ENCAMPMENT AND FAIR
IN FULL SWING.

50th Anniversary of Institution Larger and Better Than Ever—Big Exhibits—Better and More Varied Amusements.

As the Reporter goes to press on Wednesday morning, the Grange Encampment and Fair is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary. From a one-day basket picnic held in what was then known as Leach's woods, four miles west of Centre Hall, the institution has grown into a mammoth affair of a week's duration. Then grounds—a few acres—were leased; now the association owns in its own name close to seventy acres of land, much of it set with beautiful shade trees, a number of substantial buildings for exhibits of various products of the farm, large exhibit buildings for horses, cattle, swine and sheep, others for implements and manufactures, commodious auditorium and headquarters, etc. These buildings today are filled to the groaning point, and there are erected on these grounds several hundred canvas wall tents 12x14 feet, in which live as large a number of persons for an entire week as constituted the attendance of the first picnic held in the Leach woods, and that gathering was the most important one of its kind held at that time. The association began with a zero treasury, and it was through the great efforts of one man, who devoted a life almost exclusively to Grange work (and much of this time was given to the development of the Grange Encampment and Fair proposition in its various stages) that this institution today is sound financially and has been since its inception. Every reader knows who that man was and in speaking of this 50th anniversary his name—Hon. Leonard Rhone—was associated with it. And the one regret mentioned was that his hands could not hold the reins today.

The exhibits are quite elaborate, the amusements more varied and instructive than any time heretofore, and if Thursday is fair the attendance will be a record breaker. A strong feature of Thursday afternoon program will be a talk by J. K. Johnson, Superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad at Tyrone. He will speak on "Transportation and its relation to the farmer." The talk will be a worthwhile one.

Some Auto Mishaps.
Miscalculations of space and speed resulted in a pretty badly shattered Ford car driven by Eugene Stover, son of Clarence Stover, of lower Penna. Valley. The accident happened Sunday, at the borough limits on Nittany Mountain. P. M. Corl, of State College, was the driver of the other car, who appears to have agreed to pay the bill.

Stuart Hosterman, connected with the Coburn creamery company, at Coburn, on Monday while driving down Nittany Mountain on the Centre Hall side, met with an unexplainable mishap which resulted in his Overland sedan going through the wire cable after breaking down a post, and landing some twenty feet below the highway, the car having turned in the opposite direction from which he was traveling. No other car had interfered. The damaged car was removed Tuesday morning by the Breon-Weaver garage men, at Millheim.

Close to the J. H. Runkle farm house below Old Fort, on Monday, a Jewett touring car driven by Graden Moyer lost a wheel which caused the car to prescribe a circle and topple over, doing considerable damage. Mr. Graden was pretty badly shaken up and unnerved as were also two children, with them. The party were conveyed to their home Monday evening.

On Labor Day, A. E. Kerlin and son, William W. Kerlin, and five young men of Centre Hall, started for Altoona to attend the big auto race. Ascending the hill on the new stretch of road on this side of State College, they attempted to pass a car. As the Kerlin Nash sedan approached the other car, the driver, for some reason, he failed to explain, drew his car to the left side of the road so that there was no room for the Kerlin car to pass. The peculiar antics of the driver who was in error permitted no alternative other than to strike him, and the result was a smash-up. The Kerlin car was the more damaged of the two cars. The right front wheel was completely torn from the car and every spoke torn from the rim, besides having the axle bent. The other car changed wheels and continued on. The Kerlin party hired a State College car and continued on to Altoona.

Decker—Swartz

A very pretty home wedding took place at 12 o'clock noon last Saturday, at State College, when Miss Bernice V. Swartz became the bride of Sterling R. Decker, of Montgomery, at the bride's home on Fairmont Ave. Miss Swartz, before her marriage, was employed as teller in the First National Bank of State College. She is a graduate of Susquehanna University. Mr. Decker is vice-president of the Montgomery Table and Desk works and is a graduate of Yale.

Besides a very few guests, only the immediate members of both families witnessed the ceremony. The bride's sister, Miss Margaret Swartz, acted as maid of honor, while William T. Decker, a brother of the groom, was best man. Two of the bride's nieces, the Misses Frances Swartz and Dorothy Heeter, were flower girls.

At high noon, Miss Maxine Decker, sister of the groom, began playing Lohengrin's wedding march. She continued softly until the conclusion of the services.

The ceremony was solemnized under an arch and wedding bell of greens and hydrangeas, by the Rev. John F. Harkins, pastor of Grace Lutheran church of State College. He was assisted by President Charles T. Aikens of Susquehanna University.

The bride was given away in marriage by her father, C. W. Swartz, trust officer of the First National bank of State College. She was charmingly gowned in white georgette beaded with pearls. She wore a silk net veil trimmed with orange blossoms, which formed her train. Her slippers were of brocaded silver cloth. She carried a huge bouquet of white roses, orchids and lily of the valley.

Miss Margaret Swartz, maid of honor, wore an orchid georgette with a picture hat to match. Her bouquet was of opelia roses.

The flower girls wore twin dresses in pink and in blue and carried sweet peas.

After the nuptial knot had been tied and the wedding breakfast served, the groom left with his bride in a roadster for their honeymoon trip through southern Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia and Tennessee. They will return home by the way of Niagara Falls and Yory state.

Upon return the newlyweds will be at home in Montgomery.

The young couple are very popular throughout this whole section of the state. They are followed by the best wishes and congratulations of a wide circle of friends.

LOWER ANIMALS DESIRE LOVE

Mankind Not the Only Creature That is Able to Appreciate Feeling of Affection.

A certain hymn tells us that "the world is dying for a little bit of love." But have you ever thought that even as people desire love, so do animals? All animals—especially dogs—are longing for love every day of their lives.

You can walk down the street and meet a lonesome, ragged, downcast dog, which, if you will snap your finger at him and speak kindly to him, will prick up his ears and wag his tail and follow you. Some dogs endure so many kicks and cuffs and so much starvation that they eagerly grasp at any insignificant kindness.

Animals love to be loved almost as well as a person does. Remember this and see that all animals with whom you come in contact get some sort of affection.

A college president once stated that one of the tests of an educated person was to be able to say that a stray dog would follow him home.—Exchange.

Why She Wanted Married Man.

A well-to-do woman advertised for a caretaker for her town house, and, after interviewing a large number of applicants she at last found one that suited her.

"Thank you for giving me the job, ma'am," said the new caretaker. "I hope you don't think me impertinent for asking questions, but you stated in the advertisement that you must have a married man. Are there any duties for my wife?"

"Oh, no," replied the woman of the house. "I wanted a married man so that I could have somebody who is used to taking orders from a woman."—Minneapolis Tribune.

THE DEATH RECORD

pastor of the Reformed church. Interment was made in the Fairview cemetery.

HOMAN.—Edward Homan died on Monday afternoon at the Bellefonte hospital, to which institution he had been taken the Thursday previous suffering from an infection of the thumb. Two and a half weeks previous to his death, Mr. Homan was thrown from a mule he was riding, and in landing struck his thumb in such a manner as to break the bone in it and forcing it through the flesh. He at once suffered intense pain, and although everything possible was done, no relief was had. Friday morning of last week a partial amputation of the thumb was made, but this failed to stay the onward march of a hidden foe, relief coming only in death at the time mentioned. The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Homan, of Centre Hall, and was engaged in farming the farm vacated by his father, last spring, located east of Centre Hall. He had attained the twenty-ninth year of his age in August. He is survived by a wife and one child; also, by his parents and two brothers, Ralph and Ernest, both of Centre Hall. Funeral services will be held Friday morning; interment at Centre Hall.

HOUSER.—George Walter Houser, a native of Centre county, died in the Lock Haven hospital. Mr. Houser was hurrying through the yards carrying a pal, and was crossing the numerous tracks in the yards when he tripped. His abdomen struck a rail with terrific force and the following day his condition became serious and he was taken to the Lock Haven hospital, where he lingered ten days.

Born at Houserville, he was forty-three years old and had always resided in the vicinity of Bellefonte until recently when he removed his family to Renovo. Surviving him are his widow and three children: Helen, Raymond and Margaret, all at home; his mother, four brothers and two sisters: Jared, Edgar and Mrs. Charles Bilger, of Pleasant Gap; Harry and Mrs. William Durkee, Bellefonte; and Daniel, of Corry. Burial was made in Shiloh cemetery.

GRENINGER.—Mrs. Hattie M. Greninger, relict of George E. Greninger, died at her home at Aaronburg, aged 49 years, 11 months and 4 days. She was born at Orangeville, Ill., where she was united in marriage with George E. Greninger, who died in Rebersburg on Christmas eve in 1918. She is survived by three children: Edna Elizabeth, Paul Elmer and Blanch Louise—her mother, Mrs. Louise M. Hess, who lived with her, and two sisters—Mrs. W. N. Neuschwander, of Fox Home, Minn., and Mrs. Cora Berhenker, of Tremont, Nebraska. Interment was made in the Lutheran-Reformed cemetery at Rebersburg.
