Our Telephones.

Isn't it funny what liberties people will take with a telephone?

We remove the receiver when the bell tingles and yell "Hello" as if we thought our voice had to carry out the window and through the ether instead of over the wire.

Or when we get a number we yell "who is it?" just as loudly without telling who we are or anything about our business.

Do we answer the doorbell in the same manner or greet any one at the door in that way?

Then, again, would we throw up an obstacle on a neighbor's pavement and prevent him from getting in or out of his home?

Yet, how many times unthinkingly we make a neighbor lose patience and valuable time and perhaps hold up a call for a doctor or other emergency by an unnecessarily prolonged telephone conversation.

Let's think it over.

Prize Sport in Swordfishing.

The Eriezine Monitor recently arrived at Seattle from a cruise in the North sea, bringing the report that a swordfish, evidently mistaking the boat for a whale, attacked from underneath. It came up with such momentum that it seemed as if it were a six-inch plank in the hall. When investigation was made to discover the cause of a leak, the fish's sword was found, minus the teeth, in the thick plank.

What is regarded as a prime summer sport is swordfishing along the northern sea coast of the United States. The swordfish is harpooned, the harpoon standing behind an iron protection as high as his waist. The swordfish preys on schools of spawning fishes. While frequently seen in the Pacific waters, it is a native of the North Atlantic, the Mediterranean sea and the vicinity of the Antilles. It becomes as large as a shark, and has a mackerel-shaped body.

THE DEATH RECORD.

HARPER.—Jared Harper, one time merchant and well known citizen of Bellefonte, died in the Bellefonte hospital after an illness of infirmities due to age. Although not unexpected his death saddened the whole community as Mr. Harper had a wide circle of friends throughout Centre county. He was born at Red Bank, the son of George and Elizabeth (Kramer) Harper, deceased, and was aged eighty-four years. He was twice married. His first wife, Diana Cronmiller, to whom deceased was married in 1860, passed away many years ago. He was united in marriage the second time to Mary Wetzel, who survives with one son, John, of Schnecktoy, N. Y. Mr. Harper was the last of a family of ten children. He located in Bellefonte in 1860 and started to work for Harry Teats, then a grocer. Later he purchased the business from Mr. Teats and launched into the grocery business for himself. During his experience as a merchant Mr. Harper also served a short period as a school director and was in addition a director of Franklin and Marshall College at Lancaster. Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning at his home on South Thomas street; interment in the Union cemetery.

PICK.—Mrs. Hannah Pick, widow of the late John Pick, died of diseases incident to old age, being about eighty-five years of age. Since the death of her husband, which occurred near Laurelet about three years ago she lived with a son near Millheim, where she died.

Besides several children she is survived by these brothers and sisters: Nathaniel Boob, of Millheim; E. B. Boob, of Aaronsburg; Isiah Boob, of Woodward; Mrs. Joseph Smith, of Bunkertown, and Mrs. Maria Fredericks, of Wolfs Store. Interment was made at Hartleton.

The Trip to Pittsburgh.

The trip to Pittsburgh by thirty-six local baseball enthusiasts to see Pittsburgh win from the New York Giants and then be defeated in a double header, on Monday afternoon, was a most delightful one. Pittsburgh had its biggest crowd of the season, over 35,500 witnessing it. The first game was spectacular in many respects, and many fine plays were made in the last one.

The party camped on Schenley Park, together with several dozen other touring parties from all sections of the U. S. In the camp formality was thrown aside—all were neighbors in spirit and action. The arrival of the Centre Hall cars, eight sedans and a truck with equipment, created some little stir, and while the tent was going up and the first meal prepared, the quarters were surrounded by the campers already on the field who extended a hearty welcome.

Tuesday morning camp was broken—then the journey home. Safe.

Speedway to Open on Labor Day.

The world's fastest automobile race track will be opened at Altoona on Labor Day when fifteen of the most noted drivers will compete in a speed classic for $24,000 in purses.

The huge mile and a quarter board oval has been under construction for months by Jack Prince, builder of the Kansas City bowl and other famous board tracks. The small army of carpenters will rush the work ready for preliminary trials a week before the race.

Officially sanctioned by the A. A. A. as the site for all future Labor Day competition, displacing the abandoned Uniontown track, the speedway will be the last word in scientific construction. One hundred thirty-two cars of clear pine will be used. The racing floor is being built of straight grain two-by-fours, laid on edge.

The site of the new speedway has been pronounced by Fred Wagner, starter in every championship auto race since the sport began, as the finest in the country. The bowl rises in the middle of a great level plain, with parking space for thousands of cars inside and outside the structure. Transportation facilities will care for the crowds without congestion. The Pennsylvania railroad main line passes the gates. The William Penn highway, Horseshoe Trail and other improved roads lead directly to the site.

Provisions are being made for a crowd of between 65,000 and 75,000 persons at the opening event September 3. Two main grandstands are under construction, with additional seating space to be provided for events that will follow.

WANTED.—One hundred or more new subscribers to The Centre Reporter, at $1.50 per year, in advance; satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.

Grand Templar Visits Ledges.

The various Ledges' Temples in Centre and Clinton counties are being visited by Mrs. Elsie Spotts, Grand Templar of Pennsylvania. Friday evening she paid the Millheim lodge a visit, which is the first time that lodge was visited by any Grand Templar since its institution in 1918. The Millheim lodge is in good standing, has a large membership, many of them being active young people, and has a well appointed lodge room in the Frank building.

After the regular business session was over on Friday evening, a period was devoted to social intercourse during which time refreshments were served. There were quite a large number of visitors from neighboring lodges Centre Hall having been represented by eighteen members and a half dozen friends. The Lock Haven lodge also had a number of members present. Mrs. Spotts having been transported to and from Millheim by a member of that lodge.

S. S. Promotion Exercises.

A very pretty graduation exercise was held at the Lutheran church on Wednesday night, when fifteen bright boys and girls were promoted from the primary room to the junior class. Each was presented with a neat little Testament including the Psalms, in the A. R. version. Rev. M. C. Drumm the pastor, spoke on "Organization in the Sunday School." A large crowd witnessed the service. The following were promoted:

Richard Bailey, Ethel McClenahan, Margaret McClenahan, Philip McClenahan, Evelyn Colyer, Harold Dunkle, Dorothy Emerick, Benjamin Gentzel, Gladys Heckman, Fred Luse, John Runkle, Margaret Rudy, Bertha Sharer, John Shaeffer, Hazel Potter.

Barney Google "Still Yet."

We all know "Barney Google" that flits hither and yon in and about Centre Hall. Well, a few days ago, at the outskirts of town, "Barney" became unmanageable because he decided to go to grass and took the route over a shade tree. "Barney" didn't clear it without touching, but he went against and over a willow tree and a fence into a field. Nobody hurt and "Barney Google" is "still yet."

Reformed Reunion at Lakemont Park.

Members of the Reformed churches of Central Pennsylvania will hold their annual reunion at Lakemont park, Altoona, on Thursday, August 9, and many members in Centre county will doubtless attend.

Dr. George D. Robb, chairman, and his efficient committee of arrangements have made every provision for a big day. Rev. Howard S. Fox, pastor of St. John's church, Roaring Springs, will preach on "Elijah."

Rev. Elmer L. Coblenz will speak on "Why Believe in the Church?" at the 2:30 service in the theatre. He is recognized as one of the ablest orators of the denomination.

"The Light of the World," a sacred cantata first presented at the world Sunday school convention in Japan, will be the evening attraction. It will be given by a cast and chorus from Grace Reformed church, under the direction of Miss Maude Minster.

Man and Wife Back from Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Leister, of near Potters Mills, the latter part of last week, returned from the Lock Haven hospital where Mr. Leister had been for five weeks to recover from shattered nerves. His condition is thought by friends to be somewhat improved.

Mrs. Leister had an operation performed for the removal of gall stones, which was altogether successful, one hundred and thirteen stones of various sizes having been taken from her. She is getting along very well since reaching home, according to statements of neighbors.

Doctor Gravely Charged.

Dr. James W. Mitchell, a prominent Lewistown physician, was held under $1000 bail or a hearing before Deputy United States Commissioner H. C. Burkett, on Friday, charged with having dispense d narcotics illegally. Agent H. S. Brown, of State narcotic squad, made the information against Dr. Mitchell, after arresting three users of the drug.

Millheim baseball club forfeited its game against Centre Hall last Saturday afternoon for non-appearance. No reason was given by Millheim for their failure to show up.

New Prohibition Enforcement Officer.

Rev. John T. Davis, prohibition director for Pennsylvania, has resigned, the resignation to take effect September 1st. Mayor William G. Murdock, of Milton, was chief draft officer, during the war, has been appointed to the vacancy.

McCONNELL AND ASSOCIATES TO FACE TRIAL.

Federal Grand Jury Called in the Third Attempt to Try Former Prohibition Director and His Assistants.

A special grand jury was ordered empaneled by Federal Judge Dickinson at the request of United States District Attorney Coles who announced he would seek new indictments against William C. McConnell, former federal prohibition director for Pennsylvania, Major Samuel B. Wolfe, and some of McConnell's assistants in office. Those mentioned by Mr. Coles were Albert F. Slater, McConnell's former secretary, and Hiram W. Benner, former chief of the prohibition division of permits.

"I am going to lay before the grand jury evidence showing that McConnell, Slater and Benner committed malfeasance in office," said Mr. Coles. "As to the others, I am not prepared to say anything until we lay our case before the grand jury."

The order to empanel a special grand jury marks the third attempt of the Government to try McConnell and other defendants. They were originally charged with conspiracy in the instance of alleged fraudulent permit to withdraw liquor.

Judge Thompson dismissed the charges against McConnell and others in May, indicating that the Government had failed to establish that conspiracy existed among the defendants, who were not aware at all times of each other's actions.

On April 3 the first jury empaneled to try the case was dismissed after Government counsel had alleged that the foreman, Terrace O'Laughlin, had been tampered with. O'Laughlin is still under bail and four men charged with attempting to influence him in favor of the acquittal of McConnell are also awaiting trial in September.

The special grand jury met Wednesday.

Ham and Egg Supper.

Thursday of last week a ham and egg supper was a big occasion at Mt. Springs Park, on the highway over Seven Mountains. The affair was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Russell N. Haas, newlyweds, who were guests of the bride's sister, Mrs. Fred Slack, east of Centre Hall. The seven autos were occupied by the following persons: Mr. and Mrs. Haas, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Auman, Mr. and Mrs. John Delaney and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Delaney and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Runkle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Slack and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dinges, Mrs. Margaret Gussallus, Miss Esther Wagner, att of Centre Hall; Miss Anna Clark, Greensburg; Stuart Runkle, Philadelphia; Gertrude McCollum, Altoona.

FARMS FOR SALE.

The heirs of W. M. and Edward Allison, deceased, will consider offers on two of their farms, both in a good state of cultivation.

No. 1—Situating in Potter township, about one-half mile east of Potters Mills; erected upon it a good house and barn and all the necessary other buildings; a good spring of water and good fruit; containing about 120 ACRES, all improved. They will also consider selling in connection with this farm the adjoining mountain tract containing about 200 ACRES.

FARM NO. 2—Situating one mile north-west of Spring Mills, Pa., in Gregg township; containing about 166 ACRES, with good house and barn erected upon it and the necessary other buildings. This farm has quite a lot of valuable timber upon it and would be a good buy for a lumberman.

Anyone interested should get into touch with HARRY ALLISON, Agent for said farms; Address, Spring Mills, Pa.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

is greatly relieved by constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

MOSUL NEAR NINEVEH'S SITE

Ancient City on the Tigris Practically Built on the Ruins of Famous Metropolis.

Will the next war be waged on the site of ancient Nineveh? Mosul, on the bank of the Tigris, overlooks the mounds of that ancient city. Mosul means oil. England and Turkey seem to have come to grips over Mosul. At the crossroads of caravan routes from everywhere—Aleppo, Bagdad and Persia, the leaning minaret of Mosul has seen that city wax and wane. It may rise from its ruins of white limestone and become a great city again. For it is the capital of the province in which are oil fields that compare with the richest in the world.

It will not be the first time that the city by the Tigris has come back after being counted out. Nineveh shone for 2,000 years. When it gave up the ghost Mosul, a lusty infant, sprang from the southern suburbs and flourished.

It weathered the storms of many wars. Tamerlane pillaged it. Saladin beat against its walls but failed to subdue the city. It rose to its height in the Twelfth century, when it became an independent capital. The vlayet of Mosul, over which the Turks and British battled in conference, includes 29,000 square miles lying mostly east of the Tigris.
