Mr. Waple expects to devote his time to his farm and other business interests with which he is connected.

In Memoriam.

In loving remembrance of my dear husband and father, Jerome H. Auman, who was taken away September 23, 1922:

In memory we oftimes see
The one we loved so dear;
The vision grows so clear sometimes,
We feel he must be near.

Days of sadness still comes o'er us,
Tears of sorrow silently flow;
Fond memories keep our loved one near us,
Though Heaven claimed him one year ago.

Sadly missed by wife and daughter.

SEPTEMBER COURT.

Judge Quigley Heard Motions and Petitions Monday—Civil Case Monday Afternoon.

The regular term of September court opened Monday morning Judge H. C. Quigley presiding. Monday forenoon was devoted to hearing motions, petitions and organizing the grand jury.

In the afternoon a civil case was called.

The civil trial list was called over and the following cases disposed of:

Ralph Smith vs. the Penna. R. R. Co.; an action in trespass; settled.

J. Irvin Wagner vs. James Leathers, being an action in trespass; continued.

Mary H. Miller vs. J. C. Johnston, being an appeal from a Justice of the Peace. The plaintiff suffered a voluntary non-suit.

Samantha Resides vs. Johnson Warner, being an action in trespass; continued.

Knickerbocker Fuel Co., a corporation, vs. Wm. Stoe being an action in assumpsit; settled.

L. L. Smith vs. H. H. Longwell, being an action in assumpsit; continued.

Opolinsky Fruit Co. vs. Frank Balfre, being an appeal from a Justice of the Peace. Judgment was entered in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant for want of an affidavit of defense.

State College Plumbing and Heating Co. vs. Everett Myers, being an action on a mechanics lien; settled.

John W. Storck vs. James B. Wilson and James Wilson, being an action in assumpsit; settled.

Joseph M. Fetzer vs. America Fetzer, admr. of Clyde C. Fetzer, deceased, being an action for work and repairs to a house belonging to the decedent and occupied by the plaintiff by parol understanding. Case on trial Monday afternoon.

Motorcycle and Auto Collide.

Within a hundred feet of the railroad crossing at Centre Hall, Sunday at midnight, a rather serious accident happened that put two young men to the Bellefonte hospital. One of them is badly bruised on various parts of the body and the other suffered a scalp wound and concussion of the brain, but it is thought there is no fracture of the skull, yet this is uncertain.

The motorcycle was going toward Nittany Mountain and the Chalmers car in the opposition direction when the collision occurred. Just how the accident happened will not be attempted to relate nor will the proceedings of the local authorities here be aired.

The young men on the motorcycle were Harry and Addison Rothrock, twin brothers sons of Dr. Harry Rothrock, of West Chester. The driver, the lone occupant of the Chalmers car, was Russ Digan, of Vicksburg, a farmer.

Mr. Digan was not injured. He went to the rescue of the young men as soon as possible and made no attempt to shift any responsibility.

Dr. Rothrock, who is a practicing physician in West Chester, with Mrs. Rothrock, drove to the Bellefonte hospital Monday, returning Tuesday.

While in town he took time to call at this office. He gave expression to the fact that Mr. Digan acted the part of a gentleman.

Messrs Harry and Addison Rothrock are students at Penn State. The former is taking a pre-medical and the latter a physical science course.

THE RAMBLING REPORTER.

The shrill whistle of the locomotive attracted much attention as it passed through Penn's Valley on Saturday night. The extra train carried a load of joy-seekers bound for Niagara Falls. Several people of this community made use of the excursion and saw all the sights.

The new place of business of Oliver Corman in Spring Mills is quite an improvement; it is much larger than the old store and will enable him to carry a larger line of goods. The Rambling Reporter is glad to see such changes for the good.

Many of our boys at Penn State were home over the week-end Paul Bartzaga, Gary Corman and Jacob Birges, of Coburn; John Decker, Biron Decker, Thomas Ford Robert Albright, and David Hosterman, of Spring Mills were among those whom the Reporter saw on Saturday.

A small child passing through Centre Hall saw the paper over the windows of the church and said, "Oh look at the paper windows." The paint will make another improvement which the Rambling Reporter is glad to see.

The Animal Husbandry department at Penn State boasts of having the best Eastern College Stock Judging team. Word has just been received that they won first place at the Exposition at Springfield, Mass.

Lebanon Valley meets Penn State on New Beaver Field Saturday to play the first football game of the season. The schedule this year is a heavy one and has had to work overtime. The Lions must play the following teams, all of which are strong hard players: North Carolina, Navy, West Virginia, Syracuse, Georgia Tech, Penn and Pitt.

$5.00 Prize Offered.

The senior editor of this paper offers a reward of $5.00 for the best newspaper article giving the best reason why a new school building should be erected in Centre Hall borough. The contestants to be confined to local high school pupils.

While it is desired that this article be written as correctly as possible, the award will be made almost exclusively on the merits of the arguments.

The contestants may hand their manuscripts to the principal on or before Wednesday, October 17th. The identification of them to be such as is agreed upon by principal and teachers. The articles, which must not be less than three, and in length not less than half a column nor more than one and one-half columns, should reach this office Thursday, October 18th.

[Note.—These columns are open to the advocacy of a new school building in Centre Hall by any one who is willing to boost the movement over his own signature. Contrary to a general rule no arguments will be accepted in opposition to the building of a new school house.]

The Octagonal School House.

Those who travel over the detour from Lewisburg bridge by Pottsgrove to Danville will find an octagonal stone building, the walls of which are in fair condition, but deserted. The structure is located in West Chillasquaque township, Northumberland county. The unusual shape of the building creates curiosity, making one wonder what such an odd stone building might have been built for, fifty or more years ago. Inquiry revealed that it was constructed especially for a school house and was known as the eight-cornered school house. Almost opposite the quaint old structure, the writer met a man about thirty years old, and to him the question "what is it" was put. The information given above was imparted, and also the fact that his mother, whose name then was Miss Mary Hamor, but now Mrs. John Voris was the first school teacher in the building. Mrs. Voris now lives in Pottsgrove.

Things have changed very much since Mrs. Voris was Miss Hamor. Now a centralized school stands a few hundred rods west of the eight-cornered house, and this is manned not with one teacher but with a teacher for each grade.

MILLHEIM.

(From the Journal.)

Mrs. Margaret E. Bollinger, of Williamsport, was a Sunday guest of her cousins, Miss Jennie and Joseph W. Reifsnyder.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hartman and daughter and son of State College, spent Saturday afternoon and evening with home friends in Millheim.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Morris, of Williamsport, motored to Millheim Sunday morning and spent the day pleasantly with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Stover.

Rev. W. J. Campbell, of Lewisburg, presiding elder of this district, circulated among the members of the Evangelical faith in Millheim several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Myers and son, Walter; Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Keas and two children, and Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Kline, all of Linden, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. C. B. Snyder one day last week.

G. Franklin Stover on Tuesday afternoon went to Selmsgrove, where he will enroll as a student at Susquehanna University. He is a good student and we predict that he will head his class as he did in the local high school.

A Great Railroad.

Taking the Pennsylvania Railroad System as a whole, its lines extend through and into thirteen different states and the District of Columbia. It cost more than two billions of dollars to build it.

It consists of 11,650 miles of main line. It owns more than 7,600 locomotives and 8,240 passenger cars and more than 260,420 freight cars.

At the end of last year it had on its pay-rolls more than 240,000 employees to whom more than a million dollars a day was paid in wages.

In addition it spends about $200,000,000 a year for materials, repairs and upkeep and general operating expenses.

Yes, it surely is a great railroad. It is a national institution.

Coal Up 75 Cents.

The Pinchot settlement of the coal miners' strike resulted in coal advancing seventy-five cents in Philadelphia, where the following prices prevail at the largest retail yards: Stove coal, $16.25 a ton; nut, $16; egg, $15.75; broken, $15.25; pea, $12.25.

What the price on these grades of coal will be in the country districts no one knows. There is no hard coal at this time in this section.

Cannel Coal.

Screened cannel coal—a carload just in. Better fill your bin with this fine grade of coal while it may be had—WM. McCLENNAN, Centre Hall.

LINDEN HALL.

Frank Ishler moved this week to the Hess house.

The new elder press installed by Lynn Ross is up and ready for use.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tressler spent the week-end with their son, Ralph, at Potters Mills.

Miss Helen Wilson, who is teaching at Petersburg, spent the week-end with her father and uncle at this place.

Mrs. J. H. Ross is at Nittany with her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Swartz, who has been sick.

A little son was a recent arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Jones. Also a little daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Noll.

Mrs. James Swabb and sister, Miss Izora Rupp, returned Monday from a short visit with their sister, Mrs. Peter Weber, in Huntington.

After spending a three weeks' vacation with relatives here, Albert Carper and Russell Brooks left on Tuesday for Cleveland, Ohio, where they are employed.

Doctor Gearhart moved last week to the house vacated by Mr. Acker, above Boalsburg. Mr. Acker moved to the farm in the Boal place which had been tenanted by George Mothersbaugh, who moved to Boalsburg.

TUSSEYVILLE.

Harvest Home services were held in both the Evangelical and Reformed churches Sunday morning.

Paul Emehizer and family spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of his parents at Houserville.

Krider Miller, of Colyer, left last Wednesday for Lancaster where he entered Franklin and Marshall College.

Mrs. John Spangler and two children, of Chicago, Ill., are spending some time at the home of John and Anna Fortney.

Floyd and Emily Jordan left Thursday for Reading where they will again take up their studies at Schuylkill College.

Mrs. Frank Henney is in the Bellefonte hospital and has an eleven-pound baby girl which was born Saturday morning. Both are getting along nicely.

Those who attended Edward Wolfe's funeral from this place, which was held at Bellwood, were James Spangler, John Fortney and sister Miss Anna, David Fortney and daughter Mary, and C. P. Ramer.

Don't Block the Road.

Since automobile travel is one of the most popular and important diversions of a great majority of people at this time of the year, one more suggestion along the line of safety for users of the road will not be amiss. We refer to the practice of one automobile stopping along the roadside to visit it with a passing motorist or to look at an accident, or some other such reason.

Where the road is extra wide, it is not so important a matter where passing cars stop, but on our paved highways, it takes care to pass one car when it is parked on the highway, let alone when two are parked almost abreast of each other.

Motorists should bear in mind that although they may want to stop and visit, or pick flowers, or what not, others may want to use the highway for transportation purposes, and care should be taken not to block the road. When a motorist wants to stop and there is already one car parked on the highway in the same vicinity, he should drive ahead a considerable distance so that he will not block the road to general traffic. It takes just a little thought about the rights of others on the highway to remedy many evils.

Will Write for Sunday N. Y. American

With the issue of next Sunday's New York American, readers will find the writings of a matchless trio—H. G. Wells, Lloyd George and Arthur Brisbane. The latter two already have a mighty following. And the announcement that Mr. Wells, the famous English author, has been secured as a regular cable correspondent, will be received with keen satisfaction by the many who are familiar with his pen. Mr. Wells, who is peculiarly foresighted in dealing with progressive ideas, issues and human impulses, has contracted to put all his best thoughts into a series of Sunday articles for a period of at least six months. Mr. Wells' articles, as usual, will command an unrivaled audience as they will appear simultaneously in England, France, Germany, Scandinavia, South Africa, Australia and South America as well as in all the Hearst Sunday newspapers throughout the United States. He will discuss current, social, political and human affairs. Here is a writer who has a command of the ear of all nations lacked by a constant effort to make a better civilization. adv

THAT WONDERFUL "LAND OF THE SKY"

The Symbol

of Service

8000 Square Miles of Picturesque Peaks

Nature has been exceedingly lavish with its majestic handiwork in Western North Carolina.

Within a radius of 50 miles of Asheville there are more than sixty forest crowned peaks over 6000 feet high, and over a hundred mountains exceeding 5000 feet in height.

Among these superb peaks is Mt. Mitchell, 6711 feet high—the highest point in Eastern America, and easily accessible by motor road. Here also are Mt. Pisgah overlooking Asheville; Chimney Rock, the towering sentinel of Hickory Nut Gap, with its marvelous outlook; Hickory Nut Falls, 900 feet high; Kanuga Lake; unique Blowing Rock and Grandfather Mountain; Lake Toxaway and the beautiful "Sapphire country."

In this great mountain playground the angler, the camper, the skier, the golfer, the motorist and the eager lover of nature in her virgin forms will find their fondest desires abundantly met. It is an ideal country for a mountain vacation. The golf courses are numerous and excellent. The roads are good for motoring and one-day trips may be made to numerous scenic points, passing wonderful views on the way. Mountain trails invite horse back riding, a popular recreation.

Through sleeping car service is provided by the Pennsylvania Railroad in connection with the Southern Railway from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington to Asheville.

Write to D. N. Bell, Passenger Traffic Manager, Pennsylvania Railroad, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, for most interesting descriptive and illustrated literature of the "Land of the Sky."
