyd T. Jordan and Gerald S. Speidel have charge of the singing and personal work.

The meetings started on June 27 and should have ended on Sunday, July 8, but because of the fine spirit in the meeting and the coming week being a vacant one in the itinerary of the Gospel team, it was prevailed upon to stay until next Sunday, July 15. The meetings have been well attended and the young men have met with fine success. The results for the first ten days have been very gratifying. There have been six conversions and ten souls have been sanctified. It is expected that meetings during this week will be well attended. Although it is hay making season yet the farmers have been very faithful in their attendance and have done much to keep up the spirit manifested in every service.

On Sunday evening Rev. Campbell, the Presiding Elder of the Lewisburg District of the Central Conference had charge of the meetings and held Communion. After the Communion service the Gospel team took charge and a fine altar service was held. There are five persons at the altar.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the services irrespective of church affiliations.

The team came to Tusseyville from Johnstown where they held a successful ten-day campaign at the Evangelical church. The next appointment will be in Cumberland, Md., for two weeks and from Cumberland the team will go to Berkeley Springs, West Virginia from August 2 to 15.

The members of the team are from different sections of Pennsylvania and Maryland. Rev. James S. Housan is captain of the Gospel team, and is from Glencoe, Somerset county; Rev. Ross E. Purinton is from Cumberland, Md.; Floyd T. Jordan is from Tusseyville and Gerald C. Speidel is from Pike county.

TONGUES CLASH IN BELGIUM

Flemish-Speaking Elements Win Point Against Their Countrymen Whose Language is French.

National divisions are growing more acute in Belgium, says a writer in the Living Age. The Flemish-speaking provinces, already insurgent against the French-speaking Brussels government before the war, and encouraged in this attitude during the German occupation, are more insistent upon their rights than ever.

Parliament recently refused to erect a Flemish university at Antwerp. But the minister of education, apparently without the endorsement of all his colleagues, submitted a bill to parliament providing that "at the University of Ghent instruction shall be given in Flemish; it shall be given in French and Flemish in the schools of civil engineering, arts and manufactures."

This bill was adopted by a vote of 89 against 85, with seven abstentions—figures suggesting the equal division of sentiment over a question that, if we are to credit newspaper headlines, has aroused passions that have brought the people to the verge of violence.

The neutral and Protestant Journal de Geneve regards the action of the Belgian parliament as a "regrettable setback to Latin culture," likely to accentuate "discords of race, language, and even of religion" in that country. It will be recalled that the Flemings are strongly clerical.

NEVER USED BY EMPEROR

Luxurious Private Railroad Car Built for Maximilian of Mexico is Still in Existence.

On a sidetrack of the Mexican railway in Vera Cruz there rests one of the most historic private cars on the continent. It was built to order for Emperor Maximilian of Mexico more than sixty years ago. So solid was its construction that it is still in fairly presentable condition, despite its weather-beaten exterior.

During the recent revolutionary period it was used as the private car of army officers. Finally it found its way back to Vera Cruz, where it was shunted onto a remote siding to remain forgotten until discovered the other day by an official of the road.

Although the car was built for Emperor Maximilian, the ill-fated ruler never got to ride in it. When it arrived in Vera Cruz, a year before his downfall, conditions were so bad that it could not be sent to Mexico City. It was used later by President Juarez, who signed the death warrant of Maximilian and succeeded him as ruler of Mexico.

Teakwood, brought from India, was used in its construction. It was built in France and received in this country in the early part of 1865. On the outside it presented the appearance of one of the English compartment cars.

Wonderful Ice Formation.

Under blessing of a visit from Our Lady of Guadalupe, Yosemite National park is going to have one of the happiest and most prosperous years in its history.

This was the news spread abroad several days ago by distinguished visitors from Mexico who discovered a perfect likeness of Mexico's patron saint in the ice which forms on the cliff every night from the spray of Yosemite falls. The face is perfectly outlined. The body is swathed in the flowing robe of a Sister of Charity and the arms are crossed on the breast.

"Nuestra Senora de la Guadalupe!" exclaimed the first Mexican who glimpsed the famous cataract after his arrival. He called his friends and they agreed that the natural formation was one of the best they had ever seen. The image must be fully 1,000 feet high, as it extends nearly the entire length of the first drop of Yosemite falls, which is 1,430 feet.

When She's Away.

"The wife's away," said the man who wore a sort of run-down look. "And I've been cooking my own breakfasts. The thing that gets me is how in the name of goodness a person can cook three things, excluding coffee, and have them all done at the same time? I'll tell the waiting world that to do it is a gift. If that woman doesn't come back soon I'll be blistered in every exposed part of my body from hot flying grease. Did you ever try first to cook bacon, then drop an egg into the spider and fry it in the hot bacon grease? Do it, and I'll bet if you never uttered a cuss in your life you'll begin right then."—Detroit News.

Didn't Know How to Use It.

It happened the other night at the theater. The young couple had disturbed everybody around them by their whispering and murmuring. Folks frowned and growled but they talked on. Until suddenly the young man stopped and began to dig around on the floor for something.

Then he nudged the man in front of him, "I've lost my muffler some place," he said.

"Let it alone," the man growled back. "You didn't know how to use it when you did have it, judging from the noises I've been hearing back there."—Indianapolis News.

Beware the Ammunition.

He—I had a good joke to tell you this evening, but I see you are not in a condition to hear it.

She—Why?

He—Because if your face lights up the powder will go off.

TAKING IT TOO SERIOUSLY

Landlord Could Not Help but Think Citizens of Petunia Were Overdoing Their "Coue."

"Well, no," admitted the landlord of the Petunia tavern. "The town isn't as lively just now as it might be. You see, at present the Coue craze is raging here, and it seems like our folks can't get up much interest in anything else. No use to attempt to buy, sell or beg, or ask a direction or expect a favor, for the party you speak to is pretty sure to be muttering, 'Every day, in every way, I am growing better and better,' and wailing his eyes at vacancy as he does so.

"Tutther evening the I. X. L. store was robbed. Constable Slackputter saw the villains leaving with the goods, but he was just starting to say, 'Every day, in every way—', and so forth, and by the time he had repeated the formula 20 times the robbers' car was clear out of hearing. A feller started to propose to a girl lately, but she had begun to state 20 times that she was better and better. This gave him opportunity to think it over and he got up without committing himself, and left. Any minute I am looking for a building to ketch fire, and the fire company be in the midst of declaring that they are better than ever before and the structure be holocausted before they get to it. There are so many citizens growing better and better that I don't believe the town will amount to anything till they quit it."—Kansas City Star.
