

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. Farmer, if you need a mule, see the lot at the Centre Hall hotel barn.

P. V. Goodhart left for Piqua, Ohio, beginning of the week and will return on Friday with his new hearse.

A new front porch to the Mrs. Alice Durst home is being finished. It adds greatly to the appearance of the home.

There remains only a few days for filing petitions for having names printed on the primary ballot, and candidates have been hustling this week to obtain the legal number of signatures.

A new Reo "Speed Wagon" is being used by William McClenahan in his dray work, taking the place of a Ford truck. The new truck was purchased of C. D. Bartholomew, who had it on hand but never had placed in its actual use.

An item appearing in last week's issue of the Orangeville (Ill.) Courier of interest locally is this: G. B. Goodhart is taking about thirty head of horses to the Green County fair next week. Bruce surely loves a horse and knows how to show them.

Bruce D. Rowe, of Newark, New Jersey, is at his home in Centre Hall on his annual vacation. He holds a good position with the Westinghouse Electric company. From here he expects to go to Atlantic City to spend a few days with his brother, John L. Rowe.

Dr. S. C. Runkle came up from Philadelphia last week for a short visit with his brother, John H. Runkle, east of town. The latter part of this week he expects to return, accompanied by his son, Stuart, who has been her for some time. The trip home will be made by auto.

Charles Lauber, of York, has a carload of Indiana mules, all young beasts at the Centre Hall hotel stables, which he offers at private sale, or will exchange. They may be seen today or any day thereafter. Mr. Lauber calls your attention to his advertisement carried in the Reporter this week.

Miss Ruth Shirley and Miss Florence Epley, of Jersey Shore, were pleasant callers at the Reporter office on Tuesday, stopping here while on a motor trip just to see the Reporter's linotype. Miss Shirley is a linotype operator on the Jersey Shore Herald and found the Reporter's machine to be the same model as used in the Herald office.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Keller are spending a week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Keller, in Centre Hall. Mr. Keller has been elected assistant principal of the Landisville (Lancaster county) High school, and will report for duty Monday, August 27, when the fall term opens. The position is an advancement over his former post.

Week-end guests at the J. Cloyd Brooks home, on Rhoneymede farm, were Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Smith and daughter Margaret, of Williamsport; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Koon and daughter Deana, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. Koon's former home was Yeagerstown and it is thirty years since he left that place. He is a brother of Mrs. Smith, mentioned above.

Frank D. Lee, although having "retired" from the farm, has been a real farmer this summer, nevertheless. Almost every day during the present summer he has left his home in Centre Hall bright and early for his farm in Nittany valley—five miles distant—by auto, and assisted in the various farming operations, proving a good hand for his son-in-law, Earl Tibbens, who occupies the place.

Reformed Church Day at Lakemont Park, Altoona, last Thursday, was largely attended by members of that denomination from all parts of Central Pennsylvania. Those from Centre Hall who enjoyed the day there were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce E. Runkle, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Runkle, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk, Dorothy and Helen Odenkirk, and Miss Tillie Keller.

John S. Spearly, of Benner township, comes before the Democratic voters with his formal announcement in the Reporter for Commissioner of Centre county. Mr. Spearly was in Centre Hall on Tuesday collecting a few signers for his petition. He is a mighty good Democrat, and has served for the past fifteen years as tax collector for his home township, which, we believe, speaks for his integrity. Owing to a recent illness he has not been able to cover the county as well as he desired.

The Nittany mountain road from the top down, on the other side, is being repaired. This side of the mountain, near the top, has been decidedly improved in being widened so that two cars can easily pass. Trees and brush have been cut away along the roadside, so that an unobstructed view of the broad valley may be had—and it is indeed beautiful. At the same time the precipitous side takes on a more dangerous-looking appearance in its nude state, but with the planting of the posts at the side and stringing of the cable a sense of security will again be felt by the motorist crossing the top.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Helm and family, of Harrisburg, spent a few days this week at the W. F. Colyer home.

Today (Thursday) at Hecla Park the Business Men's picnic promises to attract a big crowd of Centre county folk.

Dr. Smith, of near Philadelphia, is visiting at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Lutz, in Centre Hall.

Elmer Breen, of near Bellefonte, one of the Democratic candidates for the nomination for Sheriff of Centre county, was in town one day last week in the interest of his candidacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Boyer, of Sunbury; Charles Lee, Mrs. McCloskey and daughter, Miss Beas McCloskey, of Lock Haven, were an auto party that visited at the James C. Goodhart home in Centre Hall on Sunday.

Figures compiled by the Department of Forests and Waters show that there are forty chemical wood plants in Pennsylvania. They have an annual capacity of 400,000 cords of wood. Each day they use about 1,375 cords.

Figures compiled by the State Department of Forests and Waters show that this spring 38 owners of forest land set out a total of 144,165 forest trees in Centre county. Reports indicated that most of these trees are growing well and in time they will produce excellent lumber. In Clinton county 12 tree planters set out 5,448 forest trees and in Clearfield county 49 different owners planted 215,915 forest trees.

Thirteen hundred and more Pennsylvania boys and girls who are seeking admission to the Pennsylvania State College this fall must be told to go elsewhere. President John M. Thomas announced this week that the college trustees had authorized the admission of a Freshman class of 950, a very large class, but that this was not even half of the more than 2300 well-qualified applicants who are desirous of gaining a higher education at their State College.

Standing of Centre County B.B. League

The league standing to date is as follows:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
State College	15	5	.750
Bellefonte	14	6	.700
Centre Hall	11	10	.524

TUSSEYVILLE

Miss Jennie Bottorf, who has been ill is not improving at this writing.

Miss Anna Fortney has gone to Atlantic City where she will spend several weeks.

C. P. Ramer, the merchant, is spending a week fishing in the southern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Jordan and daughter Miss Emily spent two weeks in Cumberland, Md., returning home on Thursday. They brought back with them their son, Floyd Jordan, a member of the Gospel team of Schuylkill College, who was injured during their services in that city. While riding a bicycle an automobile ran him down. The scratch on his limb festered and it became necessary to remove him to a hospital and have it attended to.

A little excitement prevailed Saturday evening when an Overland car, driven by John Hoerner, and a Cadillac driven by Peck Poorman, of Boalsburg, collided on the curve at the C. P. Ramer store. The occupants were somewhat shaken up but no one was injured seriously. The Overland car was damaged to the greater degree, although it can be repaired.

GEORGES VALLEY

We are pleased to note that Samuel Gobble who has been ill for some time is now able to work again.

Harvey Blerly and Prince were out picnicking Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pearson, of Altoona, visited the home of S. C. Decker on Saturday.

Too good to be true—to carry on a conversation over the telephone without being annoyed by the continuous clicking of receivers, ticking of clocks, along with the yelping of youngsters.

MIGHTIEST FORCE IS LOVE

No Other Human Emotion So Strengthens the Character and Makes for Aims That Are Noble.

"We are shaped and fashioned by what we love."—Goethe.

Love is the great purifier of the soul. It strengthens the character and gives a higher motive and a nobler aim to every action of life. It gives both to man and woman those higher attributes of the soul—courage, faith, nobility, strength, tenderness. It guides the life toward nobler, stronger manhood or sweeter, truer womanhood. It is the noblest gift with which a human being can be endowed. He who holds the love of another holds heaven within his grasp. And he whose heart gives love to another enriches not only his own soul, but likewise enriches the soul of every man, woman and child whose life he touches. Love is the most potent thing in the world!

Love—true love—is indestructible. Indifference, abuse, ingratitude, repulsion cannot destroy true love; through all this true love loves on. Love simply loves, asking nothing in return. It purifies, ennobles and refines character with the touch of a Midas; it is always constructive, never destructive. Genuine love is a force that is ever uplifting. Even when sown in a barren soil it is not wasted! It always chastens, beautifies and enriches the life of the one who loves.

"If there be one thing pure, where all beside is sullied, and that can endure when all else passes away—if aught surpassing human deed, or word, or thought, it is a mother's love."—Spadara.

WHY RIGHT HAND IS USED

Was Necessary in the Days When the Heart Was Guarded by the Left Arm.

The Pathfinder prints an interesting theory of why we are right-handed. Most persons are right-handed. Only one in every twenty is left-handed. Why are people right-handed? They may have been born that way, it's true, but why? There's a reason for most things. If you can only puzzle it out. Away back in the beginning the chief occupation of man was fighting. In battle he carried a shield in one hand and a weapon in the other. It was not much work to carry the shield, but the quick action required by the hand and arm which did the fighting soon developed that arm. It also developed the nerves and the half of the brain that governed the right side of the body. Those who shielded their left side—thus protecting the heart—were the ones who usually came out victorious. Down through the ages this selection continued, the right hand gradually becoming more proficient.

Woman Sacred in Albania.

"Everywhere in Albania a woman is safe and sacred. These wild and savage looking people, in the farthest mountains, will protect you with their lives even from the slightest discourtesy. One's only difficulty will be an embarrassment of attention, for men will attach themselves to your party in order to travel among their blood enemies in safety," writes Rose Wilder Lane, in World Traveler Magazine.

"No man may be insulted or killed in the presence of a woman. And there was once a man with a blithe sense of humor, when I engaged as a guide, who took me a day's journey out of my way, merely to go through a tribe that was bound in honor to kill him on sight. He enjoyed the entertainment of the courtesy, the coffee and cigarettes which my presence forced from his enemies, and it never occurred to him that I might not enjoy the joke as well as he."

Fabre's Rebuttal.

Others again have reproached me with my style, which has not the solemnity, nay, better, the dryness of the schools. They fear lest a page that is read without fatigue should not always be the expression of the truth. Were I to take their word for it, we are profound only on condition of being obscure. Come here, one and all of you—you, the sting-bearers, and you, the wing-cased armor-clads—take up my defense and bear witness in my favor. Tell of the intimate terms on which I live with you, of the patience with which I observe you, of the care with which I record your actions. Your evidence is unanimous; yes, my pages, though they bristle not with hollow formulae nor learned smatterings, are the exact narrative of facts observed, neither more nor less; and whose cares to question you in his turn will obtain the same replies.—Jean Henri Fabre.

House Was Divided.

A northerner was hunting in the South and one afternoon he got drenched through. A southern farmer took him in, gave him a suit of clothes to wear while his own clothes dried, and insisted that he stay all night. The northerner, of course, was profoundly touched by this display of southern hospitality.

Just after supper as the contented northerner, full of good food, was going upstairs to his bedroom for his pipe, he met the lady of the house coming down with a huge book under her arm. As he had her husband's clothes on she mistook him for her husband in the dim light and brought the book down on his head with a bang.

"That!" she hissed. "That's what ye git for askin' him to stay all night!"—Savannah News.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Shade for Poultry—If nature has not provided shade for your flock, make a low shed about three feet high out of old boards. Hot sun plays havoc with chickens.

Hog Wallows—Hog wallows in hot weather are splendid investments for the hog farm. If the hog man does not provide a wallow for his animals the hogs will provide one for themselves. It is better for the owner to do the job.

Paint the Buildings—A good coat of paint not only adds to the attractiveness of the farm buildings but also serves to lengthen their period of service. The time to paint is in hot weather and experts are agreed that every building should receive a coat at least every seven years.

Fruit Harvesting Equipment—It is not too early to look over the harvesting equipment and see what is needed. The increased efficiency of a crew equipped with picking bags, pointed long ladders and three-legged orchard stepladders will pay for the better equipment in a single season.

Name the Farm—Is your farm just "Brown's place" or have you made use of the advertising possibilities contained in a well chosen farm name? A good farm name adds value to the farm, can be used as a part of the trade mark on your products, and lends dignity to the farm home. Choose a name that is short, easy to spell and pronounce, and one that is applicable to the natural surroundings of your home or to the character of your business.

PEACHES! PEACHES! THE BUFFALO VALLEY FRUIT FARMS, MIFFLINBURG, PA., are picking and marketing WHITE FREE STONE PEACHES. Will be picking Elbertas about September 1st. The Farms are located about six miles Northwest of Mifflinburg. Visitors are welcome. Bell telephone 17214. advt
