SPRING MILLS

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stitzer on Sept. 24th. Mrs. Sylvia Grenoble purchased a piano from Mr. Harter, of Bellefonte. The friends of John Bar had a surprise party for him on his birthday. There were upwards of one hundred guests present. Ralph Shook sold his farm to the Pittsburgh Stone company. He purchased the Wm. Neese farm. Howard Neese and wife and sister Alice made a trip to Lewistown on Saturday. Clair Allison and children, of Renovo, spent Sunday at the H. M. Allison home. John Gramley, John Andrew Meyer and Markon Neese, students at Penn State, spent Sunday at their respective homes. Clayton Stover and family have moved to York. O. T. Corman has moved into Stover's place and will conduct a grocery store.

A Minute's Reflection.

Fortunate indeed was it, as a contemporary has stated, that passage of the prohibition amendment preceded the present automobile-riding age. When the ban was placed on the sale of intoxicating liquors in the United States, this country boasted of many automobiles, but the total was extremely small compared with the number now in use. Then one of the greatest menaces in connection with the safe driving of automobiles was the driver who was under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Today it is still a menace but not in the same proportion that it was in the pre-prohibition days. By reducing the number of drunken men who drive machines, prohibition has certainly played a part in keeping down the number of accidents on the highways of the country.

Cider Press Notice.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Poultry—Scaly legs are just as pleasing to the "old hen" as the seven-year itch is to the average person. They are a source of trouble which cause low egg production. Dip the birds' legs in a mixture of kerosene and raw linseed oil (equal parts) to rid them of these mites.

Corn Silage—Corn cut when the kernels are nicely glazed (dented in the case of dent varieties), but when most of the leaves are still green, produces the best silage.

Early Frost—This is the season for "Jack Frost" to take his first bite. Such tender vegetable plants as tomatoes, peppers and egg plants should be covered in order to save them from the first killing frost.

Grade the Apples—Damaged, scabby, or wormy fruit should be kept at home and made into cider. Ungraded apples block the sale of good fruit and lower the price which the consumer is willing to pay for good fruit.

Hogging Off Corn—Don't turn the "porkers" in the cornfield until the crop is ready to cut and shock. It is well to accustom the hogs to the new corn by cutting some stalks and feeding them a few days before turning in.

The National Dairy Show—A reduced railroad rate of a fare and one-half for the round trip from any point in Pennsylvania to the National Dairy Show at Syracuse has been granted by all the railroads. Get your certificates from your County Agent.

Value of Farm Manure—The average value of a ton of fresh manure is about $3.00. To prevent loss of part of its value, bed live stock well to absorb the liquid manure; if possible, haul each day's manure directly to the field, and don't pile it up in the open to have its fertilizer constituents wash away.
