"Eat more wheat" to help the farmer is a slogan these days, but we forget that the best of laws are not built for wheat consumption. If we were to eat enough bread to bring wheat up to even production cost we would all have the proverbial "squire belly. Nine little loaves of bread today represent the market value of a bushel of wheat. How could we manage to get the extra consumption back to the wheat grower?

THE DEATH RECORD.

ROUSH—Mrs. Perie K. Roush, wife of R. K. Roush, died at her home in Reading, on Sunday, after an illness with rheumatism and dropsy. She was formerly Miss Perie K. Shaeffer, a daughter of the late David and Sarah Shaeffer, of Madisonburg, where she was born. There survives the deceased her husband and one sister, Mrs. W. F. Rishel of Farmers Mills.

LINGLE—Doris Anna Lingle, infant daughter of Edward and Rosa Lingle, was born March 15, 1923, and died at the parental home near Spring Mills on July 18, aged four months and three days. She leaves to mourn their loss and her gain, parents, and brothers Russell, Miles and Robert. Funeral services were held on Friday in the Holy Cross church, Georges Valley, Rev. E. E. Haney being the officiating minister.

The following poem expresses their loss:
We had a little treasure once,
She was our joy and pride,
We loved her, ah, perhaps too well,
For soon she slept and died.
All is dark within our dwelling,
Lonely are our hearts today;
For the one we loved so dearly
Has forever passed away.

GEYER—Mrs. Agnes L. Geyer, proprietor of the Hopp Inn, Millburg, died at that place. Prior to purchasing the Hopp Inn, Mrs. Geyer conducted the Buffalo Valley Inn and under her management both places gained wide reputations for good service. There survives her daughter, Mrs. Hannah P. Kistler, of Millburg. She was born in Dauphin county in 1861.

Sheriffs to Meet in Williamsport.

The Sheriff's State Association of Pennsylvania will hold its first annual convention of the organization in Williamsport on Monday and Tuesday, August 13 and 14. The convention headquarters will be at the Locomotive hotel and Sheriff Thomas M. Gray, of Lycoming county, is treasurer of the organization. He is making the arrangements of the event.

Barned Burned at Dix Run.

A barn, with the season's hay crop, a corn crib, an implement shed, some implements, a chicken house, a pig pen and two automobiles, a Franklin and a Hupmobile sedan, were burned Friday afternoon on the farm of Grant Hoover, at Dix Run, two miles southwest of Unionville. The loss is estimated at $8,500. Mr. Hoover, a widely known resident of Williamsport, and formerly of Bellefonte, motored to the farm, which embraces 1,500 acres, mostly planted to forest tree seedlings, in his Hupmobile sedan. He was accompanied by his sons, George and Eugene. After putting the car in the barn they started for a walk along Dix Run. They had gone only a short distance when the flames were noticed. They hurried back but the fire burned fiercely and they could do nothing except save the dwelling, some apple trees standing between the blaze and the house making it possible to do so.

Better Have Your Lights Burning.

State police, watching the state roads in the vicinity of Bellefonte, picked up eighteen auto drivers who were not complying with the state rules. Most of the violations were for driving cars without tail lights, and several for having only one head light. The fine in each case was $10.00 and $25.00 costs. Squire Keichne collected the fines.

Millburg Has the Klux Klux

That a chapter of the Klux Klux Klan exists in Millburg was evidenced on Saturday evening, when at about 10 o'clock, a flaming cross was seen on Reservoir hill south of town. The cross burned about ten minutes before it was consumed, and was visible in every part of the town. Many people rushed to the top of the hill while it was still burning and hundreds visited the spot on Sunday.

While similar happenings at towns in Snyder and Northumberland counties have been recorded within the last few months, this is the first appearance in Union county of this organization.

Of the sixty-three county agents and six assistant county agents in Pennsylvania, all but three are graduates of the Pennsylvania State College agricultural school.

Bad Effect of Ordinance.

The new ordinance defining a nuisance and giving any disgruntled citizen an opportunity to work out spite and hatred, is bringing about bad effects. Saturday night a half dozen or more of the most substantial farmers in this territory simply didn't do a thing but go off to another town to do their shopping. The business of these families alone in a year will amount to a considerable sum. Here is where the innocent suffer. The people in the neighborhood, rather than be humiliated if they come in, will simply stay out.

What is the remedy? Protest! Ask the council to annul its action, for there is nothing commendable in the ordinance that has not previously been provided for in ordinances or by state laws.

Although denied by the borough authorities of Montoursville, Lycoming county, the merchants in it are being boycotted because the charge is made that a speed trap is being worked in the borough. So we see that people are pretty much alike all over the country and rebel in a manner that it counts most when their rights are encroached upon or measures are taken that show lack of appreciation of their trade and presence.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Kill the Weeds—If you discover Canada thistle, sow thistle, morning glory or hoary cross on or near your farm, start at once to eradicate it. Cultivation, unless thoroughly and continuously done, will only tend to spread the weeds. Small patches may be killed by covering with tar paper or a thick layer of straw.

Bran Prices—A record on the price of wheat bran for the last ten years shows that for seven out of the ten years, the price of bran has been lowest during the period from June to October. January, February and March have usually witnessed the highest prices for bran. Farmers buying considerable commercial feeds, may profit by this information.

Potato Blight—Wet weather is very favorable for an attack of late blight. To avoid serious losses in the potato crop, spray systematically and regularly at week or ten-day intervals.

August Furniture Sale.

A discount of twenty (20) per cent will be given on all Furniture purchased during August, except kitchen cabinets. Large stock to select from.
