

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Moore are visiting relatives at Elysburg.

Rehearsal for the Grange pageant, Thursday night, at the Grange hall. All out.

Mrs. Cyrus Brungart was ill for a few days the past week, but is now improving.

Miss D. Lacey Kirkpatrick is visiting her brother at the Presbyterian Manse this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snyder and son, of Sunbury, are guests at the Mrs. Mary Fisher home in Centre Hall.

Rev. and Mrs. William Gilt, of Irvonia, and Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hoy, of Howard, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Delaney on Tuesday.

Mrs. J. S. Getchell and children, of Uniontown, and Mrs. Thomas Keefer and children, of Youngwood, are at the Cyrus Brungart home for a short stay.

Mrs. J. H. Auman, of Royersford, her two daughters—Mrs. Harvey Bickhart, of Phoenixville, and Miss Mildred—and Mr. Bickhart, are among relatives in Centre Hall and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kramer, of State College; Mrs. John Koonsman, of Newark, New Jersey, and Mrs. William Muffley, of Northampton, spent Monday at the Wm. H. Keller home, near the station.

Max Herr recently purchased the Miss Lizzie Runkle property, in Centre Hall, which had previously been sold by the administrators to Samuel Runkle. The recent purchase price was $1200. Mr. Herr expects to put up a store building next spring and engage in the sale of clothing, etc.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Roy Corman, of Cressona, are in Centre Hall at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher. Rev. Corman will preach the Harvest Home sermon on Grange Park on Sunday of the Encampment and Fair. He will leave Cressona about October 19th to accept a reformed pastorate in Sunbury.

D. Wagner Geiss, of Bellefonte, makes formal announcement in the Reporter this week of his candidacy for the office of Recorder of Centre county, subject to the decision of the Democratic voters at the September primaries. Mr. Geiss was defeated for this office four years ago, and believes he is entitled to the party nomination.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace O. Horner, Gunard Barkmas, Miss Gertrude Marz and Miss Jennie Rhoads, all of McKeesport, formed an auto party who enjoyed a trip from the Pittsburgh district to Centre county. They arrived here Monday, and are visiting Mr. Horner's father, George L. Horner, and other relatives, near Pleasant Gap. On Tuesday the party motored to Centre Hall and Penns Cave.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hayden, of Southern Pines, North Carolina, spent several days with their nephew, Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, and family, in Centre Hall, last week. Mr. Hayden is an ex-Judge, a Civil War veteran, and at the age of 86 years can climb the Nittany Mountain like a boy. He and Mrs. Hayden have gone to Indianapolis, Ind., and from there they are going to Montana to visit a sister of Mrs. Hayden. They will stop off at Milwaukee for the National Soldiers' Encampment.

Harry Gross, pitcher for the Centre Hall baseball team, injured his left ankle during Saturday's game with Millheim, on the home ground, and it looks as though he will be out of the game for the remainder of the season. His foot caught on the edge of the home plate in a slide to that base, severely spraining the ankle, and he is now going about with the aid of crutches. The injury is a blow to the chances of the team in the league race. Harry was the mainstay in the pitcher's box and has been playing consistently good ball all season.

Pupils Will Give Recital.

Some of the pupils of Mrs. Marie Kirkpatrick's music class will give a recital in the Presbyterian church, in Centre Hall, Wednesday evening, August 29th, at 8:15. A silver offering will be taken.

Touring Notes from Mr. and Mrs. George E. Meyer.

Walsenburg, Colorado, August 7, 1923.

The last writing was at Phoenix, Arizona. This evening we are at Walsenburg, Colorado, some 50 miles from New Mexico. The population is 3,140. It has been raining this afternoon and the camp grounds are wet, so we are putting up at the St. Charles hotel.

Last week after writing we drove north through the Black Canyon; the Agua Fria River runs through this canyon, but is dry now, there not having been much rain. The drive up through these mountains was 100 miles and the scenery fine. At the close of the day we came into the city of Prescott, Arizona, right upon the mountains. It is called the "Mile-High City." The sunset from here was so wonderful that I will not try to describe it. At this city is Fort Whipple, the place the Government has for the T B boys who were in the war. We were told several thousand were here. There are no industries here; they depend on the tourists and on what comes to the Fort from the Government. At this place we met tourists from Pittsburgh.

From here we drove through the Granite Dells—most beautiful granite and natural formation. The roads for some twenty miles were of granite gravel, and good. Since then we have been on some bad roads. We in Centre county would not drive over them, but here many are going over them daily.

At one place in New Mexico we came to a river (that is what the people here call them, but we would say a creek) caused from rain on the hills above. Here a car was in at the rear over the wheels and could not get out. I put on my gum boots, waded through where the water was not so deep, and with some other men and a Ford the car was gotten out. Six cars were stranded here; finally we came through with the cars where I waded through, and went on our way rejoicing. The tourists help each other out any time they need help. On that drive it was 108 miles between towns.

The night of August 5th we were at Santa Fe, the capital of New Mexico, and next morning went through the museums—one over 200 years old, the other only seven years. The new one is of ancient design, all the wood work is rough—not a plane having been used. We have passed over some bad roads but are looking for better ones ahead of us now.

We have traveled over 7,000 miles now. The "Cleveland" is taking us right along. Our health is good and we enjoy sleeping out doors. We expect to reach Colorado Springs tomorrow.

Mother Must Be Versatile.

Persons who read a slip fastened to the bulletin board of the Manhattan headquarters of the girl scout organizations were rather startled until they realized that the average woman, mother of three or four children, really fills all the positions specified below.

The paper, taken from a national camp bulletin, states "at least a partial knowledge of the following 54 vocations is necessary to make a home—hostess, executive, purchasing agent, superintendent, treasurer, accountant, bookkeeper, repairer, file clerk, correspondent, inspector, employment manager, banker, dietician, confectioner, cook, waiter, janitor, buss boy, bell boy, dishwasher, canner, florist, nurse, gardener, poultry raiser, educator, entertainer, clothing designer, clothing cutter, tailor, dressmaker, milliner, seamstress, embroiderer, dyer, cleaner, renovator, librarian, physician, teacher, laundry worker, hair dresser, manicurist, industrial arts worker, carpenter, electrician, mechanic, inventor, efficiency engineer, painter, plumber, upholsterer and interior decorator."

Melville on His Piazza.

In summer, too, Canute-like, sitting here, one is often reminded of the sea. For not only do long groundswells roll the slanting grain, and little wavelets of the grass ripple over upon the low piazza, as their beach, and the blown down of dandelions is wafted like the spray, and the purple of the mountains is just the purple of the billows, and a still August noon broods over the deep meadows, as a calm upon them; but the vastness and the loneliness are so oceanic, and the sil-

Maps Long Used in Peru.
Mapmaking goes back to the earliest known time. It was a branch of the early picture writing practiced by savages. In Tahiti, for instance, the natives were able to make fairly good maps for the guidance of explorers. Maps with raised lines were in use in Peru before the Conquest.
The oldest known map is that of the Ethiopian gold mines, dating from the time of Sethos I, the father of Rameses II, long before the time of Aristagoras and his bronze tablet, on which were inscribed the circuit of the earth and all the seas and rivers then known.
